Arms Control And The Us Russian Relationship Report Of An Independent Task For:

On Nuclear Weapons: Denuclearization, Demilitarization and Disarmament Richard A. Falk, 2019-07-18 Highlights the threats posed by nuclear weapons and shows a way to denuclearization through the application of international law U.S.-Turkey Relations Madeline Albright, Steven Cook, Stephen Hadley, Senior Fellow Steven A Cook, 2012-05 Turkey is a rising regional and global power facing as is the United States the challenges of political transitions in the Middle East bloodshed in Syria and Iran's pursuit of nuclear weapons As a result it is incumbent upon the leaders of the United States and Turkey to define a new partnership in order to make a strategic relationship a reality says a new Council on Foreign Relations CFR sponsored Independent Task Force U.S. Nuclear Weapons Policy William James Perry, Brent Scowcroft, Charles D. Ferguson, 2009 The report notes that in the near term nuclear weapons will remain a fundamental element of U S national security For this reason it emphasizes the importance of maintaining a safe secure and reliable deterrent nuclear force and makes recommendations on this front The report also offers measures to advance important goals such as preventing nuclear terrorism and bolstering the nuclear nonproliferation regime Foreword U.S. Education Reform and National Security Joel I. Klein, Condoleezza Rice, Julia Levy, 2014-05-14 The United States failure to educate its students leaves them unprepared to compete and threatens the country's ability to thrive in a global economy and maintain its leadership role This report notes that while the United States invests more in K 12 public education than many other developed countries its students are ill prepared to compete with their global peers According to the results of the 2009 Program for International Student Assessment PISA an international assessment that measures the performance of 15 year olds in reading mathematics and science every three years U S students rank fourteenth in reading twenty fifth in math and seventeenth in science compared to students in other industrialized countries The lack of preparedness poses threats on five national security fronts economic growth and competitiveness physical safety intellectual property U S global awareness and U S unity and cohesion says the report Too many young people are not employable in an increasingly high skilled and global economy and too many are not qualified to join the military because they are physically unfit have criminal records or have an inadequate level of education The report proposes three overarching policy recommendations implement educational expectations and assessments in subjects vital to protecting national security make structural changes to provide students with good choices and launch a national security readiness audit to hold schools and policymakers accountable for results and to raise public awareness Global Brazil and U.S.-Brazil Relations Council on Foreign Relations. Independent Task Force on Brazil, Samuel W. Bodman, Julia Sweig, James D. Wolfensohn, 2011 July 12 2011 Over the course of a generation Brazil has emerged as both a driver of growth in South America and as an active force in world politics A new Council on Foreign Relations CFR sponsored Independent Task Force report asserts that it is in the interest of the United States to understand Brazil as a complex international actor whose influence on the defining global issues of the day is only likely to increase Brazil currently ranks as the world's fifth largest landmass, fifth largest population and expects to soon be ranked the fifth largest economy. The report Global Brazil and U.S. Brazil Relations recommends that U.S. policymakers recognize Brazil's standing as a global actor, treat its emergence as an opportunity for the United States and work with Brazil to develop complementary policies. The Task Force is chaired by former secretary of energy Samuel W. Bodman and former president of the World Bank James D. Wolfensohn and directed by CFR Senior Fellow and Director for Latin America Studies and Director of the Global Brazil Initiative Julia E. Sweig. Recognizing Brazil's global role, the report recommends that the Obama administration now fully endorse the country's bid for a seat as a permanent member of the United Nations Security Council (UNSC). It argues that a formal endorsement from the United States for Brazil would go far to overcome lingering suspicion within the Brazilian government that the U.S. commitment to a mature relationship between equals is largely rhetorical. Domestically, Brazil's inclusive growth has translated into a significant reduction of inequality, an expansion of the middle class and a vibrant economy all framed within a democratic context. Consequently, Brazil has been able to use its economic bona fides to leverage a stronger position in the international commercial and diplomatic arena. The report stresses the importance of regular communication between the presidents of both countries. Cooperation between the United States and Brazil holds too much promise for miscommunication or inevitable disagreements to stand in the way of potential gains. A mature working relationship means that the United States and Brazil can help each other advance mutual interests even without wholesale policy agreements between the two, notes the report. The Task Force further recommends that the U.S. Congress include an elimination of the ethanol tariff in any bill regarding reform to the ethanol and biofuel tax credit regime; the United States take the first step to waive visa requirements for Brazilians by immediately reviewing Brazil's criteria for participation in the Visa Waiver Program; the U.S. State Department create an Office for Brazilian Affairs; and the National Security Council (NSC) centralize its efforts under a NSC director for Brazil in order to better coordinate the current decentralized U.S. policy. The bipartisan Task Force includes thirty distinguished experts on Brazil who represent a range of perspectives and backgrounds. The report includes a number of additional views by Task Force members, including one that notes, "We believe that a more gradual approach regarding Brazil's inclusion as a full UNSC member would likely have more success in navigating the diplomatic complexities presented by U.S. support for Brazil." Another view asserts, "If the United States supports as the Obama administration has said it does leadership structures in international institutions that are more reflective of international realities, it must support without qualifications Brazil's candidacy for the UNSC." — U.S. Trade and Investment Policy Andrew H. Card, Edward H. Alden, Council on Foreign Relations, Matthew Jon Slaughter, 2011. From American master Ward Just, returning to his trademark territory of Forgetfulness and The Weather in Berlin, an evocative portrait of diplomacy and desire set against the backdrop of America's first lost war. — U.S. Strategy for Pakistan and Afghanistan Richard Lee Armitage, Samuel R. Berger, Daniel Seth Markey, 2010. The Council on Foreign Relations sponsors

Independent Task Forces to assess issues of current and critical importance to U S foreign policy and provide policymakers with concrete judgments and recommendations Diverse in backgrounds and perspectives Task Force members aim to reach a meaningful consensus on policy through private and non partisan deliberations Once launched Task Forces are independent of CFR and solely responsible for the content of their reports Task Force members are asked to join a consensus signifying that they endorse the general policy thrust and judgments reached by the group though not necessarily every finding and recommendation Each Task Force member also has the option of putting forward an additional or a dissenting view Members affiliations are listed for identification purposes only and do not imply institutional endorsement Task Force observers participate in discussions but are not asked to join the consensus

U.S. Policy Toward North Korea Council on Foreign Relations,Morton Abramowitz,1999 The Korean peninsula remains one of the world s most dangerous places While North Korea has an army of 1 2 million troops and holds Seoul hostage with its missiles and artillery Pyongyang is in desperate straits after a decade of economic decline food shortages and diplomatic isolation In 1998 former U S Defense Secretary William Perry traveled to Pyongyang to propose increasing outside aid from the United States South Korea and Japan in exchange for North Korea's promise to reduce military provocations. The third in a series of influential Task Force reports on Korea policy, this study argues that in spite of tensions the United States should continue to support South Korea's engagement policy and keep Perry's proposal on the table. The Task Force recommends that should North Korea increase tensions by testing long range missiles the United States and its allies should take a new approach to Pyongyang including enhancing U.S. Japan and South Korean deterrence against other North Korean threats, suspending new South Korean investment in North Korea and placing new Japanese restrictions on financial transfers to the North. By suggesting the possibility of gradually reducing the danger on the Korean peninsula, this report represents a crucial addition to the discussion of U.S. North Korean economic relations.

The Russian Military Today and Tomorrow Stephen Blank, Richard Weitz, 2010. Given the stakes involved in achieving a correct understanding of Russian and Chinese defense policies and military developments, the magnitude of Mary Fitzgerald's enlightening accomplishments in this regard becomes clear. However, the problems that we have outlined in this volume were not unfamiliar to students of the Soviet Union. Indeed, they are enduring strategic issues for Russian policymakers as well as those who analyze or contribute to foreign policies toward the Russian military despite the magnitude of the tremendous changes that have occurred since 1989 when the Soviet empire began to collapse. Even more importantly, Mary and her colleagues recognized that the issues outlined here are not just tasks relevant for the general study of Russia but by addressing these strategic issues and their underlying implications, policymakers will engage in the essential tasks necessary for the creation of an enduring structure of peace.
