Anna Teller:

Anna Teller Jo Sinclair, 1992 Highly praised at its first publication in 1960 Anna Teller is the story of 75 years in the life of a Jewish Hungarian family from their roots in Europe through the separate migrations of the son and the mother into the U S and their eventual reconciliation A fascinating story Kirkus Reviews American Night Alan M. Wald, 2012-10-15 American Night the final volume of an unprecedented trilogy brings Alan Wald's multigenerational history of Communist writers to a poignant climax Using new research to explore the intimate lives of novelists poets and critics during the Cold War Wald reveals a radical community longing for the rebirth of the social vision of the 1930s and struggling with a loss of moral certainty as the Communist worldview was being called into question The resulting literature Wald shows is a haunting record of fracture and struggle linked by common structures of feeling ones more suggestive of the negative dialectics of Theodor Adorno than the traditional social realism of the Left Establishing new points of contact among Kenneth Fearing Ann Petry Alexander Saxton Richard Wright Jo Sinclair Thomas McGrath and Carlos Bulosan Wald argues that these writers were in dialogue with psychoanalysis existentialism and postwar modernism often generating moods of piercing emotional acuity and cosmic dissent He also recounts the contributions of lesser known cultural workers with a unique accent on gays and lesbians secular Jews and people of color The vexing ambiguities of an era Wald labels late antifascism serve to frame an impressive collective biography The Seasons Jo Sinclair, 1993 As a novelist concerned with issues of gender social class and ethnicity Jo Sinclair has won coveted literary prizes and a devoted following Now in this extraordinary memoir she relates a tale as fascinating and as moving as any work of fiction At the center of Sinclair's story is her relationship with Helen Buchman a middle class wife and mother with a passion for literature and gardening The two women couldn't have been more different Buchman despite suffering from diabetes was self-assured cultured stable Sinclair on the other hand was a product of the Jewish ghetto carrying a host of emotional and spiritual scars Nevertheless when Buchman invited the young woman into her home in the 1940s the two developed an intense relationship Buchman became both best friend and mentor encouraging Sinclair's writing and passing along a sense of the spiritual nature of gardening The book deals not only with these early formative years but also with Sinclair's struggle to accept her friend's death in 1963 her triumph over alcoholism and her ultimate transfiguration as an accomplished author What America Read Gordon Hutner, 2009 Despite the vigorous study of modern American fiction today's readers are only familiar with a partial shelf of a vast library Gordon Hutner describes the distorted canonized history of the twentieth century American novel as a record of modern classic Women Writers in the United States Cynthia J. Davis, Kathryn West, 1996 Women Writers in the United States is a celebration of the many forms of work written and social tangible and intangible produced by American women Furthering their work in The Oxford Companion to Women's Writing in the United States Davis and West document the variety and volume of women's work in the United States in a clear and accessible timeline format They present information on the full spectrum of women's writing including fiction poetry biography political manifestos essays advice columns and cookbooks alongside a chronology of developments in social and cultural history that are especially pertinent to women's lives This extensive chronology illustrates the diversity of women who have lived and written in the United States and creates a sense of the full trajectory of individual careers A valuable and rich source of information on women's studies literature and history Women Writers in the United States will enable readers to locate familiar and unfamiliar women's texts and to place them in the context out of which they emerged

The History of Abraham Isaacse Ver Planck William Edward Ver Planck, 1893

Now in November Josephine Johnson, 1991 Poetic evocative and savage this Pulitzer Prize winning first novel 1934 depicts a white middle class urban family that becomes dirt poor farmers as a result of the Depression and the great drought of the 1930s The novel moves through the seasons of a single year and at the same time a decade of years from the spring arrival of the family to winter ten years later when they have faced the ravages of drought fire and personal anguish Like Ethan Frome the story evokes the torment possible among people isolated and driven by powerful but unexpressed feelings of love and hate
