Americas Global Interests:

US GLOBAL INTERESTS IN THE 1990s A NEW APPROACH , A Grand Strategy for America Robert J. Art, 2013-02-15 The United States today is the most powerful nation in the world perhaps even stronger than Rome was during its heyday It is likely to remain the world s preeminent power for at least several decades to come What behavior is appropriate for such a powerful state To answer this question Robert J Art concentrates on grand strategy the deployment of military power in both peace and war to support foreign policy goals He first defines America s contemporary national interests and the specific threats they face then identifies seven grand strategies that the United States might contemplate examining each in relation to America s interests The seven are dominion forcibly trying to remake the world in America s own image global collective security attempting to keep the peace everywhere regional collective security confining peacekeeping efforts to Europe cooperative security seeking to reduce the occurrence of war by limiting other states offensive capabilities isolationism withdrawing from all military involvement beyond U S borders containment holding the line against aggressor states and selective engagement choosing to prevent or to become involved only in those conflicts that pose a threat to the country s long term interests Art makes a strong case for selective engagement as the most desirable strategy for contemporary America It is the one that seeks to forestall dangers not simply react to them that is politically viable at home and abroad and that protects all U S interests both essential and desirable Art concludes that selective engagement is not a strategy for all times but it is the best grand strategy for these times Africa & U.S. National Interests ,1997 America's global dialog United States. United States Security Interests in the Post-cold-war World United States. Congress. House. Committee on National Security, 1996 Debating a Post-American World Sean Clark, Sabrina Hoque, 2013-06-17 The United States is currently the linchpin of global trade technology and finance and a military colossus extending across the world with a network of bases and alliances This book anticipates the possible issues raised by a transition between American dominance and the rise of alternative powers While a post American world need not be any different than that of today the risk associated with such a change provides ample reason for attentive study Divided into four parts 50 international relations scholars explore and discuss Power Transitions addressing issues including the rise of China the passing of American primacy and the endurance of American leadership War and Peace addressing nuclear weapons the risk of war security privatization and global insecurity Global Governance addressing competition trade the UN sovereignty humanitarian intervention law and power Energy and the Environment addressing resource conflict petrol climate change and technology This unique project offers a compilation of disparate arguments by scholars and policy practitioners encompassing a plurality of disciplines and theoretical perspectives By providing clarity and focus to this essential debate on the future of the world in the next several decades Debating a Post American World will be of interest to students and scholars of International Relations and global politics American politics US Foreign policy and International Security America's Commitment to South Korea Joo-Hong Nam, 1986-03-27 The book analyses the strategic rationale of the American security commitment to South Korea in the light of the palpable failure of containment strategy in Indo China During the 1970s the dilemma confronting successive American administrations was that whilst wishing to maintain their old commitment to South Korea they had no desire to preside over another Vietnam Military commitment and political support were necessarily disengaged and the Nixon doctrine served as both the end and the means of containment strategy in Asia The study identifies the principal conditions that have influenced changing American perspectives on South Korea and examines some of the general problems of collective security in the region Unique in the direct engagement of China the Soviet Union and the United States the security position of South Korea bears directly upon the achievement of peace and stability throughout East Asia American Global Leadership G. Doug Davis, Michael Slobodchikoff, 2024-07-26 In American Global Leadership Ailing US Diplomacy and Solutions for the Twenty First Century G Doug Davis and Michael O Slobodchikoff present a selection of fifteen essays that trace the history of American diplomacy from Eisenhower to Trump Penned by American statesmen among them James A Baker III General Wesley Clark Thomas Pickering and Michael McFaul these essays illuminate US foreign policy through the Cold War the Iraq and Afghan wars the economic crisis of 2008 and the instability that arose during Trump's presidency Each chapter reflects the wisdom and experiences of its author to illustrate the realities of diplomacy in the United States and the difficulties diplomats military leaders and foreign policymakers encounter today Among other themes the discussions in this volume explore the relevance of diplomacy in resolving global crises the use of military policy and force as diplomatic tools skills diplomats should possess and current obstacles facing US foreign policy Through the lens of their professional service as US diplomats the authors examine American mistakes and successes of the past seventy years to assess how the role of diplomacy within US foreign policy has changed over time and how it must continue to evolve to meet future challenges One conclusion proves recurrent the US can no longer afford to rely only on might and force but must rededicate itself to diplomatic strategies to achieve its long term goals American Global Leadership is not just a valuable resource for scholars of diplomatic history and political science it is also an important work for current diplomats and those aspiring to careers in the US Foreign Service The United States and Japan in Asia: challenges for U.s. Policy, 1993 Rethinking America's Security, Made By China: A New World Order Terrance Thomas, Is a global conflict involving China inevitable Terrance Thomas lived in China for nine years During that time he experienced the fear of living under an authoritarian regime Three years of Terrance's time in China were spent in the naval city of Sanya Terrance saw the Chinese military prepare for a war every day for three years From aerial operations to arm China's illegally built islands in the South China Sea to the deployments of China's Type 094 ballistic missile submarines Terrance saw China preparing for a New World Order with his own eyes Terrance was even present in 2019 for the commission of China's Type 002 aircraft carrier the Shandong Terrance recorded much of the activity he saw while in China and interviewed countless people around Asia to comprehensively assess China's intentions for the world Terrance also has prepared an in depth analysis of the possible pathways to peace The author also highlights several disturbing facts about China's increase in its military capabilities and why that is a threat to America and its allies This book stresses the need to maintain and expand U S military strength in Asia while forging closer ties with like minded allies worldwide Terrance was not on the outside looking in he was there and this book was written from within China Japan and Britain in the Contemporary World Hugo Dobson, Glenn D.

Hook, 2003-09-02 Britain and Japan in the Contemporary World provides up to date analyses of these two countries in terms of economics politics security and identity on the global regional subnational and civic levels The book moves beyond an analysis of state to state relations between Britain and Japan by examining the role of civil society in the relationship and analyzing the way the two countries deal with common issues such as the special relationship both maintain with the US the relationship with the continents that both of these island nations border the question of the degree of decentralization to allow within their contested borders Both countries also face the pressures of globalization as seen by the responses of the global cities of London and Tokyo The editors have brought a selection of top scholars in a collection of chapters aimed at examining the similarities and differences in the way Britain and Japan respond to issues of common concern on these different levels Encyclopedia of American Foreign Policy Glenn P. America's Strategic Choices, revised edition Michael E. Brown, Owen R. Cote, Jr., Sean M. Lynn-Jones, Steven E. Miller, 2000-07-18 Contending perspectives on the future of US grand strategy More than a decade has passed since the end of the Cold War but the United States has yet to reach a consensus on a coherent approach to the international use of American power The essays in this volume present contending perspectives on the future of U S grand strategy U S policy options include primacy cooperative security selective engagement and retrenchment This revised edition includes additional and more recent analysis and advocacy of these options The volume includes the Clinton administration's National Security Strategy for a New Century the most recent official statement of American grand strategy so readers can compare proposed strategies with the official U S government position Averting Crisis: American Strategy, Military Spending and Collective Defence in the Indo-Pacific Ashley Townshend, Brendan Thomas-Noone, Matilda Steward, 2019-08-19 America no longer enjoys military primacy in the Indo Pacific and its capacity to uphold a favourable balance of power is increasingly uncertain The combined effect of ongoing wars in the Middle East budget austerity underinvestment in advanced military capabilities and the scale of America's liberal order building agenda has left the US armed forces ill prepared for great power competition in the Indo Pacific America's 2018 National Defense Strategy aims to address this crisis of strategic insolvency by tasking the Joint Force to prepare for one great power war rather than multiple smaller conflicts and urging the military to prioritise requirements for deterrence vis vis China Chinese counter intervention systems have undermined America's ability to project power into the Indo Pacific raising the risk that China could use limited force to achieve a fait accompli victory before America can respond and challenging US security guarantees in the process. For America denying this kind of aggression places a premium on advanced military assets enhanced posture arrangements new operational concepts and other costly changes. While the Pentagon is trying to focus on these challenges an outdated superpower mindset in the foreign policy establishment is likely to limit Washington's ability to scale back other global commitments or make the strategic trade offs required to succeed in the Indo Pacific. Over the next decade the US defence budget is unlikely to meet the needs of the National Defense Strategy owing to a combination of political fiscal and internal pressures. The US defence budget has been subjected to nearly a decade of delayed and unpredictable funding. Repeated failures by Congress to pass regular and sustained budgets has hindered the Pentagon's ability to effectively allocate resources and plan over the long term. Growing partisanship and ideological polarisation within and between both major parties in Congress will make consensus on federal spending priorities hard to achieve. Lawmakers are likely to continue reaching political compromises over America's national defence at the expense of its strategic objectives. America faces growing deficits and rising levels of public debt and political action to rectify these challenges has so far been sluggish. If current trends persist a shrinking portion of the federal budget will be available for defence constraining budget top lines into the future. Above inflation growth in key accounts within the defence budget such as operations and maintenance will leave the Pentagon with fewer resources to grow the military and acquire new weapons systems. Every year it becomes more expensive to maintain the same sized military. America has an atrophying force that is not sufficiently ready equipped or postured for great power competition in the Indo Pacific a challenge it is working hard to address. Twenty years of near continuous combat and budget instability has eroded the readiness of key elements in the US Air Force Navy Army and Marine Corps. Military accidents have risen aging equipment is being used beyond its lifespan and training has been cut. Some readiness levels across the Joint Force are improving but structural challenges remain. Military platforms built in the 1980s are becoming harder and more costly to maintain while many systems designed for great power conflict were curtailed in the 2000s to make way for the force requirements of Middle Eastern wars leading to stretched capacity and overuse. The military is beginning to field and experiment with next generation capabilities. But the deferment or cancellation of new weapons programs over the last few decades has created a backlog of simultaneous modernisation priorities that will likely outstrip budget capacity. Many US and allied operating bases in the Indo Pacific are exposed to possible Chinese missile attack and lack hardened infrastructure. Forward deployed munitions and supplies are not set to wartime requirements and concerningly America's logistics capability has steeply declined. New operational concepts and novel capabilities are being tested in the Indo Pacific with an eye towards denying and blunting Chinese aggression. Some services like the Marine Corps plan extensive reforms away from counterinsurgency and towards sea control and denial. A strategy of collective defence is fast becoming necessary as a way of offsetting shortfalls in America's regional military power and holding the line against rising Chinese strength To advance this approach Australia should Pursue capability aggregation and collective deterrence with capable regional allies and partners including the United States and Japan Reform US Australia alliance coordination mechanisms to focus on strengthening regional deterrence objectives Rebalance Australian defence resources from the Middle East to the Indo Pacific Establish new and expand existing high end military exercises with allies and partners to develop and demonstrate new operational concepts for Indo Pacific contingencies Acquire robust land based strike and denial capabilities Improve regional posture infrastructure and networked logistics including in northern Australia Increase stockpiles and create sovereign capabilities in the storage and production of precision munitions fuel and other materiel necessary for sustained high end conflict Establish an Indo Pacific Security Workshop to drive US allied joint operational concept development Advance joint experimental research and development projects aimed at improving the cost capability curve

US-China Relations in the Twenty-First Century Michael Tai, 2015-04-24 The relationship between the United States and China will be of critical importance to the world throughout the twenty first century In the West China's rise is often portrayed as a threat and China seen in negative terms This book explores the dynamics of this crucial relationship It looks in particular at what causes an international relationship to be perceived negatively and considers what can be done to reverse this arguing that trust is a key factor It goes on to discuss US and Chinese rhetoric and behaviour in three key areas climate change finance and international security The book contends that contrary to much US rhetoric China's actions in these areas is often much more flexible and accommodating than the US position and that the Chinese are much more knowledgeable about and understanding and appreciative of the United States than vice versa Soldiers are Our
