Authority and Displacement in the English-Speaking World (Volume II) Florence Labaune-Demeule, 2016-01-14 Whether one thinks of the modern world or of more remote times both seem to have been affected if not moulded by the interaction between the concepts of authority and displacement Indeed political and social sources of authority have often been the causes of major geographical displacements as can be illustrated by the numerous waves of migration which have been observed in the past and which are still present today such as the transportation of slaves from African to American coasts in colonial times If displacement can often be understood as spatial displacement it can also be synonymous with psychological social and even aesthetic displacement for instance through different artistic means or through the use of stylistic discursive devices Displacement also entails displacement as well as dislocation or chaos This suggests that the etymological meaning of the term authority auctoritas has to be highlighted thus referring to the author of a particular work and to the different manifestations of the authorial persona in a work of art This collection of essays in two volumes examines the relationships between the concepts of authority and displacement in the English speaking world without restricting the analysis to a particular area or to the field of literature Some essays do indeed deal with literature from different spatial areas and temporal eras while others look into these concepts from a more cultural or aesthetic point of view Volume Two Exploring American Shores includes essays on the place of famous fugitives in American culture notably through the story of Bonnie and Clyde as well as on the links between displacement authority and sculpture on the one hand Placing and Replacing the Capitol Sculptures and on the links between displacement and photography on the other through a study of Joel Sternfeld's Walking the High Line In addition to investigations of Louise Erdrich's novel Books and Islands in Ojibwe Country Canadian landscapes in transit will be studied to highlight the displacement of the Western landscape tradition in English Canada The volume concludes with a study of some literary works by several writers of Guyanese origin first with an essay comparing Martin Carter's and L. On Gontran Damas's literary productions and then with an essay devoted to Fred D. Aguiar's novel The Longest Memory 1994

Parenting as Spiritual Practice and Source for Theology Claire Bischoff, Elizabeth O'Donnell Gandolfo, Annie Hardison-Moody, 2017-12-13 This volume investigates how mothers can understand parenting as spiritual practice and what this practice means for theological scholarship An intergenerational and intercultural group of mother scholars explores these questions that arise at the intersection of motherhood studies religious practice pastoral care and theology through engaging and accessible essays Essays include both narrative and theological elements as authors draw on personal reflection interviews and or sociological studies to write about the theological implications of parenting practice rethink key concepts in theology and contribute to a more robust account of parenting as spiritual practice from various theological perspectives The volume both challenges oppressive religious images of self sacrificing motherhood and considers the spiritual dimensions of mothering that contribute to women s empowerment and well being It also deepens practical and systematic theologies to include concern for the embodied and everyday challenges and joys of motherhood as it is experienced and practiced in diverse contexts of privilege and marginalization

The Old Lady Trill, the Victory Yell Patrice Hollrah, 2004-02-24 From warrior women to female deities who control the cycle of life female characters in Native American literature exhibit a social and spiritual empowerment that is quite different from the average Pocahontas we are used to seeing in mainstream literature This work argues that a tribal construct of gender relations where the relationship between male and female roles is complementary rather than hierarchical accounts for the existence of these empowered female characters in Native American literature Focusing on the work of four of the twentieth century s most famous Native American authors Zitkala Sa Leslie Marmon Silko Louise Erdrich and Sherman Alexie Hollrah suggests that it is important to evaluate Native American literary female characters in a cultural paradigm that is less Euro American and more compatible to the complementarity of Native American culture
