Wells, 2021-07 The enterprise of Messrs T Nelson it is an inclusive and not an exclusive gathering And the task of selection and revision brings home to me with something of the effect of discovery that I was once an industrious writer of short stories and that I am no longer anything of the kind I have not written one now for quite a long time and in the past five or six years I have made scarcely one a year The bulk of the fifty or sixty tales from which this present three and thirty have been chosen dates from the last century This edition is more definitive than I supposed when first I arranged for it In the presence of so conclusive an ebb and cessation an almost obituary manner seems justifiable I find it a little difficult to disentangle the causes that have restricted the flow of these inventions It has happened I remark to others as well as to myself and in spite of the kindest encouragement to continue from editors and readers There was a time when life bubbled with short stories they were always coming to the surface of my mind and it is no deliberate change of will that has thus restricted my production It is rather I think a diversion of attention to more sustained and more exacting forms It was my friend Mr C L Hind who set that spring going He urged me to write short stories for the Pall Mall Budget and persuaded me by his simple and buoyant conviction that I could do what he desired There existed at the time only the little sketch The Jilting of Jane included in this volume at least that is the only tolerable fragment of fiction I find surviving from my pre Lewis Hind period But I set myself so encouraged to the experiment of inventing moving and interesting things that could be given vividly in the little space of eight or ten such pages as this and for a time I found it a very entertaining pursuit indeed Mr Hind's indicating finger had shown me an amusing possibility of the mind I found that taking almost anything as a starting point and letting my thoughts play about it there would presently come out of the darkness in a manner quite inexplicable some absurd or vivid little incident more or less relevant to that initial nucleus Little men in canoes upon sunlit oceans would come floating out of nothingness incubating the eggs of prehistoric monsters unawares violent conflicts would break out amidst the flower beds of suburban gardens I would discover I was peering into remote and mysterious worlds ruled by an order logical indeed but other than our common sanity      The Country of the Blind, and Other Stories H G Wells, 2021-02-14 The Country of the Blind and Other Stories by H G Wells      The Country of the Blind H G Wells, 2021-02-21 A story about a mountain climber who discovers a civilization where everyone is blind and who have developed unique ways of using their other senses They notice that their new arrival is very different from them and insist
