Coventinas Well A Shrine On Hadrians Wall:

Coventina's Well Lindsay Allason-Jones, Bruce McKay, 1985 Reassessment of the nineteenth century finds from a shrine on Hadrian's wall      Frontiers of the Roman Empire: Hadrian's Wall David J. Breeze, 2023-09-22 This highly illustrated book offers an accessible summary of Hadrian's Wall and an overview of the wider context of the Roman frontiers

Excavations Along Hadrian's Wall 2019-2021 Rob Collins, Jane Harrison, 2024-04-30 This study focuses on the fabric construction and preservation of stretches of Hadrian's Wall in its more remote locations providing significant insights into the places between the mile castles and important forts and associated settlements The Hadrian's Wall Community Archaeology Project WallCAP conducted a series of fieldwork projects along the Hadrian's Wall corridor between 2019 and 2021 The work focused on sites that were poorly understood or under particular threat and aimed to improve understanding of them so they could be better managed in future At several sites excavation was followed by conservation and consolidation work This volume brings together the final reports of these excavations at six Roman sites in the Wall corridor As the sites were spread along the length of the Wall the character and afterlife of the Wall in very different landscape locations could be compared An assessment of the Vallum at Heddon on the Wall identified how earthwork archaeology survived in a sloped heavily ploughed landscape Three excavations investigated the condition of the stone Wall curtain at Port Carlisle Walltown Crags and Steel Rigg and Cats Stairs At each site the Wall builders had responded to the demands of the local terrain and made use of local resources At each site the Wall had a different post Roman history Excavations at the bridging point of the Cam Beck revealed for the first time how the Wall was carried over a minor watercourse and discovered traces of the Turf Wall Small buildings were also identified just south of the Wall as it approached the bridge At Corbridge Roman town excavations on the northern periphery of the settlement demonstrated that from early in its history the most northerly town in Europe was of considerable extent The area investigated showed that even at the edge of town shops lined the roads alongside well appointed houses with bustling yards Later on in the Roman period the town contracted behind walls and cremation burials were inserted by the road Each site is reported on independently presenting the primary data for each investigation The volume concludes with a synthetic analysis of what the results of these excavations together reveal about Hadrian's Wall considering amongst other things construction details and the decay and destruction of the monument in the centuries following Roman occupation      The Concept of the Goddess Sandra Billington, Miranda Green, 2002-09-11 The Concept of the Goddess explores the function and nature of goddesses and their cults in many cultures including Celtic Roman Norse Caucasian Japanese traditions The contributors explore the reasons for the existence of so many goddesses in the mythology of patriarchal societies and show that goddesses have also assumed more masculine roles with war hunting and sovereignty being equally important aspects of their cults      A Short Guide to Hadrian's Wall Andrew Tibbs, 2022-04-15 An accessible illustrated introduction to the history of sites located across the iconic location of Hadrian's

Wall      The Uley Shrines Ann Woodward, Peter Leach, 2014-06-15 These excavations at Uley provide evidence for a sequence of activities from Neolithic times to the seventh or eighth century AD Standing stones or massive posts the focus of an oval enclosure in a sacred clearing were replaced at the end of the Iron Age by enclosed timber shrines and pits containing votive objects In the early second century AD these were replaced by a Romano Celtic temple enlarged in the mid fourth century Around the temple were living quarters guest accommodation and shops A cult of the god Mercury is implied by a cult statue figurines altars a series of inscribed lead tablets and animal remains In the early fifth century a timber hall or church was built over the temple site Its replacement was in stone and also of Christian character Demolition deposits produced fragments of window glass of seventh or eighth century date More ephemeral structures were then built before the site was finally given over to agriculture There is discussion of other sacred sites in long term use the cult and plan of the Roman temple other temples in use at the end of the Roman period and the impact of early Christianity      Hadrian's Wall Richard Hingley, 2012-10-04 In Hadrian's Wall A Life Hingley addresses the post Roman history of Hadrian's Wall and considers the ways in which the monument has been imagined represented and researched from the sixth century to the internet With over 100 images it discusses the significant political cultural and religious role the Wall has played over the years      The Legionary Fortress at Wroxeter Graham Webster, 2014-06-30 The Roman legionary fortress at Wroxeter Viroconium Cornoviorum was built on a strategic crossing point on the River Severn Though the site of the Roman town had long been known through the presence of upstanding ruins the major excavations reported here have shown how the town plan was dominated by the underlying fortress This fortress had been established by Legio XIV c AD 60 and had then been partially rebuilt c AD 66 when the legion was replaced by Legio XX The fortress was downgraded in the late 70s to become a depot for stores before final abandonment c AD 90 The excavations produced extensive evidence for the laying out and construction of the legionary earth and timber defences and of an area within the fortress to the north of the via praetorian where mess halls barrack blocks and a storehouse were found as well as considerable quantities of coins metalwork pottery and glass      The Sanctuary at Bath in the Roman Empire Eleri H. Cousins, 2020-01-16 Using a broad array of archaeology art and text this book revolutionizes our understanding of the Roman sanctuary at Bath      The Intersection of Sacredness and Archaeology Donna L. Gillette, Thomas L. Sanders, 2024-10-01 At the point of the often contentious intersection of sacred site preservation and resource development archaeology has a unique and valuable role Archaeology has been criticized as a destroyer of sacred sites through the unbridled pursuit of knowledge through excavation or aiding unbridled development by failing to identify sacred sites However archaeology can act as a mitigator between the conflicting goals of preservation and development while giving the indigenous a voice At the heart of this mitigation is understanding the sacred how it might be physically manifested how those of diverse cultures understand it and how it is effected by the laws and norms of diverse cultures The purpose of this book is to enhance the discussion surrounding contemporary human interaction with our natural and cultural landscape Its first goal is make this discussion more productive and less contentious by presenting and thus recognizing the cultural ways of knowing and perspectives of indigenous people Its second goal is to foster the preservation of our scared landscape As more and more of our physical landscape is being altered worldwide through rapid growth and development the cultural landscape is also being changed and challenged These changes often reflect the interests of some members of society while the interests of others including those of Native and Indigenous communities and many archaeologists environmentalists and others who understand the importance of knowing the past are disregarded The latter group is dedicated toward preserving special places and continuing to provide for Native people the ability to celebrate their traditions and focusing on defining the sacred landscape

The Chalice of Magdalene Graham Phillips,2004-01-30 Reveals the discovery of an artifact that many experts believe may be the Holy Grail Traces the journey of the Grail from the Holy Land to Rome and eventually to a ruined chapel in Shropshire England Uncovers new evidence identifying the historical King Arthur and his connection to the Holy Grail The popular Arthurian stories of the Middle Ages depict the Holy Grail as Christ s cup from the Last Supper which was believed to have been endowed with miraculous healing powers and the ability to give eternal life to whoever drank from it A much earlier tradition however claimed the Grail was the vessel used by Mary Magdalene to collect Christ s blood when he appeared to her after rising from the tomb While many vessels were claimed to have been the true Grail there was only one thought to have been the chalice used by Mary From Jesus empty tomb where it remained for almost 400 years this holy relic known as the Marian Chalice was taken to Rome by the mother of the first Christian emperor Constantine the Great It was then smuggled from Rome in 410 A D according to the fifth century historian Olympiodorus to save it from the barbarians who sacked the city Well into the Middle Ages legend persisted that it had been taken to safety in Britain the last outpost of Roman civilization in Western Europe This journey to England and what happened to the Chalice there is the focus of this book Graham Phillips s research uncovers the secret legacy of an ancient noble family over generations and a trail of clues hidden in the English countryside that lead to a mysterious grotto a forgotten attic and the lost chalice In tracing the relic Phillips offers the inside story behind an astonishing adventure that results in the identification of the historical King Arthur and the location of one of the most powerful symbols in Western tradition

Artefacts in Roman Britain Lindsay Allason-Jones,2011-02-10 Helps the student understand the numerous artefacts from Roman Britain and what they reveal about life in the province

Ancient Medicine Vivian Nutton,2023-12-14 The third edition of this magisterial account of medicine in the Greek and Roman worlds written by the foremost expert on the subject has been updated to incorporate the many new discoveries made in the field over the past decade This revised volume includes discussions of several new or forgotten works by Galen and his contemporaries as well as of new archaeological material RNA analysis has expanded our understanding of disease in the ancient world the book explores the consequences of this for sufferers for example in creating disability Nutton also expands upon the treatment of pre Galenic medicine in Greece and Rome In addition subtitles and a chronology will make for easier student consultation and the bibliography is substantially revised and updated providing avenues for future student research This third edition of Ancient Medicine will remain the definitive textbook on the subject for students of medicine in the classical world and the history of medicine and science more broadly with much to interest scholars in the field as well

Myths and Symbols in Pagan Europe Hilda Roderick Ellis Davidson,1988

Roman Britain Timothy W. Potter,Catherine Johns,1992-01-01

Pieces together archaeological evidence with fragmentary writings of Caesar Tacitus and others to give a picture of Roman Britain

The Roman Baths and Macellum at Wroxeter Peter Ellis,2014-04-15 Excavations by Graham Webster at Wroxeter Viroconium Cornoviorum were undertaken on the southern part of the insula containing the baths and market hall macellum the latter one of few known in the province The excavations enable the construction sequence and function of these major public buildings to be unravelled and analysed in detail on an insula untouched by medieval or later buildings The work revealed that timber framed buildings constructed c AD 90 and fronting on Watling Street were swept away to accommodate the public buildings which were built over several decades between the 120s and 160s Changes were introduced in the third century when a swimming pool natatio was filled in and an additional baths suite was built in the exercise yard to one side of the main baths complex Excavations in the street porticoes and on Watling Street revealed a continued use of some of the buildings into the fifth century after their original functions had ceased The artefact and environmental finds reports are on material deriving mainly from the initial building campaign but with some third century groups The report includes an edition and compilation of the accounts of the nineteenth century excavations by Thomas Wright and others

Iron Age and Roman Coin Hoards in Britain Roger Bland,Adrian Chadwick,Colin Haselgrove,David Mattingly,2020-06-30 More coin hoards have been recorded from Roman Britain than from any other province of the Empire This comprehensive and lavishly illustrated volume provides a survey of over 3260 hoards of Iron Age and Roman coins found in England and Wales with a detailed analysis and discussion Theories of hoarding and deposition and examined national and regional patterns in the landscape settings of coin hoards presented together with an analysis of those hoards whose findspots were surveyed and of those hoards found in archaeological excavations It also includes an unprecedented examination of the containers in which coin hoards were buried and the objects found with them The patterns of hoarding in Britain from the late 2nd century BC to the 5th century AD are discussed The volume also provides a survey of Britain in the 3rd century AD as a peak of over 700 hoards are known from the period from AD 253 296 This has been a particular focus of the project which has been a collaborative research venture between the University of Leicester and the British Museum funded by the AHRC The aim has been to understand the reasons behind the burial and non recovery of these finds A comprehensive online database <https://finds.org.uk/database> underpins the project which also undertook a comprehensive GIS analysis of all the hoards and field surveys of a sample of them

Papers from the conference The Archaeology of Late Antique Paganism held in 2005 in Leuven      The Jewellery Of Roman Britain Dr Catherine Johns, Catherine Johns, 2013-02-01 This work provides a survey of the jewellery of Roman Britain Fully illustrated and accessible to both the specialist and amateur enthusiast it surveys the full range of personal ornament worn in Britain during the Roman period the 1st to 4th centuries AD It emphasizes the presence of two distinct cultural and artistic traditions the classical element introduced by the Romans and the indigeneous Celtic background The interaction of these traditions affected all aspects of Romano British life and is illustrated in the jewellery The meaning and significance of personal ornament in a wide range of cultures is discussed including such matters as symbolism and the display of wealth and status The principal types of Romano British jewellery are classified in detail drawing attention to those which can be relatively closely dated The coverage is not restricted to precious metal objects but includes jewellery made of base metals and materials such as bone jet and glass The final chapter is devoted to the techniques of manufacture a subject which has become better understood in recent years as a result of scientific advances The book should appeal to anyone who practices teaches or studies Roman archaeology together with all those with a professional or amateur interest in the history of jewellery and design      Water and Roman Urbanism Adam Rogers, 2013-04-15 Water and Roman Urbanism Towns Waterscapes Land Transformation and Experience in Roman Britain offers a new perspective for investigating Roman settlement and how urban spaces were created and experienced by focusing on the relationship between settlement and water and the meanings attributed to these places Rather than a descriptive approach to the urban fabric it emphasises social context and cultural meaning through interpretative frameworks of analysis Central are the cultural and experiential implications of water forming part of towns rather than economic and practical arguments and the way in which these places were used and altered over time The book emphasises a social approach and has considerable implications for our understanding of life in the Roman period as a whole
