American Studies In A Moment Of Danger:

American Studies Janice A. Radway, Kevin Gaines, Barry Shank, Penny Von Eschen, 2009-03-09 American Studies is a vigorous bold account of the changes in the field of American Studies over the last thirty five years Through this set of carefully selected key essays by an editorial board of expert scholars the book demonstrates how changes in the field have produced new genealogies that tell different histories of both America and the study of America Charts the evolution of American Studies from the end of World War II to the present day by showcasing the best scholarship in this field An introductory essay by the distinguished editorial board highlights developments in the field and places each essay in its historical and theoretical context Explores topics such as American politics history culture race gender and working life Shows how changing perspectives have enabled older concepts to emerge in a different context American Studies in a Moment of Danger George Lipsitz, 2001

Muriel Rukeyser and Documentary Catherine Gander, 2013-01-04 Provides a new perspective on the documentary diversity of Muriel Rukeyser s work and influences This study of twentieth century American poet Muriel Rukeyser explores the multiple avenues of her poetics of connection to reveal a profound engagement with the equally intertextual documentary genre It examines previously overlooked photo narratives poetry prose and archival material and demonstrates an enduring dialogue between the poet s relational aesthetics and documentary s similarly interdisciplinary and creative approach to the world By considering the sources of documentary in Rukeyser s work the study provides insight into her guiding poetic principles situating her as a vital figure in the history of twentieth century American literature and culture and as a pioneering personality in the development of American Studies A Concise Companion to American Studies John Carlos Rowe, 2010-02-12 A Companion to American Studies is an essential volume that brings together voices and scholarship from across the spectrum of American experience A collection of 22 original essays which provides an unprecedented introduction to the new American Studies a comparative transnational postcolonial and polylingual discipline Addresses a variety of subjects from foundations and backgrounds to the field to different theories of the new American Studies and issues from globalization and technology to transnationalism and post colonialism Explores the relationship between American Studies and allied fields such as Ethnic Studies Feminist Queer and Latin American Studies Designed to provoke discussion and help students and scholars at all levels develop their own approaches to contemporary American Studies

The Power of the Zoot Luis Alvarez, 2008-06-02 Flamboyant zoot suit culture with its ties to fashion jazz and swing music jitterbug and Lindy Hop dancing unique patterns of speech and even risqu experimentation with gender and sexuality captivated the country s youth in the 1940s The Power of the Zoot is the first book to give national consideration to this famous phenomenon Providing a new history of youth culture based on rare in depth interviews with former zoot suiters Luis Alvarez explores race region and the politics of culture in urban America during World War II He argues that Mexican American and African American youths along with many nisei and white youths used popular culture to oppose accepted modes of youthful behavior the dominance of white middle class norms and expectations from within their own communities      In Defense of Asian American Studies Sucheng Chan, 2005 In Defense of Asian American Studies offers fascinating tales from the trenches on the origins and evolution of the field of Asian American studies as told by one of its founders and most highly regarded scholars Wielding intellectual energy critical acumen and a sly sense of humor Sucheng Chan discusses her experiences on three campuses within the University of California system as Asian American studies was first developed in response to vehement student demand under the rubric of ethnic studies Chan speaks by turns as an advocate and an administrator striving to secure a place for Asian American studies as a teacher working to give Asian American students a voice and white students a perspective on race and racism and as a scholar and researcher still asking her own questions The essays span three decades and close with a piece on the new challenges facing Asian American studies Eloquently documenting a field of endeavor in which scholarship and identity define and strengthen each other In Defense of Asian American Studies combines analysis personal experience and indispensable practical advice for those engaged in building and sustaining Asian American studies programs      Storia della storiografia , 2007 visual artists adapt traditional forms to new environments and consider the ways in which the communities young people integrate their own traditions and concerns into contemporary expression     Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala,2013-05-07 Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia Scholars are increasingly using foodways food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students scholars and all those interested in food related research a one stop easy to use reference guide Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions resources for research including archives grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies This clear direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food related project Strongly interdisciplinary this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Feminist Waves, Feminist Generations Hokulani K. Aikau,Karla A. Erickson,Jennifer L. Pierce,2007 Feminist Waves Feminist Generations challenges the static figuring of feminist generations that positions the second wave of feminist scholars against a homogeneous third wave Based on life stories from contemporary feminist scholars this volume emphasizes how feminism develops unevenly over time and across institutions and ultimately offers a new paradigm for theorizing the intersections between generations and feminist waves of thought Contributors Sam Bullington U of Missouri Susan Cahn SUNY Buffalo Dawn Rae Davis U of Minnesota Lisa J Disch U of Minnesota Sara Evans U of Minnesota Elizabeth Faue Wayne State U Roderick A Ferguson U of Minnesota Peter Hennen Ohio State U at Newark Wendy Leo Moore Texas A Toni McNaron U of Minnesota Jean M O'Brien U of Minnesota Felicity Schaeffer Grabel U of California Santa Cruz Anne Firor Scott Duke U Janet D Spector U of Minnesota Amanda Lock Swarr U of Washington Seattle Miglena Todorova U of Minnesota Hokulani K Aikau is assistant professor of indigenous politics in the department of political science at the University of Hawai i at Manoa Karla A Erickson is assistant professor of sociology at Grinnell College Jennifer L Pierce is associate professor of American studies at the University of Minnesota     Noxious New York Julie Sze,2006-11-22 Examines the culture politics and history of the movement for environmental justice in New York City tracking activism in four neighborhoods on issues of public health garbage and energy systems in the context of privatization deregulation and globalization Racial minority and low income communities often suffer disproportionate effects of urban environmental problems Environmental justice advocates argue that these communities are on the front lines of environmental and health risks In Noxious New York Julie Sze analyzes the culture politics and history of environmental justice activism in New York

City within the larger context of privatization deregulation and globalization She tracks urban planning and environmental health activism in four gritty New York neighborhoods Brooklyn s Sunset Park and Williamsburg sections West Harlem and the South Bronx In these communities activism flourished in the 1980s and 1990s in response to economic decay and a concentration of noxious incinerators solid waste transfer stations and power plants Sze describes the emergence of local campaigns organized around issues of asthma garbage and energy systems and how in each neighborhood activists framed their arguments in the vocabulary of environmental justice Sze shows that the linkage of planning and public health in New York City goes back to the nineteenth century s sanitation movement and she looks at the city s history of garbage sewage and sludge management She analyzes the influence of race family and gender politics on asthma activism and examines community activists responses to garbage privatization and energy deregulation Finally she looks at how activist groups have begun to shift from fighting particular siting and land use decisions to engaging in a larger process of community planning and community based research projects Drawing extensively on fieldwork and interviews with community members and activists Sze illuminates the complex mix of local and global issues that fuels environmental justice activism

Rhetorical Occasions Michael Bérubé, 2007-09-06 A nationally known scholar essayist and public advocate for the humanities Michael Berube has a rapier wit and a singular talent for parsing complex philosophical theoretical and political questions Rhetorical Occasions collects twenty four of his major essays and reviews plus a sampling of entries on literary theory and contemporary culture from his award winning weblog Selected to showcase the range of public writing available to scholars the essays are grouped into five topical sections the Sokal hoax and its effects on the humanities cosmopolitanism American studies and cultural studies daily academic life inside and outside the classroom the events of September 11 2001 and their political aftermath and the potential discursive and tonal range of academic blog writing In lively and entertaining prose Berube offers a wide array of interventions into matters academic and nonacademic By example and illustration he reminds readers that the humanities remain central to our understanding of what it means to be human

Area Studies, Making Black History Dominique Haensell, 2021-10-04 This study proposes that rather than trying to discern the normative value of Afropolitanism as an identificatory concept politics ethics or aesthetics Afropolitanism may be best approached as a distinct historical and cultural moment that is a certain historical constellation that allows us to glimpse the shifting and multiple silhouettes which Africa as signifier as real and imagined locus embodies in the globalized yet predominantly Western cultural landscape of the 21st century As such Making Black History looks at contemporary fictions of the African or Black Diaspora that have been written and received in the moment of Afropolitanism Discursively this moment is very much part of a diasporic conversation that takes place in the US and is thus informed by various negotiations of blackness race class and cultural identity Yet rather than interpreting Afropolitan literatures merely as a rejection of racial solidarity as some commentators have they should be read as ambivalent responses to post racial discourses dominating the first decade of the 21st century particularly in the US which oscillate between moments of intense hope and acute disappointment Please read our interview with Dominique Haensell here <https://blog.degruyter.com/de-gruyters-10th-open-access-book-anniversary-dominique-haensell-and-her-winning-title-making-black-history>
