African wilderness in close daily contact with a troop of baboons He later described this as the happiest most content time of his troubled life This period produced two works which are testament to his research and conclusions they have very different histories Firstly there was a series of articles written in Afrikaans for the newspaper Die Vaderland They were then published in book form under the title Burgers van die Berge and were first published in an English translation in 1939 under the title My Friends the Baboons These pieces were written in a popular vein suitable to a newspaper readership and were not regarded seriously by Marais himself They are a journal a series of anecdotes and impressions The Soul of the Ape which Marais wrote in beautifully clear and precise English was the more serious scientific document however after his death in 1936 it could not be found It was lost for 32 years and was recovered in 1968 and published the following year The excellent introduction by Robert Ardrey that is included in this volume was part of the 1969 and subsequent editions of The Soul of the Ape and adds greatly to an appreciation of its importance Together these three texts give us as complete a picture as we will ever get of Marais three year study of these complex relatives of humanity and its implications for the study of consciousness

The Extraordinary in the Ordinary Donald A. Crosby, 2017-03-30 Miracles are usually regarded as an intrusion of a supernatural force upsetting the normal workings and laws of the universe but if one is attentive to the natural world one can instead find miracles beneath the surface of everyday existence This outlook is part of Donald A Crosby s religious naturalism which he terms Religion of Nature a belief system that posits the natural world to be the only world without any underlying or transcending supernatural being presence or power In The Extraordinary in the Ordinary Crosby explores seven types of everyday miracles such as time language and love to show that the miraculous and ordinary are not opposed to each other Rather it is when we acknowledge the sacred depths and dimensions of everyday existence that we recognize the miracles that constantly surround us Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels
