Art Of Growing Older Writers On Living And Aging:

The Art of Growing Older Wayne C. Booth, 1996 Culled chiefly from great literary works this unusual compendium of prose and poetry excerpts highlights the physical and emotional aspects of aging Although Booth The Rhetoric of Fiction age 71 includes such cheery banal verse as I Haven't Lost My Marbles Yet Minnie Hodapp he has tailored this collection to encompass the unpleasant truths about aging William Butler Yeats's Sailing to Byzantium and excerpts from Simone de Beauvoir's The Coming of Age offer realistic assessments of the perils and possible consolations of aging The thoughtful commentary with which Booth connects the selections reminds readers that physical decay and fear of death are conditions common to us all This provocative collection braces rather than comforts The Art of Growing Older Wayne C. Booth, 1992 Counterpoint ranging from portraits by Rembrandt and Renoir to photographs of older people still going strong at work and at play This extraordinary diversity of voices is a book to be savored and enjoyed for years to come A perfect gift to oneself or to others it provides ideal companionship and renewal for the journey from summer through autumn and on to winter The Art of Growing Older Wayne C. Booth, 1996-12-15 Culled chiefly from great literary works this unusual compendium of prose and poetry excerpts highlights the physical and emotional aspects of aging Although Booth The Rhetoric of Fiction age 71 includes such cheery banal verse as I Haven't Lost My Marbles Yet Minnie Hodapp he has tailored this collection to encompass the unpleasant truths about aging William Butler Yeats's Sailing to Byzantium and excerpts from Simone de Beauvoir's The Coming of Age offer realistic assessments of the perils and possible consolations of aging The thoughtful commentary with which Booth connects the selections reminds readers that physical decay and fear of death are conditions common to us all This provocative collection braces rather than comforts Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars, 2012-08-20 In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today's world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society's assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter W Andrew Achenbaum author of Older Americans Vital Communities Aging and Old Age Richard A. Posner, 1995 Observing that people change both physically and cognitively as they age Posner suggests that each of us has in succession

two separate selves younger and older with different abilities interests and behaviors an insight that helps clarify a number of issues concerning the elderly

Aging, Creativity and Art Martin S. Lindauer, 2012-12-06 Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development explores the strengths and opportunities of old age as these are manifested by the accomplishments of aging artists late artistic works and elderly arts audiences The book draws on scholarship in the humanities primarily in art history examines mainly paintings and painters both historical and contemporary reviews empirical research on creativity and cognition predominantly from psychology and gerontology and presents the author's original studies including surveys of art historians questionnaires completed by aging artists and arts audiences and experiments involving judgments of art by laypersons The research presented in Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development suggests that creativity continues into the later years higher order mental abilities related to creativity like imagination and problem solving persist until late in life and the elderly's physical sensory mental and interpersonal competencies may be enhanced by engagement with the arts This work interrelates the disciplines of science the humanities and the arts to form a synthesis that builds on the strengths of the methods of quantification of science the emphasis on the individual in the humanities and the expressive and intuitive modes of communication in the arts Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development critically examines the psychology of creativity cognitive development and gerontology and will be of interest to a wide range of professionals and students in these fields

The polemics of Ageing as reflected in Literatures. Essays on Ageing in Literature and Interviews with Vikram Chandra, James Halperin, Doris Lessing, Zadie Smith and Terri-ann White , El envejecimiento no es solo un proceso biológico sino también social económico psicológico político y cultural Las representaciones literarias del envejecimiento contribuyen a entender aspectos como el miedo a la decrepitud la pérdida de creatividad o la muerte las relaciones intergeneracionales y la sostenibilidad de la calidad de vida En el libro escritores y académicos discuten temas de vital importancia para nuestras sociedades actuales con artículos y entrevistas que reflejan actitudes positivas hacia el proceso en que todos estamos implicados

A Heart of Wisdom Susan Berrin, 2014-09-13 Shows us how to understand and meet the challenges of our own process of aging and the aging of those we care about from a Jewish perspective from midlife through the elder years Over 40 contributors offer their insights and experiences through personal narrative text studies poems ceremonies and stories about aging retiring growing learning caring for elderly parents living and dying

Literary Studies and Human Flourishing James F. English, Heather Love, 2023 The Humanities and Human Flourishing series publishes edited volumes that explore the role of human flourishing in the central disciplines of the humanities and whether and how the humanities can increase human happiness The contributors to this volume of essays investigate the question what do literary scholars contribute to social scientific research on human happiness and flourishing Of all humanities disciplines none is more resistant to the program of positive psychology or the prevailing discourse of human flourishing than literary studies The approach taken in this volume of essays is neither to gloss over that antagonism nor to launch a series of blasts against positive psychology and the happiness industry. Rather the contributors reflect on how their literary research work to which they are personally committed might become part of an interdisciplinary conversation about human flourishing. The contributors' areas of research are wide ranging covering literary aesthetics, book history, digital humanities and reader reception as well as the important inter disciplines of gender and sexuality studies, disability studies and black studies fields in which issues of stigma and exclusion are paramount and which have critiqued the discourse of human flourishing for its failure to grapple with structural inequality and human difference. Literary scholars are drawn more readily to the problematic than to the decidable but by dwelling on the trouble spots in a field of inquiry still largely confined to the sciences. Literary Studies and Human Flourishing provides the groundwork for new and more productive forms of interdisciplinary collaboration and exchange.

The Final Elegy: the Consolation of the Classics in Old Age Richard Oliver Brooks, 2022-08-01. Old age is a time of losses permanent, cumulative and irreversible. These losses include our loss of work in retirement, the eclipse of our past, our biological decline, dependency resulting from such decline, the foreshortening of our future, the abandonment of belief in our own improvement and our society's progress and of course our death. This book views these losses as part of an elegy of old age. Elegy is a poetic or prose mourning of loss. Sadness and other emotions result. With elegiac understanding we detach ourselves from these losses to seek and find consolation. This book is concerned with achieving intellectual detachment through meditative reflection with the help of reading and appreciating the classics. The final stage of the old age elegy, consolation, can be found at least in part within the classics, the garlands of repose. The classics are broadly defined by Matthew Arnold as the best that has been thought and said or found in the fine arts. To benefit from the classics requires a life long liberal education. This education begins with an introduction to the classics in youth, makes use of them during our adult lives and supplies their conclusion for old age meditation. Such significant works enable us to place the losses we suffer within an intellectual framework of perennial ideas. It is by means of such an intellectual framework that we secure consolation in old age. Classic works familiarize us deeply with the losses and emotions we endure, suggest substitutes for the goods of the life we have lost in old age, offer opportunities of catharsis for the sadness we experience and help us transform ourselves in old age. Classics help us see old age and its losses as part of a complete life which holds a unique value of its own while remaining part of larger nature processes, history and intellectual traditions.

Aging and Demographic Change in Canadian Context David J. Cheal, Professor of Department of Sociology, David Cheal, 2002-01-01. Contributors question whether an aging society is necessarily inferior or problematic compared with the recent past, cautioning that exaggerated concerns about population aging can be harmful to rational policy making.

Ageing and Invisibility Emilio Mordini, Paul de Hert, 2010. Providing an overview of the process of inclusion for older people and addressing the ethical, social and legal aspects of the process, this book is suitable for researchers, policy makers.

organisations and companies as well as for those with an interest in the identification and promotion of good practice within an ageing society

Age Rage and Going Gently Oliver Davis, 2006-01-01 This wide ranging study looks at how the ageing process has alternately been figured in and excluded from twentieth century French literature philosophy and psychoanalysis It espouses a critical interdisciplinarity and calls into question the assumptions underlying much research into ageing in the social sciences work in which the negative aspects of growing older are almost invariably suppressed It offers a major reappraisal of Simone de Beauvoir's great but neglected late treatise La Vieillesse and presents the first substantial discussion of a lost documentary film about old age in which Beauvoir appears and which she helped to write PROMENADE AU PAYS DE LA VIEILLESSE Questioning Beauvoir's own rather reductive reading of Gide's work on old age this study analyses the way in which his Journal and Ainsi soit il experiment with a range of representational models for the senescent subject The encounter between psychoanalysis and ageing is framed by a reading of Violette Leduc's autobiographical trilogy in which she suggests that psychoanalysis to its detriment simply cannot allow ageing to signify This claim is tested in a critical survey of recent theoretical and clinical work by psychoanalysts interested in ageing in France the UK and the US Lastly Herv Guibert's recently republished photo novel about his elderly great aunts Suzanne et Louise is examined as a work of intergenerational empathy and is found in addition to be an important statement of his photographic aesthetic Navigating between the extremes of fury age rage and serene acceptance going gently this study aims throughout to examine the role which ageing plays in formal as well as thematic terms in writing the life of the subject

Saying Goodbye David H. Klein, 1997 Tells us how we must transform our conception of ourselves as children in order to play a fully adult role in relation to our aging parents A why to as well as a how to book Jacket
