Contemporary Art Martha Buskirk, 2005-02-18 An exploration of transformations in the nature of the art object and artistic authorship in the last four decades In this book Martha Buskirk addresses the interesting fact that since the early 1960s almost anything can and has been called art Among other practices contemporary artists have employed mass produced elements impermanent materials and appropriated imagery have incorporated performance and video and have created works through instructions carried out by others Furthermore works of art that lack traditional signs of authenticity or permanence have been embraced by institutions long devoted to the original and the permanent Buskirk begins with questions of authorship raised by minimalists use of industrial materials and methods including competing claims of ownership and artistic authorship evident in conflicts over the right to fabricate artists works Examining recent examples of appropriation she finds precedents in pop art and the early twentieth century readymade and explores the intersection of contemporary artistic copying and the system of copyrights trademarks and brand names characteristic of other forms of commodity production She also investigates the ways that connections between work and context have transformed art and institutional conventions the impact of new materials on definitions of medium the role of the document as both primary and secondary object and the significance of conceptually oriented performance work for the intersection of photography and the human body in contemporary art Buskirk explores how artists active in the 1980s and 1990s have recombined strategies of the art of the 1960s and 1970s She also shows how the mechanisms through which art is presented shape not only readings of the work but the work itself She uses her discussion of the readymade and conceptual art to explore broader issues of authorship reproduction context and temporality Art of the Deal Noah Horowitz, 2014-08-31 Art today is defined by its relationship to money as never before Prices of living artists works have been driven to unprecedented heights conventional boundaries within the art world have collapsed and artists now think ever more strategically about how to advance their careers Artists no longer simply make art but package sell and brand it Noah Horowitz exposes the inner workings of the contemporary art market explaining how this unique economy came to be how it works and where it s headed He takes a unique look at the globalization of the art world and the changing face of the business offering the clearest analysis yet of how investors speculate in the market and how emerging art forms such as video and installation have been drawn into the commercial sphere By carefully examining these developments against the backdrop of the deflation of the contemporary art bubble in 2008 Art of the Deal is a must read book that demystifies collecting and investing in today's art market Inside the White Cube Brian O'Doherty, 1999 These essays explicitly confront a particular crisis in postwar art seeking to examine the assumptions on which the modern commercial and museum gallery was based New York Magazine, 1997-09-29 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Aesthetics at Large Thierry de Duve, 2019-05-02 Immanuel Kant's Critique of Judgment Thierry de Duve argues in the first volume of Aesthetics at Large is as relevant to the appreciation of art today as it was to the enjoyment of beautiful nature in 1790 Going against the grain of all aesthetic theories situated in the Hegelian tradition this provocative thesis which already guided de Duve's groundbreaking book Kant After Duchamp 1996 is here pursued in order to demonstrate that far from confining aesthetics to a stifling formalism isolated from all worldly concerns Kant's guidance urgently opens the understanding of art onto ethics and politics Central to de Duve's re-reading of the Critique of Judgment is Kant's idea of sensus communis ultimately interpreted as the mere yet necessary idea that human beings are capable of living in peace with one another De Duve pushes Kant's skepticism to its limits by submitting the idea of sensus communis to various tests leading to questions such as Do artists speak on behalf of all of us Is art the transcendental ground of democracy Or Was Adorno right when he claimed that no poetry could be written after Auschwitz Loaded with de Duve's trademark blend of wit and erudition and written without jargon these essays radically renew current approaches to some of the most burning issues raised by modern and contemporary art They are indispensable reading for anyone with a deep interest in art art history or philosophical aesthetics Aging, Creativity and Art Martin S. Lindauer, 2012-12-06 Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development explores the strengths and opportunities of old age as these are manifested by the accomplishments of aging artists late artistic works and elderly arts audiences The book draws on scholarship in the humanities primarily in art history examines mainly paintings and painters both historical and contemporary reviews empirical research on creativity and cognition predominantly from psychology and gerontology and presents the author's original studies including surveys of art historians questionnaires completed by aging artists and arts audiences and experiments involving judgments of art by laypersons The research presented in Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development suggests that creativity continues into the later years higher order mental abilities related to creativity like imagination and problem solving persist until late in life and the elderly's physical sensory mental and interpersonal competencies may be enhanced by engagement with the arts This work interrelates the disciplines of science the humanities and the arts to form a synthesis that builds on the strengths of the methods of quantification of science the emphasis on the individual in the humanities and the expressive and intuitive modes of communication in the arts Aging Creativity and Art A Positive Perspective on Late Life Development critically examines the psychology of creativity cognitive development and gerontology and will be of interest to a wide range of professionals and students in these fields Improvisation Hypermedia and the Arts since 1945 Roger Dean, Hazel Smith, 2013-11-05 First Published in 1997 The authors purpose in this book is to dissect developments in improvisation in the arts since 1945 with a particular emphasis on process and technique The approach is analytical and theoretical but is also relevant to practitioners and their audience Their key argument is that improvisation has been of great importance and value in the contemporary arts particularly because of its potential to develop new forms often by breaking definitions History of Humanity UNESCO, 2008-12-31 This is the seventh and final volume in this comprehensive guide to the history of world cultures throughout historical times Work Ethic Helen Anne Molesworth, M. Darsie Alexander, Julia Bryan-Wilson, Baltimore Museum of Art, Des Moines Art Center, Wexner Center for the Arts, 2003 Examines the proliferation of new ways of making art in the 1960s by focusing on the changed organization of work in society at the time Co published with The Baltimore Museum of Art in conjunction with an exhibition of the same name Orange Coast Magazine, 1989-02 Orange Coast Magazine is the oldest continuously published lifestyle magazine in the region bringing together Orange County s most affluent coastal communities through smart fun and timely editorial content as well as compelling photographs and design Each issue features an award winning blend of celebrity and newsmaker profiles service journalism and authoritative articles on dining fashion home design and travel As Orange County s only paid subscription lifestyle magazine with circulation figures guaranteed by the Audit Bureau of Circulation Orange Coast is the definitive guidebook into the county s luxe lifestyle One Place after Another Miwon Kwon, 2004-02-27 A critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s Site specific art emerged in the late 1960s in reaction to the growing commodification of art and the prevailing ideals of art s autonomy and universality Throughout the 1970s and 1980s as site specific art intersected with land art process art performance art conceptual art installation art institutional critique community based art and public art its creators insisted on the inseparability of the work and its context In recent years however the presumption of unrepeatability and immobility encapsulated in Richard Serra s famous dictum to remove the work is to destroy the work is being challenged by new models of site specificity and changes in institutional and market forces One Place after Another offers a critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s and a theoretical framework for examining the rhetoric of aesthetic vanguardism and political progressivism associated with its many permutations Informed by urban theory postmodernist criticism in art and architecture and debates concerning identity politics and the public sphere the book addresses the siting of art as more than an artistic problem It examines site specificity as a complex cipher of the unstable
