Nineteenth-century Studies ,1996 Shaw and History Gale K. Larson,1999 This special issue of Shaw offers ten articles that focus on the theme of Shaw and History That focus illuminates Shaw's concept of history as art and its uses for dramatic purposes It is a focus that is broadly applied to the historical perspective Views range from Shaw's uses of historical sources in the Shavianizing of history his uses of historical geographical and political places and events in his work to views that place selected Shavian works within a historical context Stanley Weintraub discusses Shaw's references to Cetewayo Zulu chieftain in Cashel Byron's Profession as the first incorporation of a contemporary historical figure into his work John Allett explores the liberal socialist and radical feminist views of prostitution in nineteenth century England and demonstrates how those political views are developed within the unfolding action of Mrs Warren's Profession Sidney P Albert studies the Utopian movement The Garden City to determine the extent to which that movement influenced Shaw's conception of Perivale St Andres in Major Barbara He also narrates his personal attempt to identify the Ballycorus smelting works and its surroundings as well as the campanile or Folly at Faringdon as sites that provided the scenic sources for Perivale St Andres in Major Barbara Gale K Larson has edited a partially unpublished Shavian manuscript that addresses Shaw's relationship with Frank Harris and among other matters sets the historical record right as to who deserves the credit for attributing the identity of the Dark Lady of the Sonnets to Mary Fitton He also examines the historical sources that influenced Shaw's views on Charles II the Merry Monarch in In Good King Charles's Golden Days and demonstrates Shaw's reclamation of yet another historical figure from the traditional historians David Gunby examines the first night performance of O'Flaherty V.C. for purposes of setting the historical record straight as to the facts of that production Wendi Chen presents the stage history of the production of Mrs Warren's Profession in China during the early 1920s and argues its central role in shaping modern Chinese drama Rodelle Weintraub assesses Too True to Be Good as a dream play within the context of the nightmarish times of World War I Michael M O'Hara surveys the Federal Theatre's productions of Androcles and the Lion in the 1930s to reveal the political and religious repressions that those productions underscore Shaw 19 also includes three reviews of recent additions to Shavian scholarship as well as John R Pfeiffer's Continuing Checklist of Shaviana Dickens and the Despised Mother Shale Preston, 2013-01-25 This work offers an original interpretation of the mothers of the protagonists in Dickens's autobiographical novels Taking Julia Kristeva's psychoanalytic concept of abjection and Mary Douglas's anthropological analysis of pollution as its conceptual framework the book argues that Dickens's primary emotional response towards the mother who abandoned him to work in a blacking warehouse was disgust and suggests that we can trace similar signs of disgust in the narrators of his fictional autobiographies David Copperfield Bleak House and Great Expectations The author provides a close reading of Dickens's autobiographical fragment and opens up the possibility that Dickens's feelings towards his mother actually bore a significant influence on his fiction The book closes with a provocative discussion of Dickens's compulsive Sikes and Nancy public readings Gypsies and the British Imagination, 1807-1930 Deborah Epstein Nord, 2008-11-28 Gypsies and the British Imagination 1807-1930 is the first book to explore fully the British obsession with Gypsies throughout the nineteenth century and into the twentieth Deborah Epstein Nord traces various representations of Gypsies in the works of such well known British authors John Clare Walter Scott William Wordsworth George Eliot Arthur Conan Doyle and D H Lawrence Nord also exhumes lesser known literary ethnographic and historical texts exploring the fascinating histories of nomadic writer George Borrow the Gypsy Lore Society Dora Yates and other rarely examined figures and institutions Gypsies were both idealized and reviled by Victorian and early twentieth century Britons Associated with primitive desires lawlessness cunning and sexual excess Gypsies were also objects of antiquarian literary and anthropological interest As Nord demonstrates British writers and artists drew on Gypsy characters and plots to redefine and reconstruct cultural and racial difference national and personal identity and the individual's relationship to social and sexual orthodoxies Gypsies were long associated with pastoral conventions and in the nineteenth century came to stand in for the ancient British past Using myths of switched babies Gypsy kidnappings and the Gypsies murky origins authors projected onto Gypsies their own desires to escape convention and their anxieties about the ambiguities of identity The literary representations that Nord examines have their roots in the interplay between the notion of Gypsies as a separate often despised race and the psychic or aesthetic desire to dissolve the boundary between English and Gypsy worlds By the beginning of the twentieth century she argues romantic identification with Gypsies had hardened into caricature a phenomenon reflected in D H Lawrence's The Virgin and the Gipsy and thoroughly obscured the reality of Gypsy life and history

Bibliographies of Studies in Victorian Literature for the Ten Years 1975-1984 Richard Clark Tobias, 1991 This volume comprises publications on Victorian literature written in the period 1975-1984 The lists derive from the summer issues of the journal Victorian Studies which are devoted to bibliography of the period Also included is an index of names and subjects

Victorian Studies Bulletin, 1997 Reading and the Victorians Juliet John, 2016-03-03 What did reading mean to the Victorians This question is the key point of departure for Reading and the Victorians an examination of the era when reading underwent a swifter and more radical transformation than at any other moment in history With book production handed over to the machines and mass education boosting literacy to unprecedented levels the norms of modern reading were being established Essays examine the impact of tallow candles on Victorian reading the reading practices encouraged by Mudie's Select Library and feminist periodicals the relationship between author and reader as reflected in manuscript revisions and corrections the experience of reading women's diaries models of literacy in Our Mutual Friend the implications of reading marks in Victorian texts how computer technology has assisted the study of nineteenth century reading practices how Gladstone read his personal library and what contemporary non academic readers might owe to Victorian ideals of reading and community Reading forms a genuine meeting place for historians literary scholars theorists librarians and historians of the book and this diverse collection examines nineteenth century reading in all its personal historical literary and material contexts while also asking fundamental questions about how we read the Victorians reading in the present day

Imagining Otherwise Debra Gettelman, 2024-08-13 How Victorian authors engaged the imaginations of their readers and elevated the novel to new heights As novel publication exploded in nineteenth century Britain writers such as Jane Austen Charles Dickens and George Eliot learned from experience sometimes grudgingly that readers tend to make their own imaginative contributions to fictional worlds Imagining Otherwise shows how Victorian writers acknowledged grappled with and ultimately enlisted the prerogative of readers to conjure alternatives and add depth to the words on the page Debra Gettelman provides incisive new readings of novels such as Sense and Sensibility Little Dorrit and Middlemarch exploring how novelists known for prescriptive and didactic narrative voices were at the same time exploring the aesthetic potential for the reader's independent imagination to lend nuance and authenticity to fiction Modernist authors of the twentieth century have long been considered pioneers in cultivating the reader's capacity to imagine what is not said as part of the art of fiction Gettelman uncovers the roots of this tradition of novel reading a century earlier and challenges literary criticism that dismisses this spontaneous readerly impulse as being unworthy of serious examination As readers demand novels with relatable characters and fan fiction grows in popularity the reader's imagination has become a determining element of today's literary environment Imagining Otherwise takes a deeper look at this history offering a critical perspective on how we came to view fiction as a site of imaginative appropriation Victorian Political Thought on France and the French G.

Varouxakis, 2002-02-17 By scrutinizing the major Victorian political thinkers perceptions and representations of France this book shows how comparisons with the country on the other side of the Channel its politics civilization and the French national character contributed to nineteenth century Britain's self definition While the utterances on France of several other figures are also examined the main focus is on Walter Bagehot John Stuart Mill Matthew Arnold Lord Acton Thomas Carlyle Nassau William Senior James Fitzjames Stephen William Rathbone Greg Thomas Babington Macaulay John Morley and Frederic Harrison
