all too clearly that not only can invention no longer be described as a male dominated domain but that a woman's inspiration and ingenuity will probably be driving the life changing ideas of tomorrow's world

Contemporary Mexican Women Writers

Gabriella de Beer, 2010-06-28 Mexican women writers moved to the forefront of their country's literature in the twentieth century. Among those who began publishing in the 1970s and 1980s are Maria Luisa Puga, Silvia Molina Brianda Domecq, Carmen Boullosa, and Angeles Mastretta. Sharing a range of affinities while maintaining distinctive voices and outlooks, these are the women whom Gabriella de Beer has chosen to profile in Contemporary Mexican Women Writers. De Beer takes a three-part approach to each writer. She opens with an essay that explores the writer's apprenticeship and discusses her major works. Next, she interviews each writer to learn about her background, writing, and view of herself and others. Finally, de Beer offers selections from the writer's work that have not been previously published in English translation. Each section concludes with a complete bibliographic listing of the writer's works and their English translations. These essays, interviews, and selections vividly recreate the experience of being with the writer and sharing her work, hearing her tell about and evaluate herself, and reading the words she has written. The book will be rewarding reading for everyone who enjoys fine writing.

Phoenix - The Broken Book 5 (A Created Novel)

Serena Simpson, Rylee spent her life running with no intention of staying still until Phoenix walked into her bar. She didn't know what was drawing her to him, but she wanted to find out. Two years later, he was finally ready to talk, and maybe more, but it might be too late. The evil that has been stalking her has found her, and now, once again, her life is in danger. Phoenix couldn't stay away from Rylee. He tried. His heart was whispering, mate, he ignored it, continuing to watch her from afar. He was going to sacrifice himself so his family would live. He didn't know what form the sacrifice would take. He did know a mate would complicate things. He feared for her life. She knew they would hurt him, trying to get to her. They each had a reason to stay apart. But time, need, and desire were drawing them together. They either fought together or died alone.
