Albanian Film:

Albanian Cinema through the Fall of Communism Bruce Williams, 2025-10-01 Albanian cinema truly represents a terra incognita for most of the world. Decidedly Europe's most isolated country during the Cold War era, communist Albania had already been cut off from the West for centuries as a one of the westernmost outposts of the Ottoman empire. Nonetheless and unknown to most of the world, communist Albania had a vibrant cinema tradition. Although bound by official orthodoxy, the films of the state-run Kinostudio enterprise were surprisingly innovative and at times daringly subversive. This book opens with examinations of moving images in Albania from the Ottoman period through those captured under independence and the Fascist occupation. It subsequently foregrounds transformations in Kinostudio from the early optimism of socialist realism through the brooding social angst of the 1980s, which constitute a bridge to the socioeconomic concerns of Albanian films of the postcommunist period.

A Companion to Eastern European Cinemas Anikó Imre, 2012-08-07 A Companion to Eastern European Cinemas showcases twenty-five essays written by established and emerging film scholars that trace the history of Eastern European cinemas and offer an up-to-date assessment of post-socialist film cultures. Showcases critical historical work and up-to-date assessments of post-socialist film cultures. Features consideration of lesser-known areas of study such as Albanian and Baltic cinemas, popular genre films, cross-national distribution and aesthetics, animation and documentary. Places the cinemas of the region in a European and global context. Resists the Cold War classification of Eastern European cinemas as other art cinemas by reconnecting them with the main circulation of film studies. Includes discussion of such films as Taxidermia, El Perro Negro, 12.08 East of Bucharest, Big T II and Breakfast on the Grass and explores the work of directors including Tamás Almási, Walerian Borowczyk, Roman Polanski, Jerzy Skolimowski, Andrzej Źużawski and Karel Vachek among many others.

A Century of the Media in Italian-Albanian Cultural Relationships Vito Saracino, 2024-11-23 This book delves into the complex historical, cultural and educational ties between Italy and Albania within the realm of media studies, examining various mediums such as press, radio, television, cinema and the web. Beginning in the late nineteenth century with the inception of the first Albanian language newspapers in Italy, the analysis progresses to explore the evolving relationship between Albanians and radio, initially focusing on Italian broadcasts before transitioning to national channels. Rapidly, Italian radio becomes a tool for fascist soft power, facilitating fascist Italy's occupation of Albania in 1939. The second section delves into the communist propaganda apparatus encompassing radio, television, cinema and music. It offers a comprehensive exploration of television's evolution from its tentative beginnings in the 1960s to the proliferation of private broadcasters in the post-communist era. Concluding with the emergence of the internet, the book highlights the significant decline of Italian soft power in Albania and the Southern Balkans over the past 15 years. Instead, these regions increasingly look towards the Anglo-Saxon and Turkish spheres as models, not only in media but also in terms of migration and development.

After Dictatorship Peter Hoeres,Hubertus Knabe,2023-02-20 Numerous studies concerning transitional justice exist However comparatively speaking the effects actually achieved by measures for coming to terms with dictatorships have seldom been investigated There is an even greater lack of transnational analyses This volume contributes to closing this gap in research To this end it analyses processes of coming to terms with the past in seven countries with different experiences of violence and dictatorship Experts have drawn up detailed studies on transitional justice in Albania Argentina Ethiopia Chile Rwanda South Africa and Uruguay Their analyses constitute the empirical material for a comparative study of the impact of measures introduced within the context of transitional justice It becomes clear that there is no sure formula for dealing with dictatorships Successes and deficits alike can be observed in relation to the individual instruments of transitional justice from criminal prosecution to victim compensation Nevertheless the South American states perform much better than those on the African continent This depends less on the instruments used than on political and social factors Consequently strategies of transitional justice should focus more closely on these contextual factors
