Gelpi, 2008-04-01 This study ponders different ways Christian thinkers understood humanity in its relationship to divine grace It names fallacies that have in the past skewed theological understanding of that relationship It argues that the philosophy of Charles Sanders Peirce avoided those same fallacies and provides a novel frame of reference for rethinking the theology of grace The author shows how the insights of other American philosophers flesh out undeveloped aspects of Peirce's thought He formulates a metaphysics of experience derived from his philosophical analysis Finally he develops an understanding of supernatural grace as the transmutation and transvaluation of human experience Human Creation Between Reality and Illusion Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2006-06-30 Identifying quickly illusion with deception we tend to oppose it to the reality of life However investigating in this collection of essays illusion's functions in the Arts which thrives upon illusion and yet maintains its existential roots and meaningfulness in the real we might wonder about the nature of reality itself Does not illusion open the seeming confines of factual reality into horizons of imagination which transform it Does it not like art belong essentially to the makeup of human reality Papers by Lanfranco Aceti John Baldacchino Maria Avelina Cecilia Lafuente Jo Ann Circosta Madalina Diaconu Jennifer Anna Gosetti Ferencei Brian Grassom Marguerite Harris Andrew E Hershberger James Carlton Hughes Lawrence Kimmel Jung In Kwon Ruth Ronen Scott A Sherer Joanne Snow Smith Max Statkiewicz Patricia Trutty Coohill Daniel Unger James Werner Russian Culture, Property Rights, and the Market Economy Uriel Procaccia, 2007-05-28 The Russian Federation is struggling since Perestroika and the Glasnost in a futile attempt to become a normal member in the occidental family of market economies The attempt largely fails because corporations do not live up to Western standards of behavior and private contracts are often not respected What is the cause of Russia's observed difficulties It is commonly believed that these difficulties are an expected outcome of a rocky transition from a Marxist centrally planned system to a market based economy This book challenges the accepted wisdom In tracing the history of contract and the corporation in the West it shows that the cultural infrastructure that gave rise to these patterns of economic behavior have never taken root on Russian soil This deep divide between Russian and Western cultures is hundreds of years old and has little if anything to do with the brief seventy year long experimentation
