Van Dover,2019-02-11 This book focuses on the distinctive role that artists have played in detective fiction as detectives as villains and victims and as bystanders With a few significant exceptions literary detectives have always identified themselves as essentially the deconstructors of the artful crimes of others They may use various methods ratiocinative scientific or hard boiled but they always unravel the threads that the villains have woven into deceptive covers for their crimes The detective does in the end produce a work of art a narrative that explains everything that needs explanation But the detective s moral work is often juxtaposed to the aesthetic work of the painters poets and writers that the detective encounters during an investigation The author surveys this juxtaposition in works by important authors from the early development of the genre Poe Conan Doyle the golden age Bentley Christie Sayers James et al and the hard boiled era Hammett Chandler Macdonald Spicer et al The Ekphrastic Encounter in Contemporary British Poetry and Elsewhere David Kennedy,2016-03-23 Examining a wide range of ekphrastic poems David Kennedy argues that contemporary British poets writing out of both mainstream and avant garde traditions challenge established critical models of ekphrasis with work that is more complex than representational or counter representational responses to paintings in museums and galleries Even when the poem appears to be straightforwardly representational it is often selectively so producing a virtual work that doesn t exist in actuality Poets such as Kelvin Corcoran Peter Hughes and Gillian Clarke Kennedy suggests relish the ekphrastic encounter as one in which word and image become mutually destabilizing Similarly other poets engage with the source artwork as a performance that participates in the ethical realm Showing that the ethical turn in ekphrastic poetry is often powerfully gendered Kennedy also surveys a range of ekphrastic poets from the Renaissance and nineteenth century to trace a tradition of female ekphrastic poetry that includes Pauline Stainer and Frances Presley Kennedy concludes with a critique of ekphrastic exercises in creative writing teaching proposing that ekphrastic writing that takes greater account of performance spectatorship may offer more fruitful models for the classroom than the narrativizing of images
