Lee, 1996 This text is one in a series that meets the requirements of the revised GCSE syllabus Looking at Nazi Germany it covers the ghettos propaganda and the individual's role providing source material There are exam questions at the end of each unit A simplified foundation edition is available The Baltimore Underwriter, 1875 Beautiful, Bright, and Blinding H. Peter Steeves, 2017-10-27 Through a careful analysis of concrete examples taken from everyday experience and culture Beautiful Bright and Blinding develops a straightforward and powerful aesthetic methodology founded on a phenomenological approach to experience one that investigates how consciousness engages with the world and thus what it means to take such things as tastes images sounds and even a life itself as art H. Peter Steeves begins by exploring what it means to see and considers how disruptions of sight can help us rethink how perception works Engaging the work of Derrida Heidegger and Husserl he uses these insights about seeing to undertake a systematic phenomenological investigation of how we perceive and process a range of aesthetic objects including the paintings of Arshile Gorky the films of Michael Haneke Disney's Beauty and the Beast zombie films The Simpsons the performance art of Rachel Rosenthal and Andy Kaufman and even vegan hot dogs Refusing hierarchical distinctions between high and low art Steeves argues that we must conceptualize the whole of human experience as aesthetic art is lived and living is an art The Quantum Exodus Gordon Fraser, 2012-02-23 When the Nazis came to power in 1933 they immediately expelled Jewish academics unwittingly changing the power balance of world science When war came these scientific refugees raced to engineer the atomic bomb to prevent Nazi Germany getting there first This book tells the story of how the Bomb and the Holocaust became locked in a grisly race The Lasting War Monica Riera, Gavin Schaffer, 2008-04 The Second World War brought suffering and trauma to the people of Europe on an unprecedented scale While Europeans were not strangers to the harsh realities of international conflict World War II galvanized a new range of destructive forces that shook the continent to its intellectual psychological and material foundations This volume addresses World War II as a common European trauma by focusing on key transnational developments and comparing the different wars as experienced by three similar civilian populations Burning the Books Richard Ovenden, 2020-11-17 A Wolfson History Prize Finalist A New Statesman Book of the Year A Sunday Times Book of the

Year Timely and authoritative I enjoyed it immensely Philip Pullman If you care about books and if you believe we must all stand up to the destruction of knowledge and cultural heritage this is a brilliant read both powerful and prescient Elif Shafak Libraries have been attacked since ancient times but they have been especially threatened in the modern era through war as well as willful neglect Burning the Books describes the deliberate destruction of the knowledge safeguarded in libraries from Alexandria to Sarajevo from smashed Assyrian tablets to the torching of the Library of Congress The director of the world famous Bodleian Libraries Richard Ovenden captures the political religious and cultural motivations behind these acts He also shines a light on the librarians and archivists preserving history and memory often risking their lives in the process More than simply repositories for knowledge libraries support the rule of law and inspire and inform citizens Ovenden reminds us of their social and political importance challenging us to protect and support these essential institutions Wonderful full of good stories and burning with passion Sunday Times The sound of a warning vibrates through this book The Guardian Essential reading for anyone concerned with libraries and what Ovenden outlines as their role in the support of democracy the rule of law and open society Wall Street Journal Ovenden emphasizes that attacks on books archives and recorded information are the usual practice of authoritarian regimes Michael Dirda Washington Post Desolation and Enlightenment Ira Katznelson, 2020-10-13 During and especially after World War II a group of leading scholars who had been perilously close to the war's devastation joined others fortunate enough to have been protected by distance in an effort to redefine and reinvigorate liberal ideals for a radically new age Treating evil as an analytical category they sought to discover the sources of twentieth century horror and the potentialities of the modern state in the wake of desolation In the process they devised strikingly new ways to understand politics sociology and history that reverberate still In this major intellectual history Ira Katznelson examines the works of Hannah Arendt Robert Dahl Richard Hofstadter Harold Lasswell Charles Lindblom Karl Polanyi and David Truman detailing their engagement with the larger project of reclaiming the West's moral bearing In light of their epoch's calamities these intellectuals insisted that the tradition of Enlightenment thought required a new realism a good deal of renovation and much recommitment This array of historians political philosophers and social scientists understood that a simple reassertion of liberal modernism had been made radically insufficient by the enormities and moral catastrophes of war totalitarianism and the Holocaust Confronting dashed hopes for reason and knowledge they asked not just whether the Enlightenment should define modernity but also which Enlightenment we should wish to have
