Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Select Revenue Measures,1992 American Studio Glass, 1960-1990 ,2004 A unique exploration of the question can art be fashioned out of glass Analysis of the philosophical and circumstantial factors that reveal the early history of the movement and the clash of ambitions and power that marked the relationship between the worlds of so called crafts and high art 81 colour 47 b w illustrations The American Stock Exchange Carol L. Womack,Alice C. Littlejohn,2024-02-02 Research and Information Guides in Business Industry and Economic Institutions series will bridge the gap between classical forms of literature and new alternative formats Each guide will be devoted to an industry a profession a managerial process or a field of study This guide to information resources on the American Stock Exchange is not intended to be a detailed history of the Amex It does cover the literature of the Exchange from 1900 through 1993 Research methodology included searching of major cataloging systems reviewing of print and electronic indexes and summarizing of publications in the American Stock Exchange library All publications identified were read and summarized White Kids Margaret A. Hagerman,2020-02-01 Winner 2019 William J Goode Book Award given by the Family Section of the American Sociological Association Finalist 2019 C Wright Mills Award given by the Society for the Study of Social Problems Riveting stories of how affluent white children learn about race American kids are living in a world of ongoing public debates about race daily displays of racial injustice and for some an increased awareness surrounding diversity and inclusion In this heated context sociologist Margaret A Hagerman zeroes in on affluent white kids to observe how they make sense of privilege unequal educational opportunities and police violence In fascinating detail Hagerman considers the role that they and their families play in the reproduction of racism and racial inequality in America White Kids based on two years of research involving in depth interviews with white kids and their families is a clear eyed and sometimes shocking account of how white kids learn about race In doing so this book explores questions such as How do white kids learn about race when they grow up in families that do not talk openly about race or acknowledge its impact and What about children growing up in families with parents who consider themselves to be anti racist Featuring the actual voices of young affluent white kids and what they think about race racism inequality and privilege White Kids illuminates how white racial socialization is much more dynamic complex and varied than previously recognized It is a process that stretches beyond white parents explicit conversations with their white children and includes not only the choices parents make about neighborhoods schools peer groups extracurricular activities and media but also the choices made by the kids themselves By interviewing kids who are growing up in different racial contexts from racially segregated to meaningfully integrated and from politically progressive to conservative this important book documents key differences in the outcomes of white racial socialization across families And by observing families in their everyday lives this book explores the extent to which white families even those with anti racist intentions reproduce and reinforce the forms of inequality they say they reject In the Interests of Justice Deborah L. Rhode, 2003-04 A past president of the Association of American Law Schools and senior counsel for the House Judiciary Committee during Clinton s impeachment proceedings Rhode brings an insider s knowledge to the labyrinthine complexities of how the law works or fails to work for most Americans and often for lawyers themselves She sheds much light on problems with the adversary system the commercialization of practice bar disciplinary processes race and gender bias and legal education Making Good Neighbors Abigail Perkiss, 2014-03-20 In the 1950s and 1960s as the white residents real estate agents and municipal officials of many American cities fought to keep African Americans out of traditionally white neighborhoods Philadelphia s West Mount Airy became one of the first neighborhoods in the nation where residents came together around a community wide mission toward intentional integration As West Mount Airy experienced transition homeowners fought economic and legal policies that encouraged white flight and threatened the quality of local schools seeking to find an alternative to racial separation without knowing what they would create in its place In Making Good Neighbors Abigail Perkiss tells the remarkable story of West Mount Airy drawing on archival research and her oral history interviews with residents to trace their efforts which began in the years following World War II and continued through the turn of the twenty first century The organizing principles of neighborhood groups like the West Mount Airy Neighbors Association WMAN were fundamentally liberal and emphasized democracy equality and justice the social cultural and economic values of these groups were also decidedly grounded in middle class ideals and white collar professionalism As Perkiss shows this liberal middle class framework would ultimately become contested by more militant black activists and from within WMAN itself as community leaders worked to adapt and respond to the changing racial landscape of the 1960s and 1970s The West Mount Airy case stands apart from other experiments in integration because of the intentional organized and long term commitment on the part of WMAN to biracial integration and in time multiracial and multiethnic diversity The efforts of residents in the 1950s and 1960s helped to define the neighborhood as it exists today Regulatory Reform--1974 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations, 1974 American Photo , 1991-09 Situating

Spirituality Brian Steensland,Jaime Kucinskas,Anna Sun,2021-12-14 Spirituality is in the spotlight While levels of religious belief and observance are declining in much of the Western world the number of people who identify as spiritual but not religious is on the rise Practices such as yoga meditation and pilgrimage are surging in popularity Wellness regimes offer practitioners a lexicon of spirituality and an array of spiritual experiences Commentators talk of a new spiritual awakening after religion And global mobility is generating hybrid practices that blur the lines between religion and spirituality The essays collected in Situating Spirituality Context Practice and Power examine not only individual engagements with spirituality but they show how seemingly personal facets of spirituality as well as definitions of spirituality itself are deeply shaped by religious cultural and political contexts The volume is explicitly cross national and comparative The contributors are leading scholars of major global regions North America Central America East Asia South Asia Africa and the African Diaspora Western Europe and the Middle East They study not only Christian Jewish and Islamic societies but also non Abrahamic societies with native as well as transnational sacred traditions

Race and Ethnicity in America John Iceland, 2017-02-14 Race and Ethnicity in America succinctly examines patterns and trends in inequality over the past 60 years for different racial groups focusing on education income poverty wealth residential attainment and health outcomes Do human capital differences explain black white inequality or are other factors more important Are we seeing patterns consistent with assimilation among Hispanics and Asians This book analyzes the causes for disadvantage and how they vary for each group spanning a legacy of racism current discrimination the unfolding process of immigrant incorporation and cultural responses to disadvantage Conversations about race can quickly devolve into aggressive and defensive discussions about culpability But understanding racial concerns is critical to understanding American history and America today

Black in White Space Elijah Anderson, 2023-03-09 In Black in White Space Anderson brings his immense knowledge and ethnography to bear in this timely study of the racial barriers that are still firmly entrenched in our society at every class level He focuses in on symbolic racism a new form of racism in America caused by the stubbornly powerful stereotype of the ghetto embedded in the white imagination which subconsciously connects all Black people with crime and poverty regardless of their social or economic position White people typically avoid Black space but Black people are required to navigate the white space as a condition of their existence From Philadelphia street corner conversations to Anderson's own morning jogs through a Cape Cod vacation town he probes a wealth of experiences to shed new light on how symbolic racism makes all Black people uniquely vulnerable to implicit bias in police stops and racial discrimination in our country Back cover
