Vaughan, 2023-05-24 Aviation books were a unique and prolific subgenre of American juvenile literature from the early to mid 20th century drawing upon the nation's intensifying interest. The first books of this type Harry L Sayler's series Airship Boys appeared shortly after the Wright brothers first successful flight in 1909 Following Charles Lindbergh's solo flight across the Atlantic popular series like Ted Scott and Andy Lane established the golden age of juvenile aviation literature This work examines the 375 juvenile aviation series titles published between 1909 and 1964 It weaves together several thematic threads including the placement of aviation narratives within the context of major historical events the technical accuracy in depictions of flying machines and the ways in which characters reflected the culture of their eras Three appendices provide publication data for each series a list of referenced aircraft and an annotated bibliography there is a full index Fusion Leadership Richard L. Does the bald man buy a comb the blind a mirror the deaf a flute the eunuch a concubine the landsman an oar the pilot a plough Or are you merely seizing an opportunity of displaying your wealth Is it just your way of showing the public that you can afford to spend money even on things that are of no use to you Why even a Syrian like myself knows that if you had not got your name foisted into that old man's will you would have been starving by this time and all your books must have been put up to sale After all it was nothing for an illiterate fool like you to take such a fancy into his head and walk about with his chin in the air aping the gait and dress and expression of his supposed model even the Epirote king Pyrrhus remarkable man that he was in other respects had the same foible and was persuaded by his flatterers that he looked like Alexander the Great Once Pyrrhus had got this fancy into his head that he was the look alike of Alexander everyone else ran mad for company till at last an old woman of Larissa who did not know Pyrrhus told him the plain truth and cured his delusion Come to your senses then while there is yet time sell your library to some scholar and while you are about it sell your new house too and wipe off part of your debt to the slave dealers Books cannot mask the deficiencies of your education by throwing dust in our eyes You are exactly like the quack doctors who provide themselves with silver cupping glasses gold handled lancets and ivory cases for their instruments they are guite incapable of using them when the time comes and have to give place to some properly qualified surgeon who produces a lancet with a keen edge and a rusty handle and affords immediate relief to the sufferer Carry on buying books then and reap the glory that comes of possessions only let that be enough presume not to touch nor read pollute not with that tongue the poetry and eloquence of the ancients what harm have they ever done to you 5 Lucian puts up various philosophers for sale by auction in a slave market Bring up the lots and put them in line said Zeus Give them a rub up first though we must have them looking their best to attract bidders Pythagoras was sold for 40 pounds Diogenes was sold cheaply for just 3 pence No bids were placed for a Cyrenaic philosopher No bids were placed for Democritus and Heraclitus Socrates was sold to Dion of Syracuse for 500 pounds Epicureanism was sold for 8 pounds Chrysippus was sold to a pool of shareholders for 50 pounds A Peripatetic slave was sold for 80 pounds A sceptic slave kept wrangling with his new master 6 Lucian's diatribe on true philosophy and her counterfeits An autobiographic sequel to the sale of philosophers where Lucian who has taken upon him the name of rhetorician Parrhesiades continues satirising the philosophers of the Hellenistic period 7 Ignorance and assumption stretching out a hand to slander Lucian elucidates the origin nature and dreadful consequences of slander Ignorance is the source of endless human woes spreading a mist over facts obscuring truth and casting a dark gloom everywhere Whatever we do we are perpetually slipping about Ptolemy IV Philopator the fourth pharaoh of Ptolemaic Egypt was not distinguished for sagacity he had been brought up on a royal diet of adulation The malicious slander of Apelles so inflamed his prejudice and carried him away that the underwhelming strength of the case never struck him Slander is an undefended indictment concealed from its object and owing its success to one sided half informed procedure Listen not to a tale bearer for as he discoverers the secrets of others so he will yours in turn says Socrates Of all the ills that flesh is heir to none is more grievous or more iniquitous than that a man should be condemned unjudged and unheard Slander would never do the harm it does if it were not made plausible it would never prevail against truth that strongest of all things if it were not dressed up into really attractive bait The venom has entered the ear and inflamed the brain the hearer does not wait for confirmation but abandons his friend The slanderer finds out where the soul is weak or corrupt or accessible there makes his assault there applies his engines and enters at a point where there are no defenders to mark his approach Once in he soon has all in flames We all delight in whisperings and insinuations I know people whose ears are as agreeably titillated with slander as their skin with a feather The slanderer's tactics include deceit falsehood perjury insinuation presumption and a thousand other hereditary evils and moral infirmities But the chief of them all is flattery sister of the calumniator and crafty machinator Supported by all these allies the slanderer's attack prevails there is no defence or resistance to the assault the hearer surrenders without reluctance and the slandered knows nothing of what is going on as when a town is stormed by night he has his throat cut in his sleep. There are those who if they subsequently learn that they have condemned a friend in error are too much ashamed of their error and avoid looking at him in the face again you might suppose the discovery of his innocence was a personal injury to them What then should we men of sense and decency do We should shut our ears to those siren voices that allure and ensnare the mind and sail past the ear charmers Thus shielded from calumny and prejudice we should practise proper discrimination and judgement and above all charity to each other s faults Works John Ruskin, 1883 The Seven Lamps of Architecture John Ruskin, 1885
