Baby No Eyes:

Baby No-eyes Patricia Grace, 2002-07-07 This major novel merges contemporary headlines with stories of a heartfelt family history Do you hear the people calling No See there dummy you re nowhere near dead Well I don t believe you How would you know Of course I know I do I do I know all about it Tawera and his sister are inseparable in a relationship that is impossible for others to share In fact his whole whanau is bonded by secrets a genealogy stitched together by shame joy love and sometimes grief This is an account of the mysteries that operate at many levels between generations where the present is the pivot the centre of the spiral looking outward to the past and future that define it There s a way the older people have of telling a story a way where the beginning is not the beginning the end is not the end The Testimonial Uncanny Julia V. Emberley, 2014-09-30 Through the study of Indigenous literary and artistic practices from Canada Australia New Zealand and the United States Julia V Emberley examines the ways Indigenous storytelling discloses and repairs the traumatic impact of social violence in settler colonial nations She focuses on Indigenous storytelling in a range of cultural practices including novels plays performances media reports Internet museum exhibits and graphic novels In response to historical trauma such as that experienced at Indian residential schools as well as present day violence against Indigenous bodies and land Indigenous storytellers make use of Indigenous spirituality and the sacred to inform an ethics of hospitality They provide uncanny configurations of political and social kinships between people between the past and the present and between the animate and inanimate This book introduces readers to cultural practices and theoretical texts concerned with bringing Indigenous epistemologies to the discussion of trauma and colonial violence Bodies and Voices Anna Rutherford, European Association for Commonwealth Literature and Language Studies. Conference, 2008 The articles investigate representations in literature both by the colonizers and colonized Many deal with the effect the dominant culture had on the self image of native inhabitants They cover areas on all continents that were colonized by European countries Haunting Legacies Gabriele Schwab, 2010 Introduction Writing against memory and forgetting Haunting legacies trauma in children of perpetrators Identity trouble guilt shame and idealization Replacement children the transgenerational transmission of traumatic loss Deadly intimacy the politics and psychic life of torture Postcolonial Pacific Writing Michelle Keown, 2004-12-17 This major new interdisciplinary study focuses on the representation of the body in the work of eight of Polynesia s most significant contemporary writers Drawing on anthropology psychoanalysis philosophy history and medicine Postcolonial Pacific Writing develops an innovative postcolonial framework specific to the literatures and cultures of this region Cousins Patricia Grace, 2013-08-01 This is a stunning novel about tradition and change about whanau and its struggle to survive about the place of women in a shifting world Makareta is the chosen one carrying her family s hopes Missy is the observer the one who accepts but has her dreams Mata is always waiting for life to happen as it stealthily passes by Moving from the forties to the present from the country to the protests of the cities Cousins is the story of these three cousins Thrown together as children they have subsequently grown apart yet they share a connection that can never be broken Manitowapow Warren Cariou, Niigaanwewidam James Sinclair, 2012 Beginning with traditional writing systems Manitowapow shares diverse Indigenous perspectives and histories from the late 1700s through to the present day in what is now Manitoba Discover works by historically significant figures well known writers contemporary leaders storytellers and Knowledge Keepers and vibrant new voices Maori and Aboriginal Women in the Public Eye Karen Fox, 2011-12-01

From 1950 increasing numbers of Aboriginal and M ori women became nationally or internationally renowned Few reached the heights of international fame accorded Evonne Goolagong or Dame Kiri Te Kanawa and few remained household names for any length of time But their growing numbers and visibility reflected the dramatic social cultural and political changes taking place in Australia and New Zealand in the second half of the twentieth century This book is the first in depth study of media portrayals of well known Indigenous women in Australia and New Zealand including Goolagong Te Kanawa Oodgeroo Noonuccal and Dame Whina Cooper The power of the media in shaping the lives of individuals and communities for good or ill is widely acknowledged In these pages Karen Fox examines an especially fascinating and revealing aspect of the media and its history how prominent M ori and Aboriginal women were depicted for the readers of popular media in the past

Publisher s description The Politics of English as a World Language Christian Mair, 2003 The complex politics of English as a world language provides the backdrop both for linguistic studies of varieties of English around the world and for postcolonial literary criticism The present volume offers contributions from linguists and literary scholars that explore this common ground in a spirit of open interdisciplinary dialogue Leading authorities assess the state of the art to suggest directions for further research with substantial case studies ranging over a wide variety of topics from the legitimacy of language norms of lingua franca communication to the recognition of newer post colonial varieties of English in the online OED Four regional sections treat the Caribbean including the diaspora Africa the Indian subcontinent and Australasia and the Pacific Rim Each section maintains a careful balance between linguistics and literature and external and indigenous perspectives on issues The book is the most balanced complete and up to date treatment of the topic to date From

Silence to Voice Paola Della Valle, 2010 The first comprehensive history of how Maori have emerged from the silence of depictions by European writers to claim their own literary voice with a focus on Patricia Grace and Witi Ihimaera

Earthway Mary Summer Rain, 1992-07 A mindbodyspirit guide to achieving wholeness covers diet lifestyle natural medicine dream interpretation and much more Reissue The Non-Literate Other Helga Ramsey-Kurz, 2007-01-01 Public debates on the benefits and dangers of mass literacy prompted nineteenth century British authors to write about illiteracy Since the early twentieth century writers outside Europe have paid increasing attention to the subject as a measure both of cultural dependence and independence So far literary studies has taken little notice of this The Non Literate Other Readings of Illiteracy in Twentieth Century Novels in English offers explanations for this lack of interest in illiteracy amongst scholars of literature and attempts to remedy this neglect by posing the question of how writers use their literacy to write about a condition radically unlike their own. Answers to this question are given in the analysis of nineteen works featuring illiterates yet never before studied for doing so. The book explores the scriptlessness of Neanderthals in William Golding of barbarians in Angela Carter, David Malouf and J. M. Coetzee of African natives in Joseph Conrad and Chinua Achebe of Maoris in Patricia Grace and Chippewas in Louise Erdrich of fugitive or former slaves and their descendants in Richard Wright, Toni Morrison and Ernest Gaines of Untouchables in Mulk Raj Anand and Salman Rushdie and of migrants in Maxine Hong Kingston, Joy Kogawa and Amy Tan. In so doing it conveys a clear sense of the complexity and variability of the phenomenon of non-literacy as well as its fictional resourcefulness.

Healing Narratives Gay Alden Wilentz, 2000. Exploring the relationship between culture and health, this text provides readings of the works of five women writers tracing their common structure of a main character moving from a state of mental or physical disease toward wellness through reconnection with her cultural traditions.

Translating and Interpreting in Australia and New Zealand Judy Wakabayashi, Minako O'Hagan, 2021-11-29. This volume explores Australian and New Zealand experiences of translation and interpreting. With a special focus on the formative impact of geocultural contexts, through the critical lenses of practitioners, scholars, and related professionals working in and on these two countries, the contributors seek a better understanding of T/I practices and discourses in this richly multilingual and multicultural region. Building on recent work in translation and interpreting studies that extends attention to sites outside of Europe and the Americas, this volume considers the geocultural and geopolitical factors that have helped shape T/I in these Pacific neighbours, especially how the practices and conceptualization of T/I have been closely tied with immigration. Contributors examine the significant role T/I plays in everyday communication across varied sectors, including education, health, business, and legal contexts, as well as in crisis situations, cultural and creative settings, and initiatives to revitalize Indigenous languages The book also looks to the broader implications beyond the Australian and New Zealand translationscape making it of relevance to T I scholars elsewhere as well as those with an interest in Indigenous studies and minority languages

Transcultural Graffiti Russell West-Pavlov, 2005 Transcultural Graffiti reads a range of texts prose poetry drama in several European languages as exemplars of diasporic writing The book scrutinizes contemporary transcultural literary creation for the manner in which it gives hints about the teaching of literary studies in our postcolonial globalizing era Transcultural Graffiti suggest that cultural work in particular transcultural work assembles and collates material from various cultures in their moment of meeting The teaching of such cultural collage in the classroom should equip students with the means to reflect upon and engage in cultural bricolage themselves in the present day The texts read from C saire s adaptation of Shakespeare s Tempest via the diaspora fictions of Marica Bodrozic or David Dabydeen to the post 9 11 poetry of New York poets are understood as graffiti like inscriptions the result of fleeting encounters in a swiftly changing public world Such texts provide impulses for a performative risk pedagogy capable of modelling the ways in which our constitutive individual and social narratives are constructed deconstructed and reconstructed today No Limits (To a Mother's Love) Maria McDonald Dorden, 2011-12-30 Without her mothers knowledge in the midst of post partum depression and dealing with bi polar disorder a young mother travels to Utah and end up relinquishing her parental rights to an adoption agency utilizing illegal adoption practices No limit to a Mothers love tells of one grandmothers fight to regain custody of her grandchild Dealing with the death of her own mother as well as her daughters emotional issues Maria Dorden courageously entered into a fight with the adoption agency and the State of Utah Her courage determination and love of her children and grandchildren ultimately lead to triumph Better Britons Nadine Attewell, 2014-01-01 Better Britons charts an innovative approach to the politics of reproduction by reading an array of works and discourses that reflect on the significance of reproductive behaviours for civic national and racial identities Antipodean Childhoods Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Ulla Ratheiser, 2020-05-15 Though obvious the productiveness of combining the three concepts of childhood otherness and the postcolonial has not inspired much academic inquiry so far The essays assembled in this book make up for this omission and address aspects of growing up in Australia and New Zealand from various angles They base their argument on the premise that whether in settler migrant or indigenous communities children tend to be ascribed a space of their own mostly outside but never independent of that of adults How adults configure this space both practically and imaginatively for instance in the arts in adult and children s literature in film and photography or in historical documents is one of the questions answered in the process How these configurations have developed with time and under the influence of specific historical circumstances is another Thus the individual papers are more than a contribution to the current re discovery of the theme of childhood in European cultures in that Antipodean Childhoods remains centrally concerned with the cultural specificity of childhoods lived in Australia and New Zealand and with the theoretical relevance of this specificity to postcolonial literary cultural and historical studies The Circle & the Spiral Eva Rask Knudsen, 2021-11-01 In Aboriginal and M ori literature the circle and the spiral are the symbolic metaphors for a never ending journey of discovery and rediscovery The journey itself with its indigenous perspectives and sense of orientation is the most significant act of cultural recuperation The present study outlines the fields of indigenous writing in Australia and New Zealand in the crucial period between the mid 1980s and the early 1990s particularly eventful years in which postcolonial theory attempted to centre the margins and indigenous writers were keen to escape the particular centering offered in search of other positions more in tune with their creative sensibilities Indigenous writing relinquished its narrative preference for social realism in favour of traversing old territory in new spiritual ways roots converted into routes Standard postcolonial readings of indigenous texts often overwrite the difference they seek to locate because critical orthodoxy predetermines what difference can be Critical evaluations still tend to eclipse the ontological grounds of Aboriginal and M ori traditions and specific ways of moving through and behaving in cultural landscapes and social contexts Hence the corrective applied in Circles and Spirals to look for locally and culturally specific tracks and traces that lead in other directions than those catalogued by postcolonial convention This agenda is pursued by means of searching enquiries into the historical anthropological political and cultural determinants of the present state of Aboriginal and M ori writing principally fiction Independent yet interrelated exemplary analyses of works by Keri Hulme and Patricia Grace and Mudrooroo and Sam Watson Australia provided the thick description that illuminates the author s central theses with comparative side glances at Witi Ihimaera Heretaunga Pat Baker and Alan Duff New Zealand and Archie Weller and Sally Morgan Australia
