Annotated Bibliography Of Mascarene Plant Life:

Annotated Bibliography of Mascarene Plant Life David H. Lorence, R. E. Vaughan, 1992 Guide to Standard Floras of the World David G. Frodin, 2001-06-14 This 2001 book provides a selective annotated bibliography of the principal floras and related works of inventory for vascular plants. The second edition was completely updated and expanded to take into account the substantial literature of the late twentieth century and features a more fully developed review of the history of floristic documentation. The works covered are principally specialist publications such as floras, checklists, distribution atlases, systematic iconographies and enumerations or catalogues, although a relatively few more popularly oriented books are also included. The Guide is organised in ten geographical divisions with these successively divided into regions and units, each of which is prefaced with a historical review of floristic studies. In addition to the bibliography, the book includes general chapters on botanical bibliography, the history of floras and general principles and current trends, plus an appendix on bibliographic searching, a lexicon of serial abbreviations and author and geographical indexes. Blumea, 1994

Collecting Plant Genetic Diversity Luigi Guarino, V. Ramanatha Rao, Robert Reid, 1995 Loss of plant diversity: a call for action. List of acronyms and abbreviations. Before setting out. In the field. Back at base. Case studies. Dodo. Anna TC Feistner, Jeremy JC Mallinson, 2007. Bitika, which means tiny in Malagasy, is a mouse lemur, the earth's smallest primate. This story is about baby Bitika growing up and her first forays into the forest where she encounters other lemurs and a potentially tragic situation. Bitika saves the day and in spite of her small size feels like a powerful creature of the forest. The History of Natural History Gavin D. R. Bridson, 1994. Plant Collectors in Madagascar and the Comoro Islands. Laurence J. Dorr, 1997. Madagascar and the Comoro Islands have an unusual, highly endemic and rich flora. This single volume is a guide to the collections and literature relating to these islands' unique and vanishing plant life. It provides biographical and bibliographical information on over 1 000 individuals who have collected herbarium specimens in these islands. Entries contain references to portraits, itineraries, collecting companions and examples of handwriting, as well as information on the location of exsiccatae, herbarium specimens and manuscript materials. Lost Land of the Dodo Anthony Cheke, Julian P. Hume, 2010-06-30. The Mascarene islands in the southern Indian Ocean (Mauritius, Réunion and Rodrigues) were once home to an extraordinary range of birds and reptiles. Evolving on these isolated volcanic islands in the absence of mammalian predators or competitors, the land was dominated by giant tortoises, parrots, skinks and geckos, burrowing boas, flightless rails. The birds and tortoises were slaughtered indiscriminately, while introduced rats, cats, pigs and monkeys destroyed their eggs. The once extensive forests, logged and invaded by introduced plants from all over the tropics, devastated the ecosystem. The now familiar icon of extinction, the Dodo, was gone from Mauritius within 50 years of human settlement, and over the next 150 years many of the Mascarene's other native vertebrates followed suit. The product of over 30 years' research by Anthony Cheke, Lost Land of the Dodo provides a comprehensive yet hugely enjoyable account of the story of the islands' changing ecology interspersed with human stories the islands biogeographical anomalies and much else Many French publications old and new especially for Reunion are discussed and referenced in English for the first time The book is richly illustrated with maps and contemporary illustrations of the animals and their environment many of which have rarely been reprinted before Illustrated box texts look in detail at each extinct vertebrate species while Julian Hume's superb colour plates bring many of the extinct birds to life Lost Land of the Dodo provides the definitive account of this tragic yet remarkable fauna and is a must read for anyone interested in islands their ecology and the history of our relationship with the world around us
