The Archaeology of Cyprus A. Bernard Knapp, 2013-03-18 This book examines the archaeology of Cyprus from the first known human presence during the Late Epipalaeolithic through the end of the Bronze Age Mortuary Ritual and Society in Bronze Age Cyprus Priscilla Keswani, 2004 A ground breaking investigation of burial practices and social transformations in the era when Cypriot agricultural communities moved from village to urban life and became major players in the eastern Mediterranean copper trade The author develops an innovative theoretical and methodological approach that enables her to define and elucidate the shifting spatial relationships between tombs and habitation areas the elaboration of rituals involving secondary treatment and collective burial and changing patterns of mortuary expenditure and symbolism throughout the Bronze Age Keswani proposes that during the Early Middle Bronze periods the growing elaboration of mortuary festivities and their crucial importance in negotiating status hierarchies contributed to the intensification of Cypriot copper production and the expansion of interregional exchange relations Subsequent changes in mortuary practice suggest that the importance of collective burial rites and traditional modes of ritual display diminished over the course of the Late Bronze Age as urban institutions multiplied and the bases of social prestige were transformed The Evolution of Long Distance Trading

Relationships Across the LBA/Iron Age Transition on the Northern Levantine Coast Carol Bell, 2006 This work investigates the excavated archaeological record of the northern Levantine littoral for specific evidence of continuity or change in the regional economic structure after the period of destruction that enveloped the Eastern Mediterranean at the end of the Late Bronze Age It also integrates relevant textual evidence and seeks to place this area within its regional context as part of the Eastern Mediterranean and Ancient Near Eastern trading networks by comparing the northern Levantine evidence with that from the south and from Cyprus

Studies of Homeric Greece Jan Bouzek, 2018-05-01 The volume brings a kind of companion to the subject of study of archaeology and history of Late Mycenaean to Geometric Greece and of the koine of Early Iron Age Geometric styles in Europe and Upper Eurasia ca 1300 700 BC in relation to their Near Eastern neighbours The age around the so called axial period of human history of transition from Bronze to Iron Age from the pre philosophical to philosophical mind from mythical level of human thought to logos is discussed in the frame of combining several approaches into a synthetic picture revisiting the previous books and papers by the author in an attempt to combine the witness of archaeological sources with the worlds of Homer and Hesiod and the first private Phoenician and Greek merchant ventures It surveys the birth of Greek autonomous city states of its art and its free citizens The book contains many maps and drawings illustrating the discussed subjects black and white and colour photographs
