Baby Boomer Health Dynamics How Are We Aging:

Baby Boomer Health Dynamics Andrew V. Wister, 2005-01-01 Are the baby boomers in Canada more or less healthy than previous generations What are the implications of this for the national health care system Baby Boomer Health Dynamic responds to the growing interest in the generation that makes up over one third of the Canadian population the largest segment of society with the leading edge reaching their sixty fifth birthday in 2011 and eighty five by 2031 Focusing on four health behaviours that have been proven to be major risk factors for disease smoking unhealthy exercise obesity and heavy drinking Andrew V Wister researches the long term implications of several key lifestyle health conundrums most notably the paradoxical relationship in the concurrent trends over the last two decades of increased exercise levels and a significant rise in obesity This invariably leads to guestions about the eating habits of North Americans and in particular the quantity and quality of fast food and convenience food consumption Recent public declarations by a number of health organizations and institutes that we are experiencing an obesity crisis and moreover that obesity is the new tobacco makes Baby Boomer Health Dynamics both timely and topical Insights in Aging and Public Health: 2022 Marcia G. Ory, Matthew Lee Smith, 2023-10-27 This collection is part of a recurrent series Insights in Aging and Public Health 2021 Our global society is changing Now in the third decade of the 21st Century the achievements made by scientists have led to major advancements in the fast growing field of Aging and Public Health As indicated by the United Nations Declaration of the Decade of Healthy Aging 2021 2030 there is global interest in understanding determinants of healthy aging and strategies to improve the lives of older people their families and the communities in which they live As such the field of public health and aging must constantly evolve and adapt alongside the ongoing changes in population growth and demographics social and physical environments and policy and other drivers of health related costs Further the indicators of risk and markers of success have assumed new meaning as new societal needs challenges Resilience and Aging Andrew V. Wister, Theodore D. Cosco, 2021-01-04 Older aged adults face many adversities over the later life course This edited volume will address the ways in which seniors bounce back from different types and combinations of adversity termed resilience While research has been accumulating that identifies inherent abilities and external resources needed to adapt and navigate stress inducing experiences among aging and older adults gaps remain in understanding the unique elements and processes of resilience A series of chapters included in this book will address several overarching questions why do some older individuals families communities adapt to adversity better than others what are modifiable behavioral protective risk factors related to resilience and how can we foster resilience at the individual community level and which approaches show the most promise The spectrum of aging related challenges and responses addressed in this book include mental health physical functional health problems multimorbidity socio economic deprivation social isolation and loneliness cultural dimensions of loneliness housing homelessness problems and environmental disasters This book presents cutting edge science at the conceptual methodological empirical and practice levels applied to emerging resilience sub fields in gerontology It will also present potential areas of future research policy and practice linked to these areas During a period of the most rapid population aging in the US Canada and many other nations coupled with heightened global socio political change extending our knowledge of resilience will help society to make important adjustments to maximize health and wellness of older individuals Supporting and enhancing resilience through technological social and or community level advances in geroscience will help those facing adversity to thrive by harnessing stretching and leveraging a wide array of potential resources The promotion of healthier older populations has far reaching consequences for health care and social community support systems both in terms of public health including pandemic response and the development and implementation of innovations in treatment and practice guidelines Medical Sociology and Old Age Paul Higgs, Ian Rees Jones, 2009-01-13 The nature of health in later life has conventionally been studied from two perspectives Medical sociologists have focused on the failing body chronic illness infirmity and mortality while social gerontologists on the other hand have focused on the epidemiology of old age and health and social policy By examining these perspectives Higgs and Jones show how both standpoints have a restricted sense of contemporary ageing which has prevented an understanding of the way in which health in later life has changed In the book the authors point out that the current debates on longevity and disability are being transformed by the emergence of a fitter and healthier older population This third age where fitness and participation are valorised leads to the increasing salience of issues such as bodily control age denial and anti ageing medicine By discussing the key issue of old age versus ageing the authors examine the prospect of a new sociology a sociology of health in later life Medical Sociology and Old Age is essential reading for all students and researchers of medical sociology and gerontology and for anyone concerned with the challenge of ageing populations in the twenty first century This book is essential reading for all students and researchers of Redefining Retirement Margret Hovanec, Elizabeth Shilton, 2007-01-01 Boomer women medical sociology and gerontology are passing yet another milestone RETIREMENT The first wave of women to enter the workforce in significant numbers benefited from the feminist revolution and fought for a place in the world of work Now these women are leading the rush for the exits As they retire they re wondering what was gained what was lost and what comes next They re stepping out into trackless territory This is the book that will show them that retirement is not the end of a productive life It can be an exciting gateway into a future that is challenging and rewarding always provided that we plan for it Written by two successful professional women a lawyer and a psychologist the book explores the practical personal and psychological issues surrounding retirement With clear eyed vigor and enthusiasm they look at what retirement will mean for Canadian women and offer concrete strategies for gaining control of the retirement process Ambient Assistive Health and Wellness Management in the Heart of the City Mokhtari Mounir, Ismail Khalil, Jérémy Bauchet, Daging Zhang, Chris D. Nugent, 2009-06-29 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference On Smart Homes and

and Health Telematics ICOST 2009 held in Tours France in July 2009 The 27 revised full papers and 20 short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on cognitive assistance and chronic diseases management ambient living systems service continuity and context awareness user modeling and human machine interaction ambient intelligence modeling and privacy issues human behavior and activities monitoring Baby Boomers of Color Melvin Delgado, 2014-12-09 Because researchers often treat baby boomers of color as belonging to one group quality data on the individual status of specific racial populations is lacking leading to insufficiently designed programs policies and services The absence of data is a testament to the invisibility of baby boomers of color in society and deeply affects the practice of social work and other helping professions that require culturally sensitive approaches Melvin Delgado rectifies this injustice by providing a comprehensive portrait of the status and unique assets of boomers of color Using specific data he grounds an understanding of boomers financial medical and emotional needs within a historical socioeconomic cultural and political context resulting in tailored recommendations for meeting the challenges of a growing population His research focuses on African American Hispanic Asian Pacific Islander and Native American older adults and addresses issues of financial security employment stability housing and health care which are often complicated by linguistic and cultural differences Rather than treat baby boomers of color as a financial burden on society and its resources Delgado recognizes their strengths and positive contributions to families and communities resulting in an affirming and empowering approach to service Investigations in the Economics of Aging David A. Wise, 2012-08 Papers presented at a conference held in Carefree Arizona in May 2011 Front-Wave Boomers Gillian Ranson, 2022-05-15 Boomers are heading into very old age following a pandemic a time of overt ageism and shamefully deficient eldercare The front wave now in their seventies are on the brink of life changes that will be challenging for everyone family friends and for the health care system too Recognizing the dire need to tackle these changes journalist and sociologist Gillian Ranson a front wave boomer herself investigates what they are doing to prepare for old age Whether an elder orphan living in subsidized housing a busy grandparent doing daycare pickups a small business owner phasing into retirement or a wife learning to cope with a husband's dementia they all share one thing they need intimate caring social ties to other people Just as the baby boomer generation transformed life for teenagers and youth in the 1960s they now have a chance to create a better way to grow old Their stories hold lessons for us all Choice ,2006 Boomer Bust? Robert B. Hudson, 2008-11-03 Seventy six million Baby Boomers are careening toward retirement in the United States Demographic shifts toward aging populations are taking place around the Western world as a variety of factors biological technological medical and sociocultural are extending life spans Meanwhile birth rates are declining The scaremongers argue that this generational shift is going to be disastrous It will result in skyrocketing tax rates lower retirement and health benefits higher inflation increased unemployment and poverty political instability and a host of other societal ills But will it In Boomer Bust Robert Hudson assembles leading authors from fields such as economics political science and finance to separate fact from fiction highlight the terms of debate and showcase innovative policies that will prevent disaster from occurring From topics like Social Security to older people rejoining the workforce to the elderly as a political lobby this two volume set covers the gamut of economic political financial and business issues related to aging The Boomer generation will leave one of the largest footprints the world has yet seen In retirement as in all else this generation is blazing a path affecting succeeding generations profoundly Boomer Bust charts a path through the thicket of personal and public policy choices facing not just Baby Boomers but all of society Health Reports ,2012 Aging, Society, and the Life Course Leslie A. Morgan, Suzanne R. Kunkel, 2011-03-15 Doody's Score 91 4 Stars This book's unfading preoccupation with social context social processes and social structures distinguishes itself and greatly contributes to the discourse in gerontology The Gerontologist This is a comprehensive textbook for both undergraduate and graduate level courses detailing the impact of societal forces on the aging process The book focuses on the diversity of the older population examining it from micro macro perspectives in order to understand aging and the life course as social phenomena This latest edition examines significant changes in the field of social gerontology such as the paradigms of aging and the life course the baby boomer cohorts as they approach retirement and later life the growing interest in global aging and civic engagement This text encourages students to examine aging from personal familial community societal and global perspectives including both the positive and negative realities of aging Key Features Provides websites of interest at the end of each chapter Presents provocative essays on love sex music medicine and crime to further expand on chapter contents Provides review questions and key terms as study guides at the end of each Aging, Society, and the Life Course, Fifth Edition Leslie A.
