Beyond Multicultural Art Education Rachel Mason, Doug

Boughton, 1999 Multiculturalism is a term that has been much used in educational texts in recent years Its usage is frequently taken for granted in the rhetoric of curriculum literature However it has recently become clear that there are significant variations of interpretations of multiculturalism in different world regions This book takes a new and deeper look at the notion of multiculturalism through the lens of art education In educational terms art is a unique tool for the investigation of cultural values because it transcends the barrier of language and provides visceral and tacit insights into cultural change In order to address the educational interpretations and methods of implementing multiculturalism in different regions of the world this book contains discussion and analysis of perspectives on art education theory and practice from thirteen countries The authors of each chapter are respected multicultural experts in their geographic locations who are well equipped to provide unique insights into the particular issues of multiculturalism viewed from the perspective of art in educational contexts The book as a whole provides tools for the conceptual analysis of contemporary notions linked with multiculturalism such as interculturalism internationalism and globalisation It also provides strategies for art teaching in relation to these ideas While the term multicultural education is problematic this book presents conceptual frameworks that should assist educators to examine their own teaching on issues of equity and diversity that are central to the multicultural education debate various histories characterised by imperial and nationalistic aspirations imbalances of power and economies political struggles diverse cultural religious and linguistic realities as well as the countless myths spawned by people over the ages all contribute to the world's fascination with this region and simultaneously make it difficult for anyone to speak sensibly about it without resorting to the plural form the Mediterraneans So can we speak of a Mediterranean pedagogy of the arts The authors in this volume argue in different ways that the answer to this question cannot be carved out of a singular monolithic interpretation of the region Instead we need to look for provisional answers in the region's dynamic developments historic and contemporary exchanges of ideas and cultural codes and in the shifting nature of a sea that invites journeying inquisitive people to discover new routes The cover image La fen tre int rieur e is by the French photographer S bastien Cailleux and shows a multiple exposure portrait of a child and her drawing created during a workshop called Dessine moi la M diterran e organised by L cole d Art au Village Edaav at the Museum of Illumination Miniatures and Calligraphy at the Casbah in Algiers
