Anne Tallentire Irish Museum of Modern Art (Kilmainham, Dublin, Ireland), Anne Tallentire, Rachael Thomas, Karen Sweeney, 2010 Anne Tallentire Fisher CARTER, 2023-05-03 This new monograph on Anne Tallentire offers the most comprehensive overview of the legendary conceptual artist's work to date spanning the last ten years of her practice. The publication includes new essays by Chris Fite, Wassilak Joseph Noonan, Ganley Sara Greavu, Lawrence Leaman, Lisa Panting and Adrian Rifkin, a text work by Sarah Jones, an interview with Jaki Irvine, a reprinted essay by the late Jean Fisher and a foreword by Ros Carter and Hugh Mulholland. The book is also edited by Alex Bennett and designed by Daly Lyon. Tallentire encourages us to think again about the spaces and environment that we inhabit. Questions of how we occupy both public and private space are brought to the fore in works that utilise everyday materials, systems and structures. Anne Tallentire b County Armagh Northern Ireland has lived and worked in London since the 1980s. She has exhibited extensively in the UK and internationally and is Professor Emerita at Central St Martins London where she taught from the early 1990s to 2014. Performance Art in Ireland Aine Phillips, 2015-01-01 This book, the first devoted to the history and contemporary forms of Irish performance art in the north and south of Ireland, brings together contributions by prominent Irish artists and major academics. It features rigorous critical and theoretical analysis as well as historical commentaries that provide an absorbing sense of the rich histories of performance art in Ireland. Presenting diverse visual documentation of performance art practices, this collection shows how performance art in Ireland engaged with and in turn influenced and led contemporary performance and Live Art internationally. Co-published with Live Art Development Agency Anne Tallentire Lucia Pietroiusti, 2010 Spatialities Judith Rugg, Craig Martin, 2012-01-01 Spatialities draws on a distinguished panel of artists, cultural theorists, architects and geographers to offer a nuanced conceptual framework for understanding the ever-evolving spatial orderings that materially constitute our world. With chapters covering a wide range of topics including the interstitial, the liminal and relational processes of deformation and distribution and stratification as a means of spatial reflection, this volume shows space to be less a defining category and more an abstract terrain whose boundaries may be continually deconstructed and reassembled Life is More Important Than Art Gilane Tawadros, 2007 Based on a series of interviews with artists spanning at least three generations, this book investigates the current conditions for making and presenting contemporary art. Women Framing Hair Heather Hanna, 2015-05-13 This book explores the complex and enigmatic motif of hair in the work of five contemporary women artists Chrystl Rijkeboer Alice Maher Annegret Soltau Kathy Prendergast and Ellen Gallagher from the late 1970s to the present It investigates why hair is such a productive and resonant site of meaning how it is suggestive of and responds to serial strategies and why it appears to be of particular significance to women who are artists It explores the implications of hair as an embodied material its role as a haptic metaphor of the life cycle and what might be seen as a darker more liminal side of hair as a site of excess and body waste and its ability to represent trauma and wounding It also discusses some of the divergent histories of hair as a rich marker of identity in cultural discourses of beauty myth and femininity and as a symbol of status and power Informed by a range of theoretical approaches this book draws on Julia Kristeva's theorizations of the abject Hélène Cixous's notion of écriture féminine and a Deleuzian consideration of difference

Anna Tallentire Anne Tallentire, 2020 Performing Human Rights Anika Marschall, 2023-08-04 This book enhances critical perspectives on human rights through the lens of performance studies and argues that contemporary artistic interventions can contribute to our understanding of human rights as a critical and embodied doing This study is situated in the contemporary discourse of asylum and political art practices It argues for the need to reimagine human rights as performative and embodied forms of recognition and practical honouring of our shared vulnerability and co dependency It contributes to the debate of theatre and migration by understanding that contemporary asylum issues are complex and context specific and that they do not only pertain to the refugee migrant asylum seeker or stateless person but also to privileged constituencies institutional structures forms of organisation and assembly The book presents a unique mixed methods approach that focuses equally on performance analyses and on political philosophy critical legal studies and art history and thus speaks to a range of politically interested scholars in all four fields

After Criticism Gavin Butt, 2008-04-15 It has recently become apparent that criticism has fallen on hard times Either commodification is deemed to have killed it off or it has become institutionally routine This book explores contemporary approaches which have sought to renew criticism's energies in the wake of a theatrical turn in recent visual arts practice and the emergence of a performative arts writing over the past decade or so Issues addressed include the performing of art's histories the consequences for criticism of embracing boredom distraction and other queer forms of inattention and the importance of exploring writerly process in responding to aesthetic experience Bringing together newly commissioned work from the fields of art history performance studies and visual culture with the writings of contemporary artists After Criticism provides a set of experimental essays which demonstrate how the critical might live on as a vital and efficacious force within contemporary culture
