Ann Hamilton. Present-past 1984-1997. Ediz. francese e inglese Ann Hamilton, 1998 The notion of the separation between spirit and matter inferiority and exteriority that runs through all of Western philosophy is the starting point for the work of the American artist Ann Hamilton Trained as a sculptor Ann Hamilton has always strived to reconcile body and soul thought and matter the living and the inanimate by creating works that have a great physicality made with everyday objects organic animal vegetable and human materials which create a sort of microcosm of the vast outer world capable of arousing in the viewer emotions recollections and sensations With the introduction by Thierry Raspail and the essays by Jean Pierre Criqui Patricia C Phillips and Thierry Prat the book spans thirteen years of the American artist's career from her first exhibition in New York in 1984 up to her most recent works featuring a selection of the most representative productions from her early video films and photographs to her latest inspiring creations

Modern Sculpture Douglas Dreishpoon, 2022-10-25 Artists of any ilk can be extremely opinionated when it comes to what they do how they do it and what it might mean Sculptors are no exception Modern Sculpture Artists in Their Own Words presents a selection of manifestos documents statements articles and interviews from more than ninety subjects including an ample selection of contemporary sculptors With this book editor Douglas Dreishpoon defers to sculptors whose varied points of view illuminate the medium's perpetual transformation from object to action concept to phenomenon over the course of two centuries Each chapter progresses in chronological sequence to highlight the dominant stylistic philosophical and thematic threads that unite each kindred group The result is a distinctive artist centric history and survey of sculpture that showcases the expansive dimensions and malleability of the medium

After the Revolution Eleanor Heartney, Helaine Posner, Nancy Princenthal, Sue Scott, 2013-11-04 Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists asked the prominent art historian Linda Nochlin in a provocative 1971 essay Today her insightful critique serves as a benchmark against which the progress of women artists may be measured In this book four prominent critics and curators describe the impact of women artists on contemporary art since the advent of the feminist movement

Making Memory Matter Lisa Saltzman, 2006-10-02 In an ancient account of painting's origins a woman traces the shadow of her departing lover on the wall in an act that anticipates future grief and commemoration Lisa Saltzman shows here that nearly two thousand years after this story was first told contemporary artists are returning to similar strategies of remembrance ranging from vaudevillian silhouettes and sepulchral casts to incinerated architectures and ghostly processions Exploring these artists work Saltzman demonstrates that their methods have now eclipsed painting and traditional sculpture as preeminent forms of visual representation She pays particular attention to the groundbreaking art of Krzysztof Wodiczko who is known for his projections of historical subjects Kara Walker who creates powerful silhouetted images of racial violence in American history and Rachel Whiteread whose work centers on making casts of empty interior spaces Each of the artists Saltzman discusses is struggling with the roles that history and memory have come to play in an age when any historical statement is subject to question and doubt In identifying this new and powerful movement she provides a framework for understanding the art of our time
