Alejandro De La Sota:

Alejandro de la Sota Alejandro de la Sota,1987 Alejandro de la Sota Alejandro de la Sota,1997 Alejandro de la Sota was born in 1913 and so belongs to the same generation as Jorn Utzon Denys Lasdun Aldo van Eyck and Jose Maria Coderch However it is only in recent years that his work has become known outside Spain 0While de la Sota drew many lessons from the modern masters from Mies van der Rohe in particular he also managed to define a language of his own This work traces the influence of de la Sota on Spain s contemporary culture of architecture examining in detail a range of his projects from single family houses to the Civil Government building in Tarragona Surface Architecture David Leatherbarrow,Mohsen Mostafavi,2005-02-11 A study of the building surface architecture s primary instrument of identity and engagement with its surroundings Visually many contemporary buildings either reflect their systems of production or recollect earlier styles and motifs This division between production and representation is in some ways an extension of that between modernity and tradition In this book David Leatherbarrow and Mohsen Mostafavi explore ways that design can take advantage of production methods such that architecture is neither independent of nor dominated by technology Leatherbarrow and Mostafavi begin with the theoretical and practical isolation of the building surface as the subject of architectural design The autonomy of the surface the free facade presumes a distinction between the structural and nonstructural elements of the building between the frame and the cladding Once the skin of the building became independent of its structure it could just as well hang like a curtain or like clothing The focus of the relationship between structure and skin is the architectural surface In tracing the handling of this surface the authors examine both contemporary buildings and those of the recent past Architects discussed include Albert Kahn Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Alison and Peter Smithson Alejandro de la Sota Robert Venturi Jacques Herzog and Pierre de Meuron The properties of a building s surface whether it is made of concrete metal glass or other materials are not merely superficial they construct the spatial effects by which architecture communicates Through its surfaces a building declares both its autonomy and its participation in its surroundings Alejandro de la Sota: The American Model; 10. Sota Key Houses of the Twentieth Century Colin Davies, 2006 Featuring over 100 of the most significant and influential houses of the twentieth century For each of the houses included there are numerous accurate scale plans showing each floor together with elevations sections and site plans where appropriate All of these have been specially drawn for this book and are based on the most up to date information and sources 2G 87: Alejandro de la Sota Moisés Puente, Alejandro de la Sota, 2023-02-13 Alejandro de la Sota probably arouses more impassioned responses in Spain than any other modern Spanish architect His work is the subject of pilgrimages by architects and students looking for a unique way of working an encounter with an almost magical revelation Although he is a very well known modern master in Spain his is quite unknown abroad This 2G issue presents a selection of building and projects of this forgotten modern master from his first works built after the Spanish Civil War as Esquivel village to his master pieces like the Maravillas school sports hall and the Provincial Government Building in Tarragona and his later not so known works as the Post Office building in Le n or the unbuilt houses by the sea in Mallorca

The Other Modern Movement Kenneth Frampton, 2022-01-25 A revealing new look at modernist architecture emphasizing its diversity complexity and broad inventiveness Usually associated with Mies and Le Corbusier the Modern Movement was instrumental in advancing new technologies of construction in architecture including the use of glass steel and reinforced concrete Renowned historian Kenneth Frampton offers a bold look at this crucial period focusing on architects less commonly associated with the movement in order to reveal the breadth and complexity of architectural modernism The Other Modern Movement profiles nineteen architects each of whom consciously contributed to the evolution of a new architectural typology through a key work realized between 1922 and 1962 Frampton s account offers new insights into iconic buildings like Eileen Gray s E 1027 House in France and Richard Neutra s Kaufmann House in Palm Springs California as well as lesser known works such as Antonin Raymond s Tokyo Golf Club and Alejandro de la Sota s Maravillas School Gymnasium in Madrid Foregrounding the ways that these diverse projects employed progressive models advanced new methods in construction techniques and displayed a new sociocultural awareness Frampton shines a light on the rich legacy of the Modern Movement and the enduring potential of the unfinished modernist project

I disegni di Alejandro de la Sota come riflesso dell'estetica hegeliana | Alejandro de la Sota's drawings as a reflection of Hegel's aesthetics Aurelio Vallespín Muniesa, Luis Agustín Hernández, Ignacio Cabodevilla-Artieda, 2017-03-08T00:00:00+01:00 In generale gli architetti non amano molto Hegel poich egli ha collocato l architettura al livello pi basso tra le Belle Arti Ciononostante questo contributo avanza l ipotesi che l opera architettonica di Alejandro de la Sota il cui approccio considerato essenzialmente funzionale come si evince dai suoi disegni sia in realt molto vicina all estetica hegeliana idealista per eccellenza Questo assunto sar dimostrato a partire da alcuni concetti che sono presenti nell opera di entrambi anche se in maniera diversa l idea la bellezza lo spirito e la forma Generally speaking architects are not among Hegel s greatest fans because he considers architecture as one of the least important forms of Fine Arts Nevertheless this contribution theorises that Alejandro de la Sota's architectural works whose essentially functional approach is visible in his drawings are in actual fact very close to the aesthetics advocated by Hegel the ultimate idealist This hypothesis will be demonstrated using several concepts that are present albeit differently in the works of both men idea beauty spirit and form Constructing Architecture Andrea Deplazes, 2005-07-25 Now in its second edition the trailblazing introduction and textbook on construction includes a new section on translucent materials and an article on the use of glass Modern Architecture and the Mediterranean Jean-Francois Lejeune, Michelangelo Sabatino, 2009-12-04 Considering the influence of the forms and tectonics of the Mediterranean vernacular on modern architectural practice and discourse from the 1920s to the 1960s

Community spaces Harnack, Maren, Haumann, Sebastian, Berkemann, Karin, Tvrtkovic, Mario, Wolf, Tobias Michael, Herold, Stephanie, 2015-06-19 Large housing estates of the post war era have shaped the face of many cities throughout Europe In the original plans of the 1950s 1980s they were to amend the urban structure and in many cases they were expected to enable a superior form of communality and urbanity The estates were built to ease the housing shortage but were also thought to quite literally become the home for a new society be it under socialist regimes or the democratic welfare state The reformation of society was expected to be supported by the environment of the newly built estates and most crucially their community spaces The different manifestations of these community spaces were the subject of the second conference of the 45plus network which took place in Darmstadt in September 2012 and which is documented in this volume By focusing on community spaces such as community centers schools churches hospitals shopping districts but also parks open spaces and sport grounds the contributions to the conference addressed spaces that were thought to be particularly important points of identification for the new societies these estates were expected to foster Community spaces were planned in order to hold the housing estates together as well designed and attractive built environments as social hubs and especially as symbolic anchors Quite often they boasted prominent design features intended to serve as recognisable markers of the estates and their programmatic subtexts While planners and politicians conceptualized community spaces with their potential to shape identification in view communities tended to appropriate such spaces in different ways and to reinterpret their meanings In short local inhabitants as well as the broader public possibly identified with community spaces their individual features and with the ideas and practices they associated with them in significantly different ways than originally intended Today the continuing tension between intention and appropriation of community spaces can be understood as an indicator of identification processes and appears to be one of the major challenges in the redevelopment of large housing estates but might also provide unexpected opportunities Gro wohnsiedlungen der Nachkriegszeit haben das Gesicht vieler St dte in ganz Europa gepr gt Urspr nglich sollten diese Planungen der 1950er bis 1980er Jahre die Stadtstruktur verbessern und teilweise auch eine neue Form von Gemeinschaftlichkeit und Urbanit t schaffen In erster Linie zur Linderung der Wohnungsnot gebaut wurden die Siedlungen auch als buchst bliche Heimat f r eine neue Gesellschaft

geplant sei es unter sozialistischen Regimes oder im demokratischen Wohlfahrtsstaat Die Umgestaltung der Gesellschaft sollte durch die Gestaltung der neuen Siedlungen unterst tzt werden wobei den gemeinschaftlich genutzten R ume ein besonderer Stellenwert zukam Die verschiedenen Ausformungen dieser R ume waren Gegenstand der zweiten Konferenz des 45plus Netzwerk die in Darmstadt im September 2012 stattfand und in diesem Band dokumentiert wird Durch die Fokussierung auf gemeinschaftlich genutzte R ume wie Parks Freifl chen und Sportpl tze aber auch Gemeindezentren Schulen Kirchen Krankenh user Einkaufsstra en stellen die in den Beitr gen der Konferenz angesprochen R ume wichtige Identifikationspunkte der neue Gesellschaften dar Gemeinschaftliche R ume wurden geplant um die neuen Wohnsiedlungen zusammenzuhalten als gut gestaltete und attraktive gebaute Umwelt als soziale Scharniere und vor allem als symbolische Anker Oft setzten sie prominente Gestaltungsmerkmale um so als Symbole der Siedlungen und ihrer programmatischen Subtexte zu dienen W hrend Planer und Politiker die gemeinschaftlichen R ume mit dem Fokus auf ihr Potenzial als Ort der Identifikation gestalteten wurden diese R ume durch die sie nutzenden Gemeinden in unterschiedlicher Weise angeeignet und auch uminterpretiert Kurz gesagt Bewohner wie auch die breite ffentlichkeit verstanden interpretierten und nutzten die gemeinschaftlichen R ume und deren individuellen Eigenschaften m glicherweise auf deutlich andere Art und Weise als urspr nglich geplant Heute k nnen die anhaltenden Spannungen zwischen Absicht und Nutzung der gemeinschaftlichen R ume als Indikator f r Identifikationsprozesse verstanden werden und stellen gleichzeitig eine der gro en Herausforderungen bei der Sanierung von Gro wohnsiedlungen dar offenbaren jedoch vielleicht auch unerwartete Chancen
