From Passions to Emotions Thomas Dixon, 2003-06-05 Today there is a thriving emotions industry to which philosophers psychologists and neuroscientists are contributing Yet until two centuries ago the emotions did not exist In this path breaking study Thomas Dixon shows how during the nineteenth century the emotions came into being as a distinct psychological category replacing existing categories such as appetites passions sentiments and affections By examining medieval and eighteenth century theological psychologies and placing Charles Darwin and William James within a broader and more complex nineteenth century setting Thomas Dixon argues that this domination by one single descriptive category is not healthy Overinclusivity of the emotions hampers attempts to argue with any subtlety about the enormous range of mental states and stances of which humans are capable This book is an important contribution to the debate about emotion and rationality which has preoccupied western thinkers throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and has implications for contemporary debates

Data Protection Law and Emotion Damian Clifford, 2024-04-10 Data protection law is often positioned as a regulatory solution to the risks posed by computational systems Despite the widespread adoption of data protection laws however there are those who remain sceptical as to their capacity to engender change Much of this criticism focuses on our role as data subjects It has been demonstrated repeatedly that we lack the capacity to act in our own best interests and what is more that our decisions have negative impacts on others Our decision making limitations seem to be the inevitable by product of the technological social and economic reality Data protection law bakes in these limitations by providing frameworks for notions such as consent and subjective control rights and by relying on those who process our data to do so fairly Despite these valid concerns Data Protection Law and Emotion argues that the ineffectiveness of these laws are often more difficult to discern than the critical literature would suggest while also emphasizing the importance of the conceptual value of subjective control These points are explored and indeed exposed by investigating data protection law through the lens of the insights provided by law and emotion scholarship and demonstrating the role emotions play in our decision making The book uses the development of Emotional Artificial Intelligence a particularly controversial technology as a case study to analyse these issues Original and insightful Data Protection Law and Emotion offers a unique contribution to a contentious debate that will appeal to students and academics in data protection and privacy policymakers practitioners and regulators

Mediating Across Difference Morgan J. Brigg, Roland Bleiker, 2011-01-31 Mediating Across Difference is based on a fundamental premise to deal adequately with conflict and particularly with conflict stemming from cultural and other differences requires genuine openness to different cultural practices and dialogue between different ways of knowing and being Equally essential is a shift away from understanding cultural difference as an inevitable source of conflict and the development of a more critical attitude toward previously under examined Western assumptions about conflict and its resolution To address the ensuing challenges this book introduces and explores some of the rich insights into conflict resolution emanating from Asia and Oceania Although often overlooked these local traditions offer a range of useful ways of thinking about and dealing with difference and conflict in a globalizing world To bring these traditions into exchange with mainstream Western conflict resolution the editors present the results of collaborative work between experienced scholars and culturally knowledgeable practitioners from numerous parts of Asia and Oceania The result is a series of interventions that challenge conventional Western notions of conflict resolution and provide academics policy makers diplomats mediators and local conflict workers with new possibilities to approach prevent and resolve conflict Contributors Roland Bleiker Volker Boege Morgan Brigg Stephen Chan Frans de Jalong Sr Lorraine Garasu Mary Graham Hoang Young ju Carwyn Jones Joy Kere Debra McDougall Norifumi Namatame Chengxin Pan Oliver Richmond Deborah Bird Rose Muhadi Sugiono Tarja V yrynen Polly O Walker Jacqueline Wasilewski

Strong Feelings Jon Elster,2009-01-01 Emotion and addiction lie on a continuum between simple visceral drives such as hunger thirst and sexual desire at one end and calm rational decision making at the other Although emotion and addiction involve visceral motivation they are also closely linked to cognition and culture They thus provide the ideal vehicle for Jon Elster s study of the interrelation between three explanatory approaches to behavior neurobiology culture and choice The book is organized around parallel analyses of emotion and addiction in order to bring out similarities as well as differences Elster s study sheds fresh light on the generation of human behavior ultimately revealing how cognition choice and rationality are undermined by the physical processes that underlie strong emotions and cravings This book will be of particular interest to those studying the variety of human motivations who are dissatisfied with the prevailing reductionisms Not for sale in Belgium France or Switzerland fascinating read Philosophy of Emotion Christine Tappolet, 2022-11-28 In this book Christine Tappolet offers readers a thorough wide ranging and highly accessible introduction to the philosophy of emotions It covers recent interdisciplinary debates on the nature of emotions as well as standard theories of emotions such as feeling theories motivational theories and evaluative theories The book includes discussions of the alleged irrationality of emotions and looks into the question of whether emotions could not in some cases contribute positively to theoretical and practical rationality In addition the role of emotions in the theory of virtues and the theory of values receives a detailed treatment Finally the book turns to the question of how we can regulate and even educate our emotions by engaging with music and with narrative art The overall picture of emotions that emerges is one that does justice to the central role that emotions play in our lives conceiving of emotions as crucial to our grasp of values As an opinionated introduction the book doesn't pretend to be neutral but aims to engage readers in contemporary debates Each chapter closes with questions for further discussion and suggestions for further reading Key Features Written for advanced undergraduates suitable as the main text in a philosophy of emotion course or as a complement to a set of primary readings Includes useful features for student readers like introductions study questions and suggestions for further reading in each chapter Considers whether emotions interfere with our reasoning or whether they can in some cases help us to be more rational Argues against basic emotion theory and social constructionism that emotions are both shaped by biological forces and social forces Discusses a variety of subjectivist and objectivist approaches which share the assumption that emotions and values are closely connected Artificial Intelligence Applications and Innovations Lazaros Iliadis, Ilias Maglogiannis, Harris Papadopoulos, Spyros Sioutas, Christos Makris, 2014-09-15 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of four AIAI 2014 workshops co located with the 10th IFIP WG 12.5 International Conference on Artificial Intelligence Applications and Innovations AIAI 2014 held in Rhodes Greece in September 2014 the Third Workshop on Intelligent Innovative Ways for Video to Video Communications in Modern Smart Cities IIVC 2014 the Third Workshop on Mining Humanistic Data MHDW 2014 the Third Workshop on Conformal Prediction and Its Applications CoPA 2014 and the First Workshop on New Methods and Tools for Big Data MT4BD 2014 The 36 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions They cover a large range of topics in basic AI research approaches and applications in real world scenarios Game Theory and the Humanities Steven J. Brams, 2012-08-24 How game theory can offer insights into literary historical and philosophical texts ranging from Macbeth to Supreme Court decisions Game theory models are ubiquitous in economics common in political science and increasingly used in psychology and sociology in evolutionary biology they offer compelling explanations for competition in nature But game theory has been only sporadically applied to the humanities indeed we almost never associate mathematical calculations of strategic choice with the worlds of literature history and philosophy And yet as Steven Brams shows game theory can illuminate the rational choices made by characters in texts ranging from the Bible to Joseph Heller's Catch 22 and can explicate strategic questions in law history and philosophy Much of Brams s analysis is based on the theory of moves TOM which is grounded in game theory and which he develops gradually and applies systematically throughout TOM illuminates the dynamics of player choices including their misperceptions deceptions and uses of different kinds of power Brams examines such topics as the outcome and payoff matrix of Pascal s wager on the existence of God the strategic games played by presidents and Supreme Court justices and how information was slowly uncovered in the game played by Hamlet and Claudius The reader gains not just new insights into the actions of certain literary and historical characters but also a larger strategic perspective on the choices that make us human

Cultures. Conflict - Analysis - Dialogue Christian Kanzian,Edmund Runggaldier SJ,2013-05-02 What can systematic philosophy contribute to come from conflict between cultures to a substantial dialogue This question was the general theme of the 29th international symposium of the Austrian Ludwig Wittgenstein Society in Kirchberg Worldwide leading philosophers accepted the invitation to come to the conference whose results are published in this volume edited by Christian Kanzian Edmund Runggaldier The sections are dedicated to the philosophy of Wittgenstein Logics and Philosophy of Language Decision and Action Theory Ethical Aspects of the Intercultural Dialogue Intercultural Dialogue and last not least to Social Ontology Our edition include among others contributions authored by Peter Hacker Jennifer Hornsby John Hyman Michael Kober Richard Rorty Hans Rott Gerhard Schurz Barry Smith Pirmin Stekeler Weithofer Franz Wimmer and Kwasi Wiredu

Experimental Ethics Ewa Nowak,2013 Facing otherness in everyday interpersonal relations making decisions within demanding contexts living with the plenitude of values all of these experiences permanently challenge one s moral cognition Neither a single moral agent nor ethics itself can pretend omniscience when dealing with complex real world situations In this book author Ewa Nowak presents her own research findings to account for the experimental nature of ethics Nowak questions a popular conviction that declaring values and following norms is a sufficient condition to be moral She applies Georg Lind s dual aspect theory of morality to all sorts of spectacular contexts Series Development in Humanities Vol 6
