The Incomplete European Market for Financial Services Paolo Cecchini, Friedrich Heinemann, Mathias Jopp, 2012-12-06 Looking back over the last decade it can be said with some justification that significant progress has been achieved on the way towards fully integrated financial markets in Europe. The 1993 Internal Market initiative and the Euro introduction in 1999/2002 constitute important milestones. The integration process has further been intensified by market developments like the surge in mergers and acquisitions and by technological innovations like internet-based distribution. As a result, some market segments today do no longer have a national character. Nevertheless, this success should not obscure the fact that integration of financial services markets is still a long way from the level of integration that exists within national markets. Particularly for retail financial services, national borders still constitute a considerable de facto barrier. The absence of frequent direct cross-border links between financial service providers and retail consumers holds true despite the fact that the Euro has made product comparisons easier and that the internet has reduced information costs to a considerable extent.

Dual Reporting for Equity and Other Comprehensive Income under IFRSs and U.S. GAAP Francesco Bellandi, 2012-05-21 Under IFRS, U.S. GAAP and the SEC rules and regulations, business enterprises must recognise, measure and disclose information regarding equity items on the face of the statement of financial position, other specific statements or in the notes to the financial statements. However, under both IFRS and U.S. GAAP, there is no all-inclusive general standard on stockholders' equity. This book clarifies the process of reporting stockholders' equity in a manner which can be reconciled under all the relevant standards. Not only has the author addressed the informational needs of the players in the accounting industry, he has also drawn, based on his vast experience, practical implications of reporting under both standards.
