Anointed For Burial:

Anointed for Burial Todd Burke, DeAnn Burke, 1977 Entering Cambodia in the fall of 73 Todd Burke spent the next twenty months there as an evangelist and elder in the Khmer Church staying until he and his wife DeAnn were forced to evacuate Phnom Penh two weeks before the nation fell to the communist Khmer Rouge The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices Dean B. Deppe, 2015-10-22 What sets The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices apart from other books What niche does it fill that makes its publication important This volume will interest all those who value a literary approach to the Gospel of Mark Dean Deppe introduces some new literary devices in the research of the Gospel of Mark as well as demonstrates the theological intentions of Mark when he employs these literary devices Deppe argues that Mark employs the literary devices of intercalation framework allusionary repetitions narrative surprises and three types of mirroring to indicate where he speaks symbolically and metaphorically at two levels Mark employs these literary devices not just for dramatic tension and irony but also for theological reasons to apply the Jesus tradition to specific problems in his own day Twenty-six Reasons why Jews Don't Believe in Jesus Asher Norman, 2007 In this seminal work an attorney puts Jesus on trial explaining to Jews Christians and the theologically curious why Jesus did not qualify as the Jewish messiah why believing in Jesus cuts Jews off from God forever in the World To Come how the Christian Bible has strategically mistranslated key verses in the Old Testament to shoehorn Jesus into the text This compelling new book calls unorthodox Jews back to Torah Judaism Black White and Read Publishing Memory, Tradition, And Text Alan K. Kirk, Tom Thatcher, 2005 Social and cultural memory theory examines the ways communities and individuals reconstruct and commemorate their pasts in light of shared experiences and current social realities Drawing on the methods of this emerging field this volume both introduces memory theory to biblical scholars and restores the category memory to a preeminent position in research on Christian origins In the process the volume challenges current approaches to research problems in Christian origins such as the history of the Gospel traditions the birth of early Christian literature ritual and ethics and the historical Jesus The essays taken in aggregate outline a comprehensive research agenda for examining the beginnings of Christianity and its literature and also propose a fundamentally revised model for the phenomenology of early Christian oral tradition assess the impact of memory theory upon historical Jesus research establish connections between memory dynamics and the appearance of written Gospels and assess the relationship of early Christian commemorative activities with the cultural memory of ancient Judaism Contributors include April D DeConick Arthur J Dewey Philip F Esler Holly Hearon Richard Horsley Georgia Masters Keightley Werner Kelber Alan Kirk Barry Schwartz Tom Thatcher and Antoinette Clark Wire Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature www.sbl-site.org The Gospel of John Frederick Dale Bruner, 2012-02-22 The author of a much loved two volume Matthew commentary 1990 that he greatly revised and expanded fourteen years later Frederick Dale Bruner now offers The Gospel of John A Commentary more rich fruit of his lifetime of study and teaching

Rather than relying primarily on recent scholarship Bruner honors and draws from the church's major John commentators throughout history including Augustine Chrysostom Aquinas Luther Calvin Bultmann Barrett and many more. Alongside this historical interpretation is Bruner's own contemporary interpretation which incorporates a lucid translation of the text, references to recent scholarship and his pastoral application of the Gospel to present-day experience. Like Bruner's other work, this commentary is rich in biblical insights, broadly historical and deeply theological. Here is what Eugene Peterson said about Bruner's earlier work on Matthew: "This is the kind of commentary I most want: a theological wrestling with Scripture. Frederick Dale Bruner grapples with the text not only as a technical exegete, although he does that very well, but as a church theologian caring passionately about what these words tell us about God and ourselves. His Matthew commentary is in the grand traditions of Augustine, Calvin, and Luther: expansive and leisurely, loving the text, the people in it, and the Christians who read it. The same could well be said about the present John commentary, which promises to be another invaluable resource for pastors, teachers, and laypeople alike." The Building Blocks of the Earliest Gospel, Arthur J.

Bellinzoni, 2018-02-16. This volume provides enough information about each story in the Gospel of Mark and about the gospel as a whole in order to afford an informed understanding of the gospel. The evangelist was not writing a book for submission to a committee for inclusion in the Christian Bible. Rather, he was collecting existing oral and written tradition into a coherent narrative to promote for his own Christian community an understanding of the good news of Jesus the Messiah. The church to which the evangelist was writing, probably in Antioch of Syria, was likely already familiar with many of the stories from the church's evolving liturgy. Christians gathered in people's homes; there were no churches as we understand that word as a specific building for Christian worship. It was in such gatherings in homes that stories were told, perhaps as the basis for a message delivered by an elder of the church. Such stories illustrated some truth about Jesus or addressed an issue of importance to the church. In other words, these individual stories were developed to serve the needs of the Christian community. Historical accuracy was not a concern of the evangelist. Proclaiming Jesus as Messiah was his primary purpose.

The Miracles of Jesus According to John, Stephen S. Kim, 2010-07-08. In our age of theological relativism, Jesus' question to His own disciples continues to ring true: "Who do the people say that the Son of Man is?" Through Jesus' seven miracles and His seven "I Am" sayings, the apostle John provides a clear answer to that all-important question. Furthermore, what do Jesus' miracles represent? Are they designed to point to something or someone? In our supernatural-crazed culture that affects even evangelical Christianity, it is refreshing to be reminded that biblical miracles were never arbitrary but were always purposeful, authenticating God's message and His messenger's. In the Gospel of John, the miracles of Jesus are both Christological—that is, they highlight Jesus' Person—and eschatological—that is, they foreshadow the work the Messiah will do in His future Advent. The miracles remind us that God's desire for every believer is first and foremost a spiritual relationship with Him through His Son. Furthermore, Jesus' miracles also remind us that God's work in and for every believer will be fully and ultimately realized in the everlasting life Gospel According To St. Mark Morna D.
