Animals And Ancestors An Ethnography:

Animals and Ancestors Brian Morris, 2020-05-21 Ever since the emergence of human culture people and animals have co existed in close proximity Humans have always recognized both their kinship with animals and their fundamental differences as animals have always been a threat to humans well being The relationship therefore has been complex intimate reciprocal personal and crucially ambivalent It is hardly surprising that animals evoke strong emotions in humans both positive and negative This companion volume to Morris important earlier work The Power of Animals is a sustained investigation of the Malawi people s sacramental attitude to animals particularly the role that animals play in life cycle rituals their relationship to the divinity and to spirits of the dead How people relate to and use animals speaks volumes about their culture and beliefs This book overturns the ingrained prejudice within much ethnographic work which has often dismissed the pivotal role animals play in culture and shows that personhood religion and a wide range of rituals are informed by and even dependent upon human animal relations

Human-Animal Studies: Anthropology Margo DeMello, Molly Mullin, 2010-10-01 One in the series of Human Animal Studies ebooks produced as a result of the printed publication of the definitive HAS handbook Teaching the Animal Human Animal Studies across the Disciplines This chapter focuses on anthropology includes three course syllabi and has a full resources section covering all disciplines Contains Anthropology s Animals by Molly Mullin

Human-Animal Relations in Bronze Age Crete Andrew Shapland, 2022-05-12 Reassesses the animal depictions of Bronze Age Crete in terms of human animal relations rather than a love of nature

What are the Animals to Us? David Aftandilian, 2007 In What Are the Animals to Us scholars from a wide variety of academic disciplines explore the diverse meanings of animals in science religion folklore literature and art

The Archaeology of People Alisdair Whittle, 2003-09-02 Alasdair Whittle s new work argues powerfully for the complexity and fluidity of life in the Neolithic through a combination of archaeological and anthropological case studies and current theoretical debate The book ranges from the sixth to the fourth millennium BC and from the Great Hungarian Plain central and western Europe and the Alpine foreland to parts of southern Britain Familiar terms such as individuals agency identity and structure are dealt with but Professor Whittle emphasises that they are too abstract to be truly useful Instead he highlights the multiple dimensions which constituted Neolithic existence the web of daily routines group and individual identities relations with animals and active but varied attitudes to the past The result is a vivid original and perceptive understanding of the early Neolithic which will offer insights to readers at every level      Human-Animal Studies Margo DeMello,2012-04 An exhaustive listing of books journals articles films conferences college programs organizations and websites from the new and exciting discipline of Human Animal studies The information was gathered by leading academics in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences this is the only reference of its kind This project was completed in conjunction with the book Teaching the Animal      Animals and Society Margo DeMello,2021-04-13 Human animal studies is an interdisciplinary field that explores the spaces that animals occupy in human social and cultural worlds It examines the interactions humans and animals have with each other and the ways animal lives intersect with human societies Since existing social orders rely on the exploitation of animals to serve human needs the questions posed by human animal studies touch upon a wide range of fundamental issues Animals and Society provides a broad overview of this rapidly growing field Margo DeMello offers students and scholars a holistic and comprehensive picture of the state of inquiry into the relationships that exist between humans and other animals She considers interactions between animals and humans in social organizations such as the family the legal system and political and religious institutions A major focus is the social construction of animals in world cultures and the way in which these social meanings are used to reinforce and perpetuate hierarchical human relationships such as racism sexism and class privilege The book also examines how different human groups construct a range of identities for themselves and for others through animals This second edition of Animals and Society is fully updated and expanded throughout enhancing the book s relevance for student and activist readers alike It includes many new international examples all new case studies and updated supplementary readings      Teaching the Animal: The Social Sciences ,      Mesoamerican Osteobiographies Gabriel D. Wrobel,Andrea Cucina,2024-07-23 Drawing from a variety of sites throughout Mesoamerica this volume presents a collection of osteobiographies which analyze skeletons and their surroundings alongside historical archaeological ethnographic and other contextual data to better understand the life experiences of individuals      Conservation in the 21st Century: Gorillas as a Case Study T.S. Stoinski,H. D. Steklis,P.T. Mehlman,2009-07-09 Like other fields of science wildlife conservation is a changing field Threats facing wild populations of apes and other species say 20 years ago are likely not the same ones most pressing today and even where threats have remained unchanged more effective means of addressing them may be available now Conservation scientists have learned from many years of experience and both theoretical and technological advances today provide conservation tools not available in the past This volume identifies the primary problems faced in conserving wild populations of gorillas throughout Africa pinpointing new approaches to solving these problems and outlining the increased role that zoos can play in gorilla conservation It includes expertise of field scientists in a variety of disciplines to discuss current conservation threats novel approaches to conservation and potential solutions     The Macaque Connection Sindhu Radhakrishna, Michael A. Huffman, Anindya Sinha, 2012-08-27 The concept of this book arises from a symposium entitled Human Macaque Interactions Traditional and Modern Perspectives on Cooperation and Conflict organized at the 23rd Congress of the International Primatological Society that was held in Kyoto in September 2010 The symposium highlighted the many aspects of human macaque relations and some of the participants were invited to contribute to this volume The volume will include about 11 chapters by a variety of international authors and some excerpts from published literature that illustrate cultural notions of macaques Contributions from invited authors will engage with four main perspectives traditional views of macaques cooperative relationships between humans and macaques current scenarios of human macaque conflict and how living with and beside humans has affected macaques Authors will address these concerns through their research findings and reviews of their work on the Asian and the lone African macaques     Teaching the Animal ,     An African Worldview Ian D. Dicks, 2012 In this book Ian Dicks informs the reader about the ways in which the Yawo of Malawi view the world The Yawo are predominantly Muslim yet many maintain strong links with their traditional religion They are a largely oral society teaching and reinforcing their beliefs and practices using oral literature which includes myths proverbs proverbial stories songs of advice and prayers at various stages of the life cycle particularly during initiation events Ian Dicks describes in detail the Yawo s material world customs beliefs and rituals and juxtaposes these with Yawo oral literature He then examines them under six worldview categories the result being a rich description of the way in which the Yawo see the world This book is not an armchair study but has the feel of being written by an eyewitness by someone who has had first hand experience of the subject and who seeks to describe this in a manner which is sensitive to the Yawo and their culture     Totemism and Human-Animal Relations in West Africa Sharon Merz, 2021-03-29 This book explores human animal relations amongst the Bebelibe of West Africa with a focus on the establishment of totemic relationships with animals what these relationships entail and the consequences of abusing them Employing and developing the concepts of presencing and the ontological penumbra to shed light on the manner in which people make present and engage in the world around them including the shadowy spaces that have to be negotiated in order to make sense of the world the author shows how these concepts account for empathetic and intersubjective encounters with non human animals Grounded in rich ethnographic work Totemism and Human Animal Relations in West Africa offers a reappraisal of totemism and considers the implications of the ontological turn in understanding human animal relations As such it will appeal to anthropologists sociologists and anthrozoologists concerned with human animal interaction     Homage to Peasant Smallholders Brian Morris, 2022-07-22 This book offers the reader a portrait a representation no less of the social life and culture of the peasant smallholders of the Shire Highlands situated in Southern Malawi It explores the relationship between the people of the Shire Highlands and the natural landscape in all its diversity and dynamic complexity It is an ethnographic study focussing specifically on the peasant smallholders of the Highlands who constitute around 80 per cent of the current population and their complex multi faceted relationship to the land and its diverse biota

The Races of Man: An Outline of Anthropology and Ethnography Joseph Deniker, 2020-09-28

The innumerable groups of mankind massed together or scattered according to the varying nature of the earth s surface are far from presenting a homogeneous picture Every country has its own variety of physical type language manners and customs Thus in order to exhibit a systematic view of all the peoples of the earth it is necessary to observe a certain order in the study of these varieties and to define carefully what is meant by such and such a descriptive term having reference either to the physical type or to the social life of men This we shall do in the subsequent chapters as we proceed to develop this slight sketch of the chief general facts of the physical and psychical life of man and of the most striking social phenomena of the groups of mankind But there are some general terms which are of more importance than others and their meaning should be clearly understood from the first I refer to expressions like people nation tribe race species in short all the designations of the different groupings real or theoretic of human beings Having defined them we shall by so doing define the object of our studies Since ethnography and anthropology began to exist as sciences an attempt has been made to determine and establish the great groups amongst which humanity might be divided A considerable diversity of opinion however exists among leading scientific men not only as to the number of these groups of these primordial divisions of the human race but above all as to the very nature of these groups Their significance most frequently is very vaguely indicated In zoology when we proceed to classify we have to do with beings which in spite of slight individual differences are easily grouped around a certain number of types with well defined characters called species An animal can always be found which will represent the type of its species In all the great zoological collections there exist these species types to which individuals may be compared in order to decide if they belong to the supposed species We have then in zoology a real substratum for the determination of species those primordial units which are grouped afterwards in genera families orders etc

Nature Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-04-17

Nature Across Cultures Views of Nature and the Environment in Non Western Cultures consists of about 25 essays dealing with the environmental knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside of the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Indian Thai and Andean views of nature and the environment among others the book includes essays on Environmentalism and Images of the Other Traditional Ecological Knowledge Worldviews and Ecology Rethinking the Western non Western Divide and Landscape Nature and Culture The essays address the connections between nature and culture and relate the environmental practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both environmental history and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups      □□□□ ,2002      Trail of an Intellectual Nomad Brian Morris,2024-02-20 Leaving school at fifteen Brian Morris has had a and varied career in Malawi before becoming a university teacher Now Emeritus Professor of Anthropology at Goldsmiths College University of London he is the author of numerous articles and books on anthropology religion and symbolism hunter gatherer societies concepts of the individual and radical politics His most recent books are Homage to Peasant Smallholders Luviri Press 2022 and Anthropology and Dialectical Naturalism Black Rose 2022 After writing much about Anthropology Brian Morris finally shares about his life While in his youth the academic future seemed very dim an all consuming interest in nature was already there The author does not only share the formative experiences in Malawi and India but he also shares his intellectual development to become a Dialectical Anthropologist His travel and research experiences are fascinating and it is amazing how much fits into one life
