Henderson, 2018-05-18 The long awaited new edition of a groundbreaking work on the impact of alternative concepts of space on modern art In this groundbreaking study first published in 1983 and unavailable for over a decade Linda Dalrymple Henderson demonstrates that two concepts of space beyond immediate perception the curved spaces of non Euclidean geometry and most important a higher fourth dimension of space were central to the development of modern art The possibility of a spatial fourth dimension suggested that our world might be merely a shadow or section of a higher dimensional existence That iconoclastic idea encouraged radical innovation by a variety of early twentieth century artists ranging from French Cubists Italian Futurists and Marcel Duchamp to Max Weber Kazimir Malevich and the artists of De Stijl and Surrealism In an extensive new Reintroduction Henderson surveys the impact of interest in higher dimensions of space in art and culture from the 1950s to 2000 Although largely eclipsed by relativity theory beginning in the 1920s the spatial fourth dimension experienced a resurgence during the later 1950s and 1960s In a remarkable turn of events it has returned as an important theme in contemporary culture in the wake of the emergence in the 1980s of both string theory in physics with its ten or eleven dimensional universes and computer graphics Henderson demonstrates the importance of this new conception of space for figures ranging from Buckminster Fuller Robert Smithson and the Park Place Gallery group in the 1960s to Tony Robbin and digital architect Marcos Novak Between Declarations and Dreams: Art of Southeast

A Companion to Ancient Near Eastern Art Ann C. Gunter,2018-11-20 Provides a broad view of the history and current state of scholarship on the art of the ancient Near East This book covers the aesthetic traditions of Mesopotamia Iran

Anatolia and the Levant from Neolithic times to the end of the Achaemenid Persian Empire around 330 BCE. It describes and examines the field from a variety of critical perspectives across approaches and interpretive frameworks, key explanatory concepts, materials and selected media and formats and zones of interaction. This important work also addresses both traditional and emerging categories of material intellectual perspectives and research priorities. The book covers geography and chronology, context and setting, medium and scale, while acknowledging the diversity of regional and cultural traditions and the uneven survival of evidence. Part One of the book considers the methodologies and approaches that the field has drawn on and refined. Part Two addresses terms and concepts critical to understanding the subjects and formal characteristics of the Near Eastern material record, including the intellectual frameworks within which monuments have been approached and interpreted. Part Three surveys the field's most distinctive and characteristic genres, with special reference to Mesopotamian art and architecture. Part Four considers involvement with artistic traditions across a broader reach, examining connections with Egypt, the Aegean and the Mediterranean. And finally, Part Five addresses intersections with the closely allied discipline of archaeology and the institutional stewardship of cultural heritage in the modern Middle East. Told from multiple perspectives, A Companion to Ancient Near Eastern Art is an enlightening must-have book for advanced undergraduate and graduate students of ancient Near East art and Near East history, as well as those interested in history and art history.

Islamic Art and Beyond Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01. Islamic Art and Beyond is the third in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar. Between them, they bring together more than eighty articles, studies and essays, work spanning half a century by a master of the field. Each volume takes a particular section of the topic, the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650-1100, Islamic Visual Culture 1100-1800 and Jerusalem: Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life. They illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth. They deal with architecture, painting, objects, iconography, theories of art, aesthetics and ornament, and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history, as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art. In addition to the articles, selected each volume contains an introduction which describes, often in highly personal ways, the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts. The articles in the present volume illustrate how the author's study of Islamic art led him in two directions for a further understanding of the arts. One is how to define Islamic art and what impulses provided it with its own peculiar forms and dynamics of growth. Was it a faith or a combination of social, historical and cultural events? And how has Islamic art impacted on the contemporary arts of the Islamic world? The other issue is that of the meanings to be given to forms like domes, so characteristic of Islamic art, or to terms like symbol, signs or aesthetic values in the arts, especially when one considers the contemporary world. The Islamic examples allow for the development of new intellectual positions for the history and criticism of the arts everywhere.

Strawn, Ryan P. Bonfiglio, 2015-10-28 Iconographic exegesis combines the study of biblical texts exegesis with the study of ancient expressions of visual art iconography Studying ancient visual art that is contemporary with the documents of the Old Testament gives remarkable insight not only on the meaning and historical context of the biblical text but also because it facilitates greater understanding of how the ancient authors and audiences saw thought and made sense of the world Iconography thus merits close attention as another avenue that can lead to a more nuanced and more complete understanding of the biblical text Each chapter of this book provides an exegesis of a particular biblical text or theme The book is organized around the tripartite structure of the Hebrew Bible and demonstrates that iconographical exegesis is pertinent to every nook and cranny of the Bible Within the three parts there is special emphasis on Genesis Isaiah and the Psalms in order to make the book attractive for classes that deal with one or more of these books and might therefore include an iconographic perspective In addition to connecting with a major issue in biblical interpretation theology or visual studies each chapter will end with one or two exercises directing the reader student to comparable texts and images enabling them to apply what was described in the chapter for themselves This approach enables beginners as well as advanced readers to integrate iconography into their toolbox of exegetical skills The Global Rules of Art Larissa Buchholz, 2022-11-22 A trailblazing look at the historical emergence of a global field in contemporary art and the diverse ways artists become valued worldwide Prior to the 1980s the postwar canon of international contemporary art was made up almost exclusively of artists from North America and Western Europe while cultural agents from other parts of the world often found themselves on the margins The Global Rules of Art examines how this discriminatory situation has changed in recent decades Drawing from abundant sources including objective indicators from more than one hundred countries multiple institutional histories and discourses extensive fieldwork and interviews with artists critics curators gallerists and auction house agents Larissa Buchholz examines the emergence of a world spanning art field whose logics have increasingly become defined in global terms Deftly blending comprehensive historical analyses with illuminating case studies The Global Rules of Art breaks new
