Country Of Dreams And Dust:

Narratives of Diaspora W. Lim, 2013-12-17 Chinese American authors often find it necessary to represent Asian history in their literary works Tracing the development of the literary production of Maxine Hong Kingston Amy Tan Lisa See and Russell Leong among others this book captures the effects of international politics and globalization on Chinese American diasporic consciousness

Power Misses II David E. James, 2020-10-27 Like David James earlier collection of essays Power Misses Essays Across Un Popular Culture 1996 the present volume Power Misses II Cinema Asian and Modern is concerned with popular cultural activity that propose alternatives and opposition to capitalist media Now with a wider frame of reference it moves globally from west to east beginning with films made during the Korean Democracy Movement and then turning to socialist realism in China and Taiwan and to Asian American film and poetry in Los Angeles Several other avant garde film movements in L A created communities resistant to the culture industries centered there as did elements in the classic New York avant garde here instanced in the work of Ken Jacobs and Andy Warhol The final chapter concerns little known films about communal agriculture in the Nottinghamshire village of Laxton the only one where the medieval open field system never suffered enclosure This survival of the commons anticipated resistance to the extreme and catastrophic forms of privatization monetization and theft of the public commonweal in the advanced form of capitalism we know as neoliberalism

Words Matter King-Kok Cheung, 2000-02-01 In this age of rapid transition Asian American studies and American studies in general are being reconfigured to reflect global migrations and the diverse populations of the United States Asian American literature in particular has embodied the crisis of identity that is at the heart of larger academic and political debates surrounding diversity and the inclusion and exclusion of immigrant and refugee groups These issues underlie the very principles on which literature culture and art are produced preserved taught and critiqued Words Matter is the first collection of interviews with 20th century Asian American writers The conversations that have been gathered here interviews with twenty writers possessing unique backgrounds perspectives thematic concerns and artistic priorities effectively dispel any easy categorizations of people of Asian descent These writers comment on their own work and speak frankly about aesthetics politics and the challenges they have encountered in pursuing a writing career They address among other issues the expectations attached to the label Asian American the burden of representation shouldered by ethnic artists and the different demands of mainstream and ethnic audiences

Trickster in the Land of Dreams Zeese Papanikolas, 1998-10-01 Zeese Papanikolas forges seemingly disparate events and movements in western history including some of its strangest and most exotic strains into a coherent whole by examining them against the laughter and wisdom of Shoshonean trickster tales Seen against these tales the West becomes both a canvas for the projection of utopian dreams and the site of their shattered remains Papanikolas undertakes a dramatic retelling of Shoshoni creation stories and examines along with other topics the mythologies embedded in the Dream Mine of Mormon folklore the heroic images of cowboys and

Wobblies the MX missile the dark side of Oz and the Las Vegas of tourists dam builders and gamblers Among those whose visions are played out against the mirage haunted background of the West are Cabeza de Vaca Winston Churchill Big Bill Haywood and Native American wise man Antelope Jake It is a testament to the power of Papanikolas's conception that he can weave the themes and topics of each chapter into a book that is both eloquent and intellectually stimulating Asian Diasporas Robbie B.H. Goh, Shawn Wong, 2004-03-01 Asian diasporas are all too often seen in terms of settlement problems in a host nation where the focus is on issues of crime housing employment racism and related concerns The essays in this volume view Asian diasporic movements in the context of globalization and global citizenship in which multiple cultural allegiances influences and claims together create complex negotiations of identity Examining a range of cultural documents through which such negotiations are conducted literature and other forms of writing media popular culture urban spaces military inscriptions and so on the essays in this volume explore the meanings and experiences involved in the two major Asian diasporic movements those of South and East Asia Contemporary Authors New Revision Series Scot Peacock, 2001-09 In response to the escalating need for up to date information on writers Contemporary Authors New Revision Series brings researchers the most recent data on the world's most popular authors These exciting and unique author profiles are essential to your holdings because sketches are entirely revised and up to date and completely replace the original Contemporary Authors entries For your convenience a soft cover cumulative index is sent biannually While Gale strives to replicate print content some content may not be available due to rights restrictions Call your Sales Rep for details
