The Art of Drowning Vruchi Desai,2021-12-31 The Art Of Drowning is her debut book by the poetess which explores the chasms of emotions in human existence The book emphasis on some dark emotions expressed through nature and its tranquil aesthetics Her book holds readers hands and takes them to the places where emotions are created It simply clenches to the bloody teeth of despair and the innocent dead body of hope The anthology also dwells upon the howling storms of grief and the flickering candle of happiness Moreover the book devotes itself to the voiceless cries and hallowed screams of mere existence alongside expressing unhealed wounds and burning scars of vanity These poems cater to the mundane field where Gods finally understand what it is like to be human and believe me it isn't easy The Art of Impressionism Anthea Callen, 2000-01-01

Drawing on scientific studies of pigments and materials artists treatises colourmen's archives and contemporary and modern accounts Anthea Callen demonstrates how raw materials and paintings are profoundly interdependent She analyses the material constituents of oil painting and the complex processes of making entailed in all aspects of artistic production discussing in particular oil painting methods for landscapists and the impact of plein air light on figure painting studio practice and display Insisting that the meanings of paintings are constituted by and within the cultural matrices that produced them Callen argues that the real modernity of the Impressionist enterprise lies in the painters material practices

BOOK JACKET View from True North Sara Henning, 2018-11-22 Winner High Plains Book Award Poetry 2019 Winner George Bogin Memorial Award 2019 Finalist Julie Suk Award 2018 In these edgy poems of witness Sara Henning's speaker serves as both conduit and curator of the destructive legacies of alcoholism and multigenerational closeting Considering the impact of addiction and sexual repression in the family and on its individual members Henning explores with deft compassion the psychological ramifications of traumas across multiple generations With the starling as an unspoken trope for victims who later perpetuate the cycle of abuse suffering and shame became forces dangerous enough to down airliners The strands Henning weaves violent relationships the destructive effects of long term closeting and the pall that shame casts over entire lives are hauntingly epiphanic And yet these feverish lyric poems find a sharp beauty in their grieving where Rolling Stone covers and hidden erotic photographs turn into talismans of regret and empathy After the revelation that her deceased grandfather was a closeted homosexual who lived two lives Henning considers the lasting effects of shame in regard to the silence oppression and erasure of sexual identity issues that are of contemporary concern to the LGBTQIA community Even through the dark earth encircling us Henning's speaker wonders if there isn't some way out of a place where my body is just another smoke stung dirge of survival if in the end love won't be victorious Part eyewitness testimony part autoethnography this book of memory and history constantly seeking and yearning is full of poems too brutal and strange to suffer their way anywhere but home

The Art of Drowning Erik Michael Johnson, 2006 The Chronology of American Literature Daniel S. Burt, 2004 If you are looking to brush up on your literary knowledge check a favorite author's work or see a year's bestsellers at a glance The Chronology of American Literature is the perfect resource At once an authoritative reference and an ideal browser's guide this book outlines the indispensable information in America's rich literary past from major publications to lesser known gems while also identifying larger trends along the literary timeline Who wrote the first published book in America When did Edgar Allan Poe achieve notoriety as a mystery writer What was Hemingway's breakout title With more than 8 000 works by 5 000 authors The Chronology makes it easy to find answers to these questions and more Authors and their works are grouped within each year by category fiction and nonfiction poems drama literary criticism and publishing events Short concise entries describe an author's major works for a particular year while placing them within the larger context of that writer's career. The result is a fascinating glimpse into the evolution of some of America's most prominent writers. Perhaps most important, The Chronology offers an invaluable line through our literary past, tying literature to the American experience: war and peace, boom and bust, and reaction to social change. You'll find everything here, from Benjamin Franklin's Experiments and Observations on Electricity to Davy Crockett's first memoir, from Thoreau's Civil Disobedience to Edith Wharton's Ethan Frome, from meditations by James Weldon Johnson and James Agee to poetry by Elizabeth Bishop. Also included here are seminal works by authors such as Rachel Carson, Toni Morrison, John Updike, and Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Lavishly illustrated and rounded out with handy bestseller lists throughout the twentieth century, lists of literary awards and prizes, and authors' birth and death dates, The Chronology of American Literature belongs on the shelf of every bibliophile and literary enthusiast. It is the essential link to our literary past and present. The Science of Swimming, 1849

Orr's Book of Swimming; as practised and taught in civilized and savage nations, and used for the preservation of health and life John William ORR (Wood Engraver, and ORR (N.)), 1846 To the Stars—and Beyond Damien Broderick, Philip E. High, Jacqueline Lichtenberg, 2020-04-21

In Damien Broderick's haunting tale The Meek, the survivors of humanity's drive toward racial suicide must pay an awful price for their continued survival. John Glasby's Innsmouth Bane tells how the alien entity Dagon first came to nineteenth-century America. In Helen's Last Will, James C. Glass shows us that death may not always be the end. Charles Allen Gramlich's I Can Spend You is a futuristic western which puts prospecting in a whole new light. The Voice of the Dolphin in Air by Howard V. Hendrix is a poignant tale of life and death on Mars and the LaGrange space stations. In Philip E. High's This World Is Ours, David Hackett is given the task of revitalizing a declining city and world and finds himself facing an alien invasion. James B. Johnson's The Last American is fighting to preserve the memory of the old U.S. of A. in a last stand at the Alamo. In Small World: A Small Story by Michael Kurland, Vanspeepe invents a new transportation device hoping to change the world, and he does. The Channel Exemption, A Sime Gen Story by Jacqueline Lichtenberg focuses on the tensions between Sime and Gen when a mixed party of humans is stranded on an alien planet. Gary Lovisi's tale My Guardian tells how mankind is finally able to put an end to wars and mass killings. Black Mist by Richard A. Lupoff is a stunning mystery set at a Japanese research station on the Martian moon Phobos. Don Webb in his fascinating tale The Five Biographies of General Gerrhan demonstrates how easy it is for the professional writer to misinterpret deliberately or otherwise the story of a space hero. Twelve great reads by a dozen great writers. The Art of Drowning Billy Collins, 1995
