The Landscape of Reform Ben A. Minteer, 2006 In The Landscape of Reform Ben Minteer offers a fresh and provocative reading of the intellectual foundations of American environmentalism focusing on the work and legacy of four important conservation and planning thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Liberty Hyde Bailey a forgotten figure in the Progressive conservation movement urban and regional planning theorist Lewis Mumford Benton MacKaye the forester and conservationist who proposed the Appalachian Trail in the 1920s and Aldo Leopold author of the environmentalist classic A Sand County Almanac Minteer argues that these writers blazed a significant third way in environmental ethics and practice a more pragmatic approach that offers a counterpoint to the anthropocentrism versus ecocentrism use versus preservation narrative that has long dominated discussions of the development of American environmental thought Minteer shows that the environmentalism of Bailey Mumford MacKaye and Leopold was also part of a larger moral and political program one that included efforts to revitalize democratic citizenship conserve regional culture and community identity and reclaim a broader understanding of the public interest that went beyond economics and materialism Their environmental thought was an attempt to critique and at the same time reform American society and political culture Minteer explores the work of these four environmental reformers and considers two present day manifestations of an environmental third way Natural Systems Agriculture an alternative to chemical and energy intensive industrial agriculture and New Urbanism an attempt to combat the negative effects of suburban sprawl By rediscovering the pragmatic roots of American environmentalism writes Minteer we can help bring about a new civic minded environmentalism today

Encountering Nature Thomas Heyd, 2016-04-29 This book argues that an attentive encounter with nature is of key importance for the development of an environmentally appropriate culture The fundamental idea is that the environmental degradation that we are increasingly experiencing is best conceived as the consequence of a cultural mismatch our cultures seem not to be appropriate to the natural environment in which we move and on which we depend in thoroughgoing ways In addressing this problem Thomas Heyd weaves together a rich tapestry of perspectives on human interactions with the natural world ranging from traditional modes of managing human communities that include the natural environment to the consideration of poetic travelogues ecological restoration and botanic gardens The volume is divided into three parts which respectively consider the relation of human beings to nature in terms of ethics aesthetics and culture It engages the current literature in each of these areas with the help of inter disciplinary approaches as well as on the basis of personal encounters with natural spaces and processes The ultimate aim of this book is to make a contribution to the development of a cultural fabric that is suitable to the natural spaces and processes in which we may thrive and on which we all depend as individuals and as a species

Ecoaesthetics and Ecosophy in China Cheng Xiangzhan, 2023-10-09 Chinese ecoaesthetics which originated in 1994 has developed theoretically over the last 30 years This branch of aesthetics which is based on ecology and to transform aesthetically towards the era of ecological civilization uses ecological realism as its philosophical foundation and ecohumanism as its guiding principles Its central aesthetic paradigm is known as the body mind environment model Its main research object is ecological aesthetic appreciation an exploration of how to appreciate aesthetics and ecology through ecological beauty Additionally ecohumanism can be further improved by referring to principles of ecology and examining the aesthetic synergies between humans and the earth's ecosystem. Ultimately, ecohumanism is not only a method to aid in survival in an ecological crisis but to elevate the human condition through assuming ecological responsibilities and promoting ecological civilization leading to a more valuable and meaningful life. The theme of this book, Ecosophy C, can be summarized as Moving toward the Aesthetics of Eternal Engendering. Its key phrase, Creating life, corresponds to shengsheng in Chinese, literally implying a continuous cycle of reproduction. Philosophically, this concept translates to eternal engendering. In essence, ecoaesthetics is the pursuit of the endless cycling of bio-engendering, which is the main goal of ecoaesthetics.

Cheng Xiangzhan is outstanding among Chinese environmental aestheticians in joining classical and contemporary Western environmental aesthetics with his original contributions to the more recent work by Chinese scholars. Cheng's creative and integrative accomplishments are supported by a remarkable facility in English and reflected in his original and systematic consideration of the outstanding issues. While much can be debated, there is substantial material here, and this book makes a signal contribution to carrying the discussion forward.

Arnold Berleant, distinguished environmental aesthetician, His latest book, The Social Aesthetics of Human Environments, will appear in September 2023.

Grizzly Lessons Gerald Blanchard, 2004-10

Grizzly Lessons is a survival guide to living in or visiting grizzly and wolf country. Fear, physical danger, financial hardship, and animosity between neighbors are contemporary challenges of the everyday Western experience. Stories of grizzly attacks reveal the remarkable psychological resilience of survivors. Most have returned to the wilderness with increased respect for bears, and their love of nature intact. Grizzly Lessons avoids the polarizing rhetoric of the vitriolic wolf-bear debates. In contrast, Blanchard presents accounts of coexistence from historical Native Americans to present-day ranchers, hunters, and other wilderness explorers. For those who are open to them, the ultimate lessons of humility, respect, and interdependence are offered through grizzly encounters      Aldo Leopold's 'A Sand County Almanac' and the Conflicts of Ecological Conscience Peter A. Fritzell, 1970      Human Health and Ecological Integrity Laura Westra, Colin L. Soskolne, Donald W. Spady, 2012-05-31 The connection between environment and health has been well studied and documented particularly by the World Health Organization It is now being included in some legal instruments although for the most part caselaw does not explicitly make that connection Neither the right to life nor the rights to health or to normal development are actually cited in the resolution of cases and in judges decisions This volume makes the connection explicit in a broad review of human rights and legal issues associated with public health and the environment It will be particularly useful as many legal instruments emphasize the right to development without fully discussing the necessary safety and public health aspects and the respect for the ecology of any area where such development often unwanted by local or indigenous communities is to be located Climate change is another pressing variable that is considered and several chapters address the interface between human health and ecological conditions Overall the book integrates perspectives from a wide range of disciplines including ethics ecology public health and epidemiology and human rights and law      Aldo Leopold Curt D. Meine, 2010-10-19 This biography of Aldo Leopold follows him from his childhood as a precocious naturalist to his profoundly influential role in the development of conservation and modern environmentalism in the United States This edition includes a new preface by author Curt Meine and an appreciation by acclaimed Kentucky writer and farmer Wendell Berry
