Art in Mind Ernst van Alphen, 2005-03-10 Art has the power to affect our thinking changing not only the way we view and interact with the world but also how we create it Art can be considered as a commanding force with the capacity to shape our intellect and intervene in our lives Art is a historical agent or a cultural creator that propels thought and experience forward The author demonstrates that art serves a socially constructive function by actually experimenting with the parameters of thought employing work from artists as Picasso Watteau Bacon Dumas and Matthew Barney Art confronts viewers with the pain points of cultural experience and thereby transforms the ways in which human existence is conceived The Routledge Companion to Literature and Art Neil Murphy, W. Philosophy and Aesthetics The Key Issues Concerning Contemporary Art Gary Willis, 2010 This thesis argues that the contemporary artist's objective is the production of new social space and the institution of new cultural knowledge. It does this by drawing an unexpected parallel between the social and political expectations facing the contemporary artist and the deepest philosophic conception of the artist's function. It traces art's historical trajectory from 20th century modernism post modernism to post colonialism from a broad range of critical theoretical and curatorial perspectives Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography Sarah Brophy, Janice Hladki, 2014-01-01 With contributions by both artists and scholars Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography is a unique examination of visual autobiography's involvement in the global cultural politics of health disability and the body Do You Feel it Too? Nicoline Timmer, 2010 Do You Feel It Too explores a new sense of self that is becoming manifest in experimental fiction written by a generation of authors who can be considered the heirs of the postmodern tradition. It offers a precise in depth analysis of a new post postmodern direction in fiction writing and highlights which aspects are most acute in the post postmodern novel. Most notable is the emphatic expression of feelings and sentiments and a drive toward inter subjective connection and communication. The self that is presented in these post postmodern works of fiction can best be characterized as relational. To analyze this new sense of self a new interpretational method is introduced that offers a sophisticated approach to fictional selves combining the insights of post classical narratology and what is called narrative psychology. Close analyses of three contemporary experimental texts Infinite Jest 1996 by David Foster Wallace A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius 2000 by Dave Eggers and House of Leaves 2000 by Mark Danielewski provide insight into the typical problems that the self experiences in postmodern cultural contexts. Three such problems or symptoms are singled out and analyzed in depth: an inability to choose because of a lack of decision making tools, a difficulty to situate or appropriate feelings, and a structural need for a we, a desire for connectivity and sociality. The critique that can be distilled from these texts, especially on the perceived solipsistic quality of postmodern experience worlds, runs parallel to developments in recent critical theory. These developments in fiction and theory both signal in the wake of poststructural conceptions of subjectivity a perhaps much awaited turn to the human in our culture at large today Visual Peace Frank Möller, 2013-10-18 This book introduces a new research agenda for visual peace research, providing a political analysis of the relationship between visual representations and the politics of violence nationally and internationally. Using a range of genres from photography to painting, it elaborates on how people can become agents of their own image Barbarism and Its Discontents Maria Boletsi, 2013-01-30 Barbarism and civilization form one of the oldest and most rigid oppositions in Western history. According to this dichotomy, barbarism functions as the negative standard through which civilization fosters its self definition and superiority by labeling others barbarians. Since the 1990s and especially since 9/11, these terms have become increasingly popular in Western political and cultural rhetoric, a rhetoric that divides the world into forces of good and evil. This study intervenes in this recent trend and interrogates contemporary and historical uses of barbarism arguing that barbarism also has a disruptive insurgent potential Boletsi recasts barbarism as a productive concept finding that it is a common thread in works of literature art and theory By dislodging barbarism from its conventional contexts this book reclaims barbarism s edge and proposes it as a useful theoretical tool New Germans, New Dutch

Liesbeth Minnaard,2025-10-01 In the globalised world of today traditional definitions of national Self and national Other no longer hold The unmistakable transformation of German and Dutch societies demands a thorough rethinking of national boundaries on several levels This book examines how literature of migration intervenes in public discourses on multiculturalism in Germany and the Netherlands epitomised in the strikingly parallel debates on the German Leitkultur and the Dutch multicultural drama in the year 2000 By juxtaposing detailed analyses of literary work by the Turkish German writers Emine Sevgi Zdamar and Feridun Zaimoglu and the Moroccan Dutch writers Abdelkader Benali and Hafid Bouazza New Germans New Dutch offers crucial insights into the specific ways in which this literature negotiates its national context of writing This book demonstrates how German literature of migration seeks alternative forms of community outside the national parameters whereas the Dutch literature negotiates difference and re imagines Dutchness within the national framework The Train Journey

Simone Gigliotti,2009 Deportations by train were critical in the Nazis genocidal vision of the Final Solution of the Jewish Question Historians have estimated that between 1941 and 1944 up to three million Jews were transported to their deaths in concentration and extermination camps In his writings on the Final Solution Raul Hilberg pondered the role of trains How can railways be regarded as anything more than physical equipment that was used when the time came to transport the Jews from various cities to shooting grounds and gas chambers in Eastern Europe This book explores the question by analyzing the victims experiences at each stage of forced relocation the round ups and departures from the ghettos the captivity in trains and finally the arrival at the camps Utilizing a variety of published memoirs and unpublished testimonies the book argues that victims experienced the train journeys as mobile chambers comparable in importance to the more studied fixed locations of persecution such as ghettos and camps The Rhetoric of Sincerity

Ernst van Alphen,Mieke Bal,Carel E. Smith,2009 The essays in this volume demonstrate how the performance of sincerity is culturally specific and is enacted in different ways in different media and disciplines including law and the arts

Landscapes of Holocaust Postmemory Brett Ashley Kaplan,2011-01-13 How do the spaces of the past stay with us through representations whether literary or photographic How has the Holocaust registered in our increasingly globally connected consciousness What does it mean that this European event is often used as an interpretive or representational touchstone for genocides and traumas globally In this interdisciplinary study Kaplan asks and attempts to answer these questions by looking at historically and geographically diverse spaces photographs and texts concerned with the physical and or mental landscape of the Holocaust and its transformations from the postwar period to the early twenty first century Examining the intersections of landscape postmemory and trauma Kaplan s text offers a significant contribution to our understanding of the spatial visual and literary reach of the Holocaust Scrutinized! Monica Chiu, 2014-01-31 Chang rae Lee's Native Speaker Kerri Sakamoto's The Electrical Field Don Lee's Country of Origin Mohsin Hamid's The Reluctant Fundamentalist Susan Choi's A Person of Interest These and a host of other Asian North American detection and mystery titles were published between 1995 and 2010 Together they reference more than a decade of Asian North America monitoring that includes internment campaign financing espionage and post 9 11 surveillance However these works are less concerned with solving crimes than with creating literary responses to the subtle but persistent surveillance of raced subjects In Scrutinized Monica Chiu reveals how Asian North American novels fascination with mystery detection spying and surveillance is a literary response to anxieties over race According to Chiu this allegiance to a genre that takes interruptions to social norms as its foundation speaks to a state of unease at a time of racial scrutiny Scrutinized is broadly about oversight and insight The race policing of the past has been subsumed under post racism an oversight in the popular nomenclature of race blindness that is still ironically based on a persistent visual construction of race Detective fiction's focus on scrutiny presents itself as the most appropriate genre for revealing the failures of a so called post racialism in which we continue to deploy visually defined categories of race as social realities a regulatory mechanism under which Asian North Americans live the paradox of being inscrutable To be looked at and overlooked is the contradiction that drives the book's thesis Readers first revisit Oriental visions or Asian stereotypes and then encounter official documentation on major events such as the Japanese American and Japanese Canadian internment The former visions which endure and the latter documents diplomatically forgotten shape how Asian subjects were and are scrutinized and to what effect They determine which surveillance images remain emblazoned in a nation's collective memory and which face political burial The book goes on to provide a compelling analysis of mystery and detective fiction by Lee Nina Revoyr Choi Suki Kim Sakamoto and Hamid whose work exploits the genre's techniques to highlight pervasive vigilance among Asian North American subjects The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field Key Features Brings together scholars from across the disciplines of Speech Communication English and Writing Studies While rhetoric is by definition interdisciplinary self identified scholars in the field are most often institutionally separated from one another This Handbook bridges this divide by providing a refreshing range of transdisciplinary views on the nature status definition and scope of rhetoric today Offers a thorough going overview of rhetorical studies today Organized in four sections Historical Studies in Rhetoric Rhetoric Across the Disciplines Rhetoric and Pedagogy and Rhetoric and Public Discourse the volume provides a single resource for engaging rhetorical studies Underscores the importance of rhetoric to education across a wide range of disciplines as well as to effective participation in public arenas Thus the volume connects rhetoric's long teaching tradition to an activist agenda for informed civic engagement Addresses methodological and theoretical difficulties and offers means of negotiating them Provides one of the first introductions to rhetorical studies across cultures and to the related debates concerning comparative and contrastive rhetorics

Genres of Critique Karin van Marle, Stewart Motha, 2013-12-01 The book seeks to open and explore the liminal space of critique at the intersection of law aesthetics and politics The essays in this volume elaborate and expand the meaning and significance of critique through an engagement with aesthetic forms Although this endeavour has wider significance the focus is primarily on South Africa The various contributions arose out of a process of reading writing and discussion among visiting scholars at the Stellenbosch Institute for Advanced Study STIAS Stellenbosch University South Africa in 2010 The project responds to the limits of the transplantation of critical legal studies into different jurisdictions especially South Africa The essays develop an approach to critical legal thinking that is conscious of critique as a problem of genre and seek to open up this problem of genre in the context of critical legal studies

New Germans, New Dutch Liesbeth Minnaard, 2008 In today's globalized world traditions of a national Self and a national Other no longer hold This timely volume considers the stakes in our changing definitions of national boundaries in light of the unmistakable transformation of German and Dutch societies Examining how the literature of migration intervenes in public discourses on multiculturalism and including detailed analysis of works by the Turkish German writers Emine Sevgi Özdamar and Feridun Zaimoglu and the Moroccan Dutch writers Abdelkader Benali and Hafid Bouazza New Germans New Dutch offers crucial insights into the ways in which literature negotiates both difference and the national context of its writing

Queer Forms Ramzi Fawaz, 2022-09-06 Stepford wives and female men the radical differences of female replicants Entering the vortex avant garde science fiction film and the lesbian separatist frontier Beware the hostile fag acidic intimacies and gay male consciousness raising in The boys in the band Queer love on Barbary Lane the sexual politics of serial gay fiction in Armistead Maupin's tales of the city Stripped to the bone sequencing queerness in the comic strip work of Joe Brainard and David Wojnarowicz I cherish my bile duct as much as any other organ political disgust and the digestive life of AIDS in Tony Kushner's Angels in America Conclusion something else to be on friendship's queer forms

Moral Seascapes Jonathan Stafford, Henning Trüper, Burkhardt Wolf, 2024-11-20 We are no strangers today to visual representations of human suffering at sea the refugee crisis that continues to play out in the seascape between Europe and Africa and not only there yields an ever growing archive of humanitarian tragedy As both a visual backdrop and a lethal medium of unequal mobility maritime space and landscape play a significant role in mediating the ethical demands of this crisis Yet there has been little exploration of the longer history of morality's role in our understanding of aesthetic representations of the sea The diverse contributions in Moral Seascapes explore the various symbolic forms through which these shifting moral norms and values have been manifested contributing to debates concerning the place of the sea in visual and literary cultures and the history of morality and emotion as well as the emergence of modern subjectivity Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary perspectives such as visual culture experimental art history literary studies history and philosophy Moral Seascapes develops distinctive new insights into the relationship between the moral cultures of modernity and the image of the sea

Musically Sublime Kiene Brillenburg Wurth, 2009-08-25 Musically Sublime rewrites musically the history and philosophy of the sublime Music enables us to reconsider the traditional course of sublime feeling on a track from pain to pleasure Resisting the notion that there is a single format for sublime feeling Wurth shows how from the mid eighteenth century onward sublime feeling is instead constantly rearticulated in a complex interaction with musicality Wurth takes as her point of departure Immanuel Kant's Critique of Judgment and Jean-François Lyotard's aesthetic writings of the 1980s and 1990s Kant framed the sublime narratively as an epic of self-transcendence By contrast Lyotard sought to substitute open immanence for Kantian transcendence yet he failed to deconstruct the Kantian epic The book performs this deconstruction by juxtaposing eighteenth and nineteenth century conceptions of the infinite Sehnsucht the divided self and unconscious drives with contemporary readings of instrumental music Critically assessing Edmund Burke James Usher E.T.A. Hoffmann Novalis Friedrich Hölderlin Arthur Schopenhauer Richard Wagner and Friedrich Nietzsche this book re-presents the sublime as a feeling that defers resolution and hangs suspended between pain and pleasure Musically Sublime rewrites the mathematical sublime as difference while it redresses the dynamical sublime as trauma unending undetermined unresolved Whereas most musicological studies in this area have focused on traces of the Kantian sublime in Handel Haydn and Beethoven this book calls on the nineteenth century theorist Arthur Schopenhauer to analyze the sublime of rather than in music It does so by invoking Schopenhauer's concept of Formwidrigkeit form-contrariness in juxtaposition with Romantic piano music post-modernist musical minimalisms and Lyotard's postmodern sublime It presents a sublime of matter rather than form performative rather than representational In doing so Musically Sublime shows that the binary distinction Lyotard posits between the postmodern and romantic sublime is finally untenable
