Blooming Meadows Fintan Vallely, Charlie Piggott, 1999 Interviews with over thirty singers and musicians who have helped shape the revival of traditional music since the 1950s and today's new generation of talented articulate players Photographs by Nutan convey the personalities lives the community of musicians and the soul of the nation of Ireland itself

Focus: Irish Traditional Music Sean Williams, 2013-02-01 Focus Irish Traditional Music is an introduction to the instrumental and vocal traditions of the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland as well as Irish music in the context of the Irish diaspora Ireland's size relative to Britain or to the mainland of Europe is small yet its impact on musical traditions beyond its shores has been significant from the performance of jigs and reels in pub sessions as far flung as Japan and Cape Town to the worldwide phenomenon of Riverdance Focus Irish Traditional Music interweaves dance film language history and other interdisciplinary features of Ireland and its diaspora The accompanying CD presents both traditional and contemporary sounds of Irish music at home and abroad

Traditional Music and Irish Society: Historical Perspectives Martin Dowling, 2016-02-24 Written from the perspective of a scholar and performer Traditional Music and Irish Society investigates the relation of traditional music to Irish modernity The opening chapter integrates a thorough survey of the early sources of Irish music with recent work on Irish social history in the eighteenth century to explore the question of the antiquity of the tradition and the class locations of its origins Dowling argues in the second chapter that the formation of what is today called Irish traditional music occurred alongside the economic and political modernization of European society in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Dowling goes on to illustrate the public discourse on music during the Irish revival in newspapers and journals from the 1880s to the First World War also drawing on the works of Pierre Bourdieu and Jacques Lacan to place the field of music within the public sphere of nationalist politics and cultural revival in these decades The situation of music and song in the Irish literary revival is then reflected and interpreted in the life and work of James Joyce and Dowling includes treatment of Joyce's short stories A Mother and The Dead and the Sirens chapter of Ulysses Dowling conducted field work with Northern Irish musicians during 2004 and 2005 and also reflects directly on his own experience performing and working with musicians and arts organizations in order to conclude with an assessment of the current state of traditional music and cultural negotiation in Northern Ireland in the second decade of the twenty first century

Blooming Meadows Fintan Vallely, Charlie Piggott, 1998 This is a book of outstandingly warm quirky and personality laden pictures by the photographer Nutan The moods and themes of these images are developed in the texts by Fintan Vallely and Charlie Piggott into personalities lives community and nation through biography interview comment poetry and song The voices are those of musicians and singers who have helped shape the revival of traditional music since the 1950s along with today's generation of talented articulate and highly educated players Nostalgia nationalism romanticism virtuosity and communitas here meet art and quiet confidence in cultural meaning

Women and Music in

Ireland Laura Watson, Ita Beausang, Jennifer O'Connor-Madsen, 2022 Explores the world of women's professional and amateur musical activity as it developed on and beyond the island of Ireland In a story which spans several centuries the book highlights representative composers and performers in classical music Irish traditional music and contemporary art music whose contributions have been marginalised in music narratives As well as investigating the careers of public figures this edited collection brings attention to women who engaged with and taught music in a variety of domestic settings It also shines a spotlight on women who worked behind the scenes to build infrastructures such as festivals and educational institutions which remain at the heart of the country's musical life today The book addresses and reconsiders ideas about the intersections of music gender and Irish society including how the national emblem of the harp became recast as a symbol of Irish womanhood in the twentieth century The book is divided into four parts Part 1 surveys women musicians in Irish society of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Part 2 discusses women and practice in Irish traditional music Part 3 studies gaps and gender politics in the history of twentieth century women composers and performers Part 4 situates discourses of women gender and music in the twenty first century The book's contributors encompass musicologists cultural historians composers and performers

Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond Mark Fitzgerald, John O'Flynn, 2016-04-29 Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond represents the first interdisciplinary volume of chapters on an intricate cultural field that can be experienced and interpreted in manifold ways whether in Ireland The Republic of Ireland and or Northern Ireland among its diaspora's or further afield While each contributor addresses particular themes viewed from discrete perspectives collectively the book contemplates whether music in Ireland can be regarded as one interrelated plane of cultural and or national identity given the various conceptions and contexts of both Ireland geographical political diasporic mythical and Music including a proliferation of practices and genres that give rise to multiple sites of identification Arranged in the relatively distinct yet interweaving parts of Historical Perspectives Recent and Contemporary Production and Cultural Explorations its various chapters act to juxtapose the socio historical distinctions between the major style categories most typically associated with music in Ireland traditional classical and popular and to explore a range of dialectical relationships between these musical styles in matters pertaining to national and cultural identity The book includes a number of chapters that examine various movements and moments of traditional music revival from the late eighteenth century to the present day as well as chapters that tease out various issues of national identity pertaining to individual composers performers art music popular music and their audiences Many chapters in the volume consider mediating influences infrastructural technological political and or social categories class gender religion ethnicity race age in the interpretation of music production and consumption Performers and composers discussed include U2 Raymond Deane Afro Celt Sound System E J Moeran Samus Ennis Kevin O Connell Stiff Little Fingers Frederick May Arnold
