Bombay Talkie:

Bombay Talkie Ameena Meer,1994 A second generation American goes to India to make contact with her roots and is caught up in the world of the idle rich known as the Indiabrats a class of people as confusedly Westernized as they are tradition bound James Ivory in Conversation James Ivory,Robert Emmet Long,2005 In this book he comments on the many aspects of his world traveling career his growing up in Oregon he is not an Englishman as most Europeans and many Americans think his early involvement with documentary films that first brought attention to him his discovery of India his friendships with celebrated figures here and abroad his skirmishes with the Picasso family and Thomas Jefferson scholars his usually candid yet at times explosive relations with actors Supported by seventy illuminating photographs selected by Ivory himself the book offers a wealth of previously unavailable information about the director s life and the art of making movies Jacket Bollywood Cinema Vijay Mishra,2013-08-21 India is home to Bollywood the largest film industry in the world Movie theaters are said to be the temples of modern India with Bombay producing nearly 800 films per year that are viewed by roughly 11 million people per day In Bollywood Cinema Vijay Mishra argues that Indian film production and reception is shaped by the desire for national community and a pan Indian popular culture Seeking to understand Bollywood according to its own narrative and aesthetic principles and in relation to a global film industry he views Indian cinema through the dual methodologies of postcolonial studies and film theory Mishra discusses classics such as Mother India 1957 and Devdas 1935 and recent films including Ram Lakhan 1989 and Khalnayak 1993 linking their form and content to broader issues of national identity epic tradition popular culture history and the implications of diaspora Did You Know Indian Film Industry Interesting Facts Circa 1913 And After Dr Ravinder Kumar,2025-01-29 Did you know is a collection of interesting trivia It is those lesser known facts about well known artists stars of Indian film industry South Asian Atlantic Literature, 1970-2010 Ruth Maxey,2014-02-28 Tracing a literary lineage for works from different genres it identifies key trends in recent South Asian American and British Asian literature by considering the favoured formal and aesthetic modes of major writers and by relating their work to differen Encyclopedia of Asian-American Literature Seiwoong Oh,2015-04-22 Presents a reference on Asian American literature providing profiles of Asian American writers and their works Culinary Fictions Anita Mannur,2009-11-19 An exploration of how and why food matters in the culture and literature of the South Asian diaspora Fiction, Film, and Indian Popular Cinema Florian Stadler,2013-10-30 This book analyses the novels of Salman Rushdie and their stylistic conventions in the context of Indian popular cinema and its role in the elaboration of the author s arguments about post independence postcolonial India Focusing on different genres of Indian popular cinema such as the Social Mythological and Historical Stadler examines how Rushdie s writing foregrounds the epic the mythic the tragic and the comic linking them in storylines narrated in cinematic parameters The book shows that Indian popular cinema s syncretism becomes an aesthetic marker in Rushdie s fiction that allows him to elaborate on the multiplicity of Indian identity

both on the subcontinent and abroad and illustrates how Rushdie uses Indian popular cinema in his narratives to express an aesthetics of hybridity and a particular conceptualization of culture with which India has become identified in a global context Also highlighted are Rushdie's uses of cinema to inflect his reading of India as a pluralist nation and of the hybrid space occupied by the Indian diaspora across the world The book connects Rushdie's storylines with modes of cinematic representation to explore questions about the role place and space of the individual in relation to a fast changing social economic and political space in India and the wider world

Merchant-Ivory Laurence Raw, 2012-03-27 Merchant Ivory Interviews gathers together for the first time interviews made over a span of fifty years with director James Ivory b 1928 producer Ismail Merchant 1936 2005 and screenwriter Ruth Prawer Jhabvala 1927 2013 Beginning with their earliest work in India and ending with James Ivory's last film The City of Your Final Destination 2009 the book traces their career while offering valuable insights into their creative filmmaking process The volume serves as a corrective to the prevailing critical orthodoxy attached to Merchant Ivory's work which tends to regard them as being solely concerned with historically accurate costumes and settings As independent filmmakers they have developed an idiosyncratic approach that resists facile classification Merchant Ivory have insisted on maintaining their independence More importantly this book shows how Merchant Ivory have always taken considerable care in casting their films as well as treating actors with respect This is a deliberate policy designed to bring out one of the triumvirate's principal thematic concerns running throughout their work the impact of the clash of cultures on individuals Partly this has been inspired by their collective experiences of living and working in different cultures They do not offer any answers to this issue rather they believe that their task is simply to raise awareness to make filmgoers conscious of the importance of cultural sensitivities that assume paramount significance in any exchange whether verbal or nonverbal

Transcultural English Studies Frank Schulze-Engler, Sissy Helff, 2009 What is most strikingly new about the transcultural is its sudden ubiquity Following in the wake of previous concepts in cultural and literary studies such as creolization hybridity and syncretism and signalling a family relationship to terms such as transnationality translocality and transmigration transcultural terminology has unobtrusively but powerfully edged its way into contemporary theoretical and critical discourse The four sections of this volume denote major areas where transcultural questions and problematics have come to the fore theories of culture and literature that have sought to account for the complexity of culture in a world increasingly characterized by globalization transnationalization and interdependence realities of individual and collective life worlds shaped by the ubiquity of phenomena and experiences relating to transnational connections and the blurring of cultural boundaries fictions in literature and other media that explore these realities negotiate the fuzzy edges of ethnic or national cultures and participate in the creation of transnational public spheres as well as transcultural imaginations and memories and finally pedagogy and didactics where earlier models of teaching other cultures are faced with the challenge of coming to terms with cultural complexity both in what is being taught and in the people it is taught to and where target cultures have become elusive The idea of locating culture and literature exclusively in the context of ethnicities or nations is rapidly losing plausibility throughout an English speaking world that has long since been multi rather than monolingual Exploring the prospects and contours of Transcultural English Studies thus reflects a set of common challenges and predicaments that in recent years have increasingly moved centre stage not only in the New Literatures in English but also in British and American studies

Swallowing a World Benjamin Bergholtz, 2024 Swallowing a World analyzes a series of massive and meandering late twentieth and early twenty first century texts that represent formally reproduce and ultimately invite reflection upon the effects of globalization to show that contemporary maximalism is an aesthetic response to globalization and a global phenomenon in its own right

Bridges, Borders and Bodies Christine Vogt-William, 2014-10-02 South Asian diasporas can be considered transcultural legacies of colonialism while constituting transcultural forms of postcolonial reality in today's globalised world The main focus of investigation here is South Asian women's fiction where diverse forms of identity negotiation undertaken by the protagonists in a number of contemporary novels from the 1990s to the early 2000s are read as transgressions The themes of early gendered experiences of South Asian indentured labour migration female genealogies and transmissions of cultural heritages down female lines as well as negotiations of patriarchal violence are read using a framework culled from postcolonial and feminist criticism The literary representations of South Asian diasporic female experience in these texts are forms of commentary and critique by contemporary South Asian diasporic women writers Hence these novels can be viewed as feminist strategies of textual creativity with distinct political aims of presenting transformative narratives addressing the tensions of diaspora and patriarchy This book is intended to contribute to the current spectrum of academic work being done in diaspora studies in that it brings together the concepts of diaspora transculturality contemporary women's writing and transnational feminist critical approaches to bear on South Asian women's diasporic literature Contrary to the celebratory notion of the concept in much theory transculturality as represented in these texts is fraught with ambivalence

Caught Between Cultures Elizabeth Russell, 2002 The essays in this collection on Canada the USA Australia and the UK question and discuss the issues of cross cultural identities and the crossing of boundaries both geographical and conceptual All of the authors have experienced cross culturalism directly and are conscious that positions of double vision which allow the to participate positively in two or more cultures are privileges that only a few can celebrate Most women find themselves caught between cultures They become involved in a day to day struggle in an attempt to negotiate identities which can affirm the self and at the same time strengthen the ties which unites the self with others Theoretical issues on cross culturalism therefore can either liberate or constrict the The essays here illustrate how women's writing negotiates this dualism through a colourful and complex weaving of words thoughts and experiences both pleasurable and painful into texts quilts rainbows The metaphors abound The connecting thread through their writing and indeed in these essays is the concept of belonging a theoretical emotional composite of being and longing Home too assumes a variety of meanings it is no longer a static geographical place but many places It is also a place elsewhere in the imagination a mythic place of desire linked to origin Policies of multiculturalism can throw up more problems than they solve In Canada the difficulties surrounding the cross cultural debate have given rise to a state of messy imbroglia Notions of authenticity move dangerously close to essentialist identities Double vision is characteristic of peoples who have been uprooted and displaced such as Australian Aboriginal writers of mixed race abducted during childhood Passing for black or white is full of complications as in the case of Pauline Johnson who passed as an authentic Indian People with hyphenated citizenship such as Japanese Canadian can be either free of national ties or trapped in subordination to the dominant culture in these visible minorities it is the status of being female or coloured female that is so often ultimately rendered invisible Examination of Canadian anthologies on cross cultural writing by women reveals a crossing of boundaries of gender and genre race and ethnicity and in some cases national boundaries in an attempt to connect with a diasporic consciousness Cross cultural women writers in the USA may stress experience and unique collective history while others prefer to focus on aesthetic links and literary connections which ultimately silence difference Journeying from the personal space of the into the collective space of the we is exemplified in a reading of texts by June Jordan and Minnie Bruce Pratt For these writers identity is in process It is a painful negotiation but one which can transform knowledge into action
