Art and its Objects Richard Wollheim, 1980-09-30 What defines a work of art and determines the way in which we respond to it This classic reflection was written with the belief that the nature of art has to be understood simultaneously from the artist's as well as the spectator's viewpoint

Art and Abstract Objects Christy Mag Uidhir, 2013-01-17 Art and Abstract Objects presents a lively philosophical exchange between the philosophy of art and the core areas of philosophy The standard way of thinking about non repeatable single instance artworks such as paintings drawings and non cast sculpture is that they are concrete i e material causally efficacious located in space and time Da Vinci's Mona Lisa is currently located in Paris Richard Serra's Tilted Arc is 73 tonnes of solid steel Johannes Vermeer's The Concert was stolen in 1990 and remains missing Michaelangelo's David was attacked with a hammer in 1991 By contrast the standard way of thinking about repeatable multiple instance artworks such as novels poems plays operas films symphonies is that they must be abstract i e immaterial causally inert outside space time consider the current location of Melville's Moby Dick the weight of Yeats Sailing to Byzantium or how one might go about stealing Puccini's La Bohème or vandalizing Mozart's Piano Concerto No 9 Although novels poems and symphonies may appear radically unlike stock abstract objects such as numbers sets and propositions most philosophers of art think that for the basic intuitions practices and conventions surrounding such works to be preserved repeatable artworks must be abstracta This volume examines how philosophical enquiry into art might itself productively inform or be productively informed by enquiry into abstracta taking place within not just metaphysics but also the philosophy of mathematics epistemology philosophy of science and philosophy of mind and language While the contributors chiefly focus on the relationship between philosophy of art and contemporary metaphysics with respect to the overlap issue of abstracta they provide a methodological blueprint from which scholars working both within and beyond philosophy of art can begin building responsible mutually informative and productive relationships between their respective fields
