Animals in Islamic Tradition and Muslim Cultures Richard C. Foltz, 2006 This book the first of its kind surveys Islamic and Muslim attitudes toward animals and human responsibilities towards them through Islamic philosophy literature mysticism and art A must read for anyone interested in the debate on animal rights and responsible food production

Animals in Islamic Tradition and Muslim Cultures Richard Foltz, 2014-10-01 From references to animals in the Qur'an to modern day websites on Islamic vegetarianism Richard C Foltz presents the first comprehensive study of the role of animals in the Islamic tradition Drawing on a wide range of sources including classic mysticism Foltz traces the development of Islamic attitudes towards animals over the centuries and confronts the key ethical questions facing Muslims today Modern advances in science and technology and the increasing prevalence of techniques such as bioengineering and factory farming have forced many religions to reassess their traditional notions of animal rights and as Foltz demonstrates Muslims are increasingly asking their tradition to respond to such issues Scholarly yet accessible this is an original and informative contribution to Islamic studies and will be essential reading for anyone Muslim or non Muslim with an interest in the significance of religion and culture for the contemporary animal rights debate

Animals and Animality in the Babylonian Talmud Beth A. Berkowitz, 2018-04-19 This book offers new perspectives on animals and animality from the vantage point of the rabbis of the Babylonian Talmud

Animals in the Qur'an Sarra Tlili, 2012-08-13 Challenging the prevalent view this book illustrates the importance of animals in the Islamic tradition in which they are viewed as equal beings to humans

Animals, Race, and Multiculturalism Luís Cordeiro-Rodrigues, Les Mitchell, 2017-12-20 This book focuses on multiculturalism racism and the interests of nonhuman animals Each are in their own right rapidly growing and controversial fields of enquiry but how do multiculturalism and racism intersect with the debate concerning animals and their interests This a deceptively simple question but one that is becoming ever more pressing as we examine our societal practices in a pluralistic world Collating the work of a diverse group of academics from across the world the book includes writing on a wide range of subjects and addressing contemporary issues in this critical arena Subjects covered include multiculturalism group rights and the limits of tolerance ethnocentrism and animals racism and discrimination and non Western alternatives to animal rights and welfare The book will be of interest to researchers lecturers and advanced students as well as range of social justice organisations government institutions animal activist organisations and environmental groups

A Taste for Purity Julia Hauser, 2023-12-05 In nineteenth century Europe and North America an organized vegetarian movement began warning of the health risks and ethical problems of meat eating Presenting a vegetarian diet as a cure for the social ills brought on by industrialization and urbanization this movement idealized South Asia as a model In colonial India where diets were far more varied than Western admirers realized new motives for avoiding meat also took hold Hindu nationalists claimed that vegetarianism would cleanse the body for anticolonial resistance and an increasingly militant cow protection movement mobilized against meat eaters particularly Muslims Unearthing the connections among these developments and many others Julia Hauser explores the global history of vegetarianism from the mid nineteenth century to the early Cold War She traces personal networks and exchanges of knowledge spanning Europe the United States and South Asia highlighting mutual influence as well as the disconnects of cross cultural encounters Hauser argues that vegetarianism in this period was motivated by expansive visions of moral physical and even racial purification Adherents were convinced that society could be changed by transforming the body of the individual Hauser demonstrates that vegetarians in India and the West shared notions of purity which drew some toward not only internationalism and anticolonialism but also racism nationalism and violence Finding preoccupations with race and masculinity as well as links to colonialism and eugenics she reveals the implication of vegetarian movements in exclusionary hierarchical projects Deeply researched and compellingly argued A Taste for Purity rewrites the history of vegetarianism on a global scale That All May Flourish Laura M. Hartman, 2018 Can humans flourish without destroying the earth In this book experts on many of the world's major and minor religious traditions address the question of human and earth flourishing Each chapter considers specific religious ideas and specific environmental harms Chapters are paired and the authors work in dialogue with one another Taken together the chapters reveal that the question of flourishing is deceptively simple Most would agree that humans should flourish without destroying the earth But not all humans have equal opportunities to flourish Additionally on a basic physical level any human flourishing must of necessity cause some harm These considerations of the price and distribution of flourishing raise unique questions about the status of humans and nature This book represents a step toward reconciliation that people and their ecosystems may live in peace that people from different religious worldviews may engage in productive dialogue in short that all may flourish Animals and World Religions Lisa Kemmerer, 2012-01-19 Despite increasing public attention to animal suffering human beings continue to exploit billions of animals in factory farms medical laboratories and elsewhere This wide ranging study shows how spiritual teachings in seven major religious traditions can help people consider their ethical obligations towards other creatures Animals Peter Adamson, G. Fay Edwards, 2018 Philosophical controversy over non human animals extends further back than many realize before Utilitarianism and Darwinism to the very genesis of philosophy This volume examines the richness and complexity of that long history Twelve essays trace the significance of animals from Greek and Indian antiquity through the Islamic and Latin medieval traditions to Renaissance and early modern thought ending with contemporary notions about animals Two main questions emerge throughout the volume what capacities can be ascribed to animals and how should we treat them Notoriously ungenerous attitudes towards animals mental lives and ethics status found for instance in Aristotle and Descartes are shown to have been more nuanced than often supposed while remarkable defenses of benevolence towards animals are unearthed in late antiquity India the Islamic world and Kant Other chapters examine cannibalism and vegetarianism in Renaissance thought and the scientific testing of animals A series of interdisciplinary reflections sheds further light on human attitudes towards animals looking at their depiction in visual artworks from China Africa and Europe as well as the rich tradition of animal fables beginning with Aesop Beekeeping in the End Times Larisa Jašarević, 2024-03-05 Every hundred years as the story goes two angels wonder out loud whether the bees are still swarming For as long as the bees are swarming the angels are reassured the world holds together Still the tale suggests the angels live in anxious anticipation of the End Local beekeepers in Bosnia and Herzegovina retell the old tale with growing unease as their honeybees weather the ground effects of climate change Beekeeping in the End Times relates extreme weather events and quieter disasters that have been altering honey ecologies across Bosnia and Herzegovina since 2014 While world wide endangerment of pollinators and bees in particular has been the subject of much global concern effects of climate change on the indispensable honeybees remain understudied Drawing on a five year long study the book suggests that local apiarists field observations resonate with many climate biologists concerns and speculations about the future of plant bee relations on the warming planet Local practice also adds to the record complex and puzzling trends that make honey scarce in otherwise lush biodiverse landscapes To Bosnian Muslims honeybees are more than pollinators They are inspired beings whose honey is another form of divinely revelation To appreciate the meaning of honeybees and to grasp the dire ecological catastrophe underway Jašarević reads contemporary environmental writings and Sufi texts she listens to the seasoned beekeepers and collects local wisdom tales From start to finish Jašarević pores over key Islamic texts the Quran and the Hadith and their popular retellings The Islamic end times lore the book proposes holds surprising lessons on how to live and strive in the not yet stalling the apocalypse What Animals Teach Us about Families Beth A.

Berkowitz, 2026-01-06 Reading the Bible and rabbinic literature to reimagine the bonds between animals Moving beyond debates about the ethics of animal consumption to focus on animals intimate lives Beth A Berkowitz examines the contribution of religious traditions and sacred texts to contemporary conversations about animals Reading the four animal family laws of the Bible alongside their rabbinic interpretations from ancient times to today she examines the bonds that animals form with each other and reimagines family to include new forms of life and alternative modes of kinship Humanitarian politics and biblical law tend to take for granted that human interests supersede animal interests and that our moral obligation extends only to avoiding unnecessary suffering but necessity is determined by humans What Animals Teach Us About Families looks at animal emotions animal agency family diversity and human response to reconsider the obligations and opportunities the animal family presents Animal Rights Paul Waldau, 2010-12-31 In this compelling volume in the What Everyone Needs to Know series Paul Waldau expertly navigates in an even handed survey the many heated debates surrounding the complex and controversial animal rights movement He looks at the concerns surrounding different types of animals the philosophical and legal arguments that form the basis of animal rights the history of animal protection the political and social realities facing animals today key figures and organizations in the animal rights movement and animal rights legislation and public policy around the world With its multidisciplinary non ideological focus and all inclusive coverage Animal Rights represents the definitive survey of the animal rights movement Teaching the Animal ,

Animals and their Relation to Gods, Humans and Things in the Ancient World Raija Mattila,Sanae Ito,Sebastian Fink,2019-03-11 While Human Animal Studies is a rapidly growing field in modern history studies on this topic that focus on the Ancient World are few The present volume aims at closing this gap It investigates the relation between humans animals gods and things with a special focus on the structure of these categories An improved understanding of the ancient categories themselves is a precondition for any investigation into the relation between them The focus of the volume lies on the Ancient Near East but it also provides studies on Ancient Greece Asia Minor Mesoamerica the Far East and Arabia

Teaching the Animal: The Social Sciences , Designer Animals Conrad Brunk,Sarah Hartley,2012-02-10 Designer Animals is an in depth study of the debates surrounding the development of animal biotechnology which is quickly emerging out of the laboratory and into the commercial marketplace This book innovatively combines expert analysis on the technology s economic professional ethical and religious implications while remaining firmly grounded in the real world political environment in which the issue is played out Designer Animals uses non technical language to explore the science behind animal biotechnology and the ethical frameworks at play in its surrounding debates By investigating the interests of major stakeholders including researchers on the cutting edge of science mainstream and alternative agriculture organizations the animal welfare movement and health care providers patients and researchers the contributors illuminate the most important points of agreement and disagreement on this hotly contested topic Learning Love from a Tiger Daniel

Capper,2016-04-19 Learning Love from a Tiger explores the vibrancy and variety of humans sacred encounters with the natural world gathering a range of stories culled from Christian Muslim Hindu Mayan Himalayan Buddhist and Chinese shamanic traditions Readers will delight in tales of house cats who teach monks how to meditate shamans who shape shift into jaguars crickets who perform Catholic mass rivers that grant salvation and many others In addition to being a collection of wonderful stories this book introduces important concepts and approaches that underlie much recent work in environmental ethics religion and ecology Daniel Capper s light touch prompts readers to engage their own views of humanity s place in the natural world and question longstanding assumptions of human superiority The Palgrave Handbook on the Problem of Animal Suffering in the Philosophy of Religion B. Kyle Keltz,2025-07-28 Atheists argue that animal pain disease suffering and death cause a problem for theism because they believe that an all knowing all powerful and all good God would not use millions of years of animal suffering just to make a world suitable for humans Animal suffering was not a concern for theism through the medieval period but it has been increasingly discussed in philosophy of religion since modern times and there is especially a large and growing amount of literature on this subject that has been published in the last few decades This handbook serves as a guide for those interested in the literature on the problem by bringing together experts in the philosophy of religion theology environmental ethics and the philosophy of animal minds It not only presents major formulations of the problem of animal suffering and major theodicies but it also discusses metaethical issues regarding animal suffering the question of animal consciousness and self awareness and their implications for animal suffering and what implications available theodicies might have for animal ethics

Human-Animal Studies Margo DeMello, 2012-04 An exhaustive listing of books journals articles films conferences college programs organizations and websites from the new and exciting discipline of Human Animal studies The information was gathered by leading academics in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences this is the only reference of its kind This project was completed in conjunction with the book Teaching the Animal
