Annunciations Poems Out Of Scripture:

Annunciations Kathleen Staudt, 2018-03-14 Kathleen Henderson Staudt has worked as a teacher poet and spiritual director at Virginia Theological Seminary Wesley seminary the University of Maryland College Park and Washington National Cathedral Her poetry essays and reviews have appeared in Weavings Christianity and Literature Cross Currents Sewanee Theological Review Living Prayer The Anglican Theological Review Ruminare Spiritus and Presence and others She is the author of At the Turn of a Civilization David Jones and Modern Poetics and two other books of poems Waving Back Poems of Mothering Life and Good Places The Hebrew Bible in Contemporary Fiction and Poetry Lena-Sofia Tiemeyer, 2025-03-31 This book discusses 20th and 21st centuries literary retellings of biblical texts focusing on how fiction and poetry fill the extant narrative gaps present in the often sparse biblical accounts and align the narratives with theological and or cultural expectations of modern interpreting communities The chapters written by an international group of scholars explore biblical retellings in a variety of modern languages ranging from Korean and Chinese to Hebrew and Arabic Most of the contributions deal with retellings of the narrative books Genesis Exodus Judges Ruth 1 2 Samuel Daniel but a few are devoted to prophetic Hosea and poetic Psalms ones Another set of articles looks beyond specific biblical books and instead analyses how the Bible has been retold in different literary genres Children and YA literature sci fi and fantasy Christian Inspiration fiction and in modern political discourse North and South Korea All the chapters further highlight how literary retellings of the Bible form two way movements They reveal the often subversive quality of literary retellings retellings not only emphasise those nuances in the biblical texts that create unease but also problematise their standpoint and question their moral and theological message The Hebrew Bible in Contemporary Fiction and Poetry is suitable for students and scholars of biblical studies working on intertextuality and reception history It is also of interest to those working on comparative literature particularly with regards to the Hebrew Bible in popular culture and literature Viriditas Kathleen Henderson Staudt, 2023-04-05 Drawing on the spirituality of St Hildegard of Bingen these poems tap into the energy of green ness viriditas as it pulses through nature and through the times of loss disorientation and fresh hope that we encounter in our lives Sinking into the experience of sacred place they lead us into woodlands and ocean beaches local gardens and distant places of pilgrimage Through celebration and elegy biblical story and the natural world these poems invite readers to experiences of meditation and even prayer embracing all that is green and growing in our lives God's Pattern for Revitalization Robert Beckett, 2023-03-30 The most common question that most pastors and church leaders ask themselves is Where do I start in revitalizing my church Revitalizing a church can seem like a daunting task but there are some key steps that pastors and church leaders can take to begin the process of transforming their church into an active and vibrant center of the Christian community The first step that pastors should take is to prayerfully assess the current state of the church This will involve reflecting on the church s current successes and challenges to better understand where changes need to be made

That understanding can come only from God himself God has provided us with an example of how revitalization and revival can take place in a church This book will enlighten and inform on the way that God intends for his church to be vibrant and alive again in the community of believers and surrounding neighbors Using Scripture as the pattern and guide readers will gain confidence and courage to move their church forward in revitalization Heaven Roger Ferlo,2007-04-01 We hear about heaven and the supernatural far more often on late night TV than in church indeed many Christians never hear eternity mentioned seriously from the pulpit This book of short personal essays gathers the hopes and reflections of writers from theology fiction and poetry The authors include Rick Moody Nora Gallagher Robert Orsi Barbara Brown Taylor Phyllis Tickle Alan Jones Maggie Robbins Barbara Crafton Cynthia Bourgeault and Susan Wheeler These writings which mix autobiography story telling and theological reflection are so poignant and wide ranging that we can all find ourselves in them and start telling our own stories about heaven A Cultural Study of Mary and the Annunciation Gary Waller,2015-10-06 This book traces the history of the Annunciation exploring the deep and lasting impact of the event on the Western imagination Waller explores the Annunciation from its appearance in Luke s Gospel to its rise to prominence in religious doctrine and popular culture and its gradual decline in importance during the Enlightenment Voices of Breast Cancer The Healing Project,2007 Family health The Annunciation Larry Hart,2017-03-10 The Annunciation is an in depth look at how the Christian message can be communicated in a way that is comprehensible to the postmodern world and yet remain within the classical faith The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 A Dictionary of Biblical Tradition in English Literature David Lyle Jeffrey,1992 Over 15 years in the making an unprecedented one volume reference work Many of today s students and teachers of literature lacking a familiarity with the Bible are largely ignorant of how Biblical tradition has influenced and infused English literature through the centuries An invaluable research tool Contains nearly 800 encyclopedic articles written by a distinguished international roster of 190 contributors Three detailed annotated bibliographies Cross references throughout Body-Poetics of the Virgin Mary Jane Petkovic,2021-05-25 The Judeo Christian scriptures understand humans as being made in the image of God What exactly does this mean Basic agreement is that it means humans can only know and understand themselves in relation to God If however this God is pure uncreated spirit where does human embodiment fit in Is it an obstacle to understanding Or is it in some way instructive John Paul II comes down decisively in favor of the body s value and importance In his catechetical series widely known as the Theology of the Body John Paul II analyzes what is distinctive about human beings He undertakes a reading of the body This book reflects on John Paul II s interpretation extending his findings to the Virgin Mary Her specifically female maternal body is seen to offer insights into how the body images God in how it speaks The transformations of the female body parallel the transformations of language in poetry The reconfigurations and accommodations of the gestational body are this book suggests poetic incarnations of God likeness Body Poetics of the Virgin Mary offers a Mariological slant on theological anthropology and a new way to think of how humans poetically image God The Poet as Believer Aidan Nichols, 2011 This is the first comprehensive study of the theological significance of Paul Claudel a poet frequently cited by literary minded theologians in Europe and theologically minded poets such as von Balthasar de Lubac and Eliot His writing combines cosmology and history Bible and metaphysics liturgy and the drama of human personality His work which continues to arouse discussion in France was acclaimed in his lifetime as the summa poetica of a new Dante Aidan Nichols study demonstrates how Claudel s oeuvre which is not only poetry but theatre and prose including biblical commentaries constitutes a rich resource for constructive doctrine liturgical preaching and theological reflection As the comparable example of Geoffrey Hill Professor of Poetry at Oxford suggests Aidan Nichols illuminates how Claudel s synthesis of many dimensions remains an important way of practising poetry in the Christian tradition today Christian and Lyric Tradition in Victorian

Women's Poetry F. Elizabeth Gray, 2009-09-10 In this study Gray examines the broadly neglected body of Victorian women s religious verse showing how women of the period used an array of inventive literary strategies to construct and wield provocative forms of authority Their deployment of biblical source trope and genre transfigured Christian and lyric traditions

An Appetite for Poetry Frank Kermode, 1989 Frank Kermode is the preeminent practitioner of the art of criticism in the English speaking world As such his task entails the readiness to evaluate in general terms the widest range of texts both ancient and modern and also the ability to make public sense of the seemingly arcane debates about theories of literature as they pertain to the ongoing process of evaluation It has been Kermode s distinction to make a virtue as all the best critics have done of the necessarily occasional nature of his profession That virtue is evident in every page of this set of essays This is a book in which Kermode asks the reader to share his pleasure in the literature of a set of major writers Milton Eliot Stevens He vividly evokes Milton after the Restoration of Charles II with a fine speculative discussion of the interplay between his personal and political circumstances and the preoccupations of his poetry He sets before us T S Eliot living in a condition of permanent exile Wallace Stevens in his old age dwelling poetically in Connecticut and author critic William Empson whose singular career was marked by both the pleasure of the text and the delight in conceptual issues that characterizes so much of the contemporary taste for theory Other essays draw our attention to debates on the literary canon and problems of biblical criticism and their implications for the study of narrative in particular and the interpretation of secular literary texts in general These are professional essays that nevertheless defy the excesses of modern professionalism Nowhere is this more evident than in the polemical Prologue to the book in which Kermode sorts out the good from the meretricious in contemporary criticism He argues that some proclaimed theorists seem largely to have lost interest in literature while the best like Paul de Man and Jacques Derrida have never lost what Kermode prizes most highly the very appetite or hunger for poetry and literature Always readable elegant even on gnarled matters and courteous in contexts where others are bad tempered An Appetite for Poetry is the work of one of the most distinguished minds of our time In reaffirming the professional responsibilities of criticism now being neglected it displays a generous hospitality to new ideas
