Publishing Blackness George Hutchinson, John Kevin Young, 2013-02-08 The first of its kind this volume sets in dialogue African Americanist and textual scholarship exploring a wide range of African American textual history and work The New Negro Martha H. Patterson, Henry Louis Gates Jr., 2025-08-19 An authoritative anthology tracing the history of one of the most important concepts Black people drew on to challenge the brutal totalizing system of Jim Crow racism This book brings together a wealth of readings on the metaphor of the New Negro charting how generations of thinkers debated its meaning and seized on its potency to stake out an astonishingly broad and sometimes contradictory range of ideological positions. It features dozens of newly unearthed pieces by major figures such as W E B Du Bois, Charles S Johnson and Drusilla Dunjee Houston as well as writings from Cuba, the US Virgin Islands, Dominica, France, Sierra Leone, South Africa, colonial Zimbabwe and the United States. Demonstrating how this evocative and supremely protean concept predates its popularization in Alain Locke's 1925 anthology of the same name, The New Negro, takes readers from its beginnings as a response to Henry Grady's famous New South address in 1886 through the Harlem Renaissance and the New Deal. Opening a fascinating window into a largely unexplored chapter in African American, Afro-Latin American and African intellectual history, this groundbreaking anthology includes writings by Gwendolyn Bennett, Marita Bonner, John Edward Bruce, Bruce Grit, Nannie Helen Burroughs, Charles W Chesnutt, James Bertram Clarke, Jos Clarana, Jaime Gil Anna, Julia Cooper, Alexander Crummell, Countee Cullen, Alice Dunbar Nelson, Marcus Garvey, Hubert Harrison, Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, D Hamilton Jackson, Fenton Johnson, Claude McKay, Oscar Micheaux, Jeanne Jane Nardal, Jean Toomer, Gustavo Urrutia, Booker T Washington, Dorothy West, Ruth Whitehead, Whaley Fannie Barrier Williams, Carter G Woodson and a host of others.

Portrait of America Jerrold Hirsch, 2004-07-21 How well do we know our country? Whom do we include when we use the word American? These are not just contemporary issues but recurring questions Americans have asked themselves throughout their history and questions that were addressed when in 1935 the Roosevelt administration created the Federal Writers Project (FWP) under the aegis of the Works Progress Administration. Although the immediate context of the FWP was work relief, national FWP officials developed programs that spoke to much larger and longer standing debates over the nature of American identity and culture and the very definition of who was an American. Hirsch reviews the founding of the FWP and the significance of its American Guide series, considering the choices made by administrators who wanted to celebrate diversity as a positive aspect of American cultural identity. In his exploration of the FWP's other writings, Hirsch discusses the project's pioneering use of oral history in interviews with ordinary southerners, ex-slaves, ethnic minorities and industrial workers. He also examines congressional critics of the FWP, the occasional opposition of local Federal Writers, especially in the South, and how the FWP's vision changed in response to the challenge of World War II. In the course of this study, Hirsch raises thought provoking questions about the relationships between diversity and unity, government and culture, and ultimately culture and democracy.

Caplan,2006-09-26 Questions of Possibility examines the particular forms that contemporary American poets favor and those they neglect The poets choices reveal both their ambitions and their limitations the new possibilities they discover and the traditions they find unimaginable By means of close attention to the sestina ghazal love sonnet ballad and heroic couplet this study advances a new understanding of contemporary American poetry Rather than pitting closed verse against open and traditional poetry against experimental Questions of Possibility explores how poets associated with different movements inspire and inform each other s work Discussing a range of authors from Charles Bernstein Derek Walcott and Marilyn Hacker to Agha Shahid Ali David Caplan treats these poets as contemporaries who share the language not as partisans assigned to rival camps The most interesting contemporary poetry crosses the boundaries that literary criticism draws synthesizing diverse influences and establishing surprising affinities In a series of lively readings Caplan charts the diverse characteristics and accomplishments of modern poetry from the gay and lesbian love sonnet to the currently popular sestina
