Baby In The Bathwater Memories Of A Political Journalist:

Baby in the Bathwater Gordon Schaffer, 1996      British Propaganda and News Media in the Cold War John Jenks, 2006-04-19 This is a study of the British state's generation suppression and manipulation of news to further foreign policy goals during the early Cold War. Bribing editors, blackballing unreliable journalists, creating instant media experts through provision of carefully edited inside information and exploiting the global media system to plant propaganda disguised as news around the world: these were all methods used by the British to try to convince the international public of Soviet deceit and criminality and thus gain support for anti-Soviet policies at home and abroad. Britain's shaky international position heightened the importance of propaganda. The Soviets and Americans were investing heavily in propaganda to win the hearts and minds of the world and substitute for increasingly unthinkable nuclear war. The British exploited and enhanced their media power and propaganda expertise to keep up with the superpowers and preserve their own global influence at a time when British economic, political and military power was sharply declining. This activity directly influenced domestic media relations as officials used British media to launder foreign-bought propaganda and to create the desired images of British public opinion for foreign audiences. By the early 1950s, censorship waned but covert propaganda had become addictive. The endless tension of the Cold War normalized what had previously been abnormal state involvement in the media and led it to use similar tools against Egyptian nationalists, Irish republicans and British leftists. Much more recently, official manipulation of news about Iraq indicates that a behind-the-scenes examination of state propaganda's earlier days is highly relevant. John Jenks draws heavily on recently declassified archival material for this book, especially files of the Foreign Office's anti-Communist Information Research Department (IRD) propaganda agency and the papers of key media organisations, journalists, politicians and officials. Readers will therefore gain a greater understanding of the depth of the state's power with the media at a time when concerns about propaganda and media manipulation are once again at the fore.

The Journalist, 1997      Paul Robeson Jordan Goodman, 2013-10-08 In his heyday, Paul Robeson was one of the most famous people in the world; to his enemies, he was also one of the most dangerous. From the 1930s to the 1960s, the African American singer was the voice of the people both as a performer and as a political activist who refused to be silenced. Having won fame with hits such as 'Ol Man River' and thrilling London and New York theatregoers with his legendary performance in 'Othello', Robeson established himself as a vocal supporter of Civil Rights and an opponent of oppression in all its forms. He traveled the world performing in front of thousands to deliver a message of peace, equality and justice that was as readily understood on the streets of Manchester, Moscow, Johannesburg and Bombay as it was in Harlem and Washington DC. The first new work on the leading African American singer for over a decade, 'Paul Robeson: A Watched Man' is a story of passionate political struggle and conviction. Using archival material from the FBI, the State Department, MI5 and other secret agencies, Jordan Goodman reveals the true extent of the US government's fear of this heroic individual. Robeson eventually appeared before the House Un American Activities Committee where he spiritedly defended his long held convictions and refused to apologize despite the potential damage to his career Behind the Iron Curtain Bryan W. area Structured around key questions the book considers the origins and history of objectivity its philosophical influences the main objections and defences and questions of values politics and ethics This book examines debates around objectivity as a transnational norm focusing on the emergence of objectivity in the US while broadening out discussion to include developments around objectivity in the UK Australia Asia and other regions      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1996      Jahresbibliographie Massenkommunikation ,1998      Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998      The Routledge Handbook of Queer Rhetoric Jacqueline Rhodes,Jonathan Alexander,2022-04-25 The Routledge Handbook of Queer Rhetoric maps the ongoing becoming of queer rhetoric in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries offering a dynamic overview of the history of and scholarly research in this field The handbook features rhetorical scholarship that explicitly uses and extends insights from work in queer and trans theories to understand and critique intersections of rhetoric gender class and sexuality More important chapters also attend to the intersections of constructs of queerness with race class ability and neurodiversity In so doing the book acknowledges the many debts contemporary queer theory has to work by scholars of color feminists and activists inside and outside the academy The first book of its kind the handbook traces and documents the emergence of this subfield within rhetorical studies while also pointing the way toward new lines of inquiry new trajectories in scholarship and new modalities and methods of analysis critique intervention and speculation This handbook is an invaluable resource for scholars graduate students and advanced undergraduate students studying rhetoric communication cultural studies and queer studies      Articulations of Self and Politics in Activist Discourse Jan Zienkowski,2016-10-27 This book focuses on the discursive processes that allow activists to make sense of themselves and of the modes of politics they engage in It shows how political and metadiscursive awareness develop in tandem with a reconfiguration of one's sense of self The author offers an integrated pragmatic and poststructuralist perspective on self and subjectivity He draws on Essex style discourse theory early pragmatist philosophy and linguistic pragmatics arguing for a notion of discourse as a multi dimensional practice of articulation Demonstrating the analytical power of this perspective he puts his approach to work in an analysis of activist discourse on integration and minority issues in Flanders Belgium Subjects articulate a whole range of norms values identities and narratives to each other when they engage in political discourse This book offers a way to analyse the logics that structure political awareness and the associated boundaries for discursive self interpretation      Matthias Claudius Herbert Rowland,1997 This book contributes to the current revision of Matthias Claudius's image by illuminating the complex of ideas that lies at the core of his thought and relating them to his art and the broader concerns that were most important to him Claudius has long had a firm place in the canon of German literature as a naive and soulful poet of folklife nature and religious faith Over the past two decades however a growing body of scholarship has uncovered aspects of his life and work that demand reconsideration of his traditional image This volume represents an attempt to contribute to the revision This volume elucidates the ideas central to Claudius's thought and views them in connection with both his work and important issues of the time Over and against the traditional image of Claudius the study projects a more accurate and balanced indeed a substantially new vision of the poet and man     The History of Media and Communication Research David W. Park,Jefferson Pooley,2008 Strictly speaking James Carey wrote there is no history of mass communication research This volume is a long overdue response to Carey s comment about the field s ignorance of its own past The collection includes essays of historiographical self scrutiny as well as new histories that trace the field s institutional evolution and cross pollination with other academic disciplines The volume treats the remembered past of mass communication research as crucial terrain where boundaries are marked off and futures plotted The collection intended for scholars and advanced graduate students is an essential compass for the field
