Bachelors Of Science Seventeenth Century Identity Then And Now:

Bachelors of Science Naomi Zack, 1996 Naomi Zack begins this extraordinary book with the premise that if one is to understand Western conceptions of racialized and gendered identity one needs to go back to a period when such categories were not salient and examine how notions of identity in the seventeenth century were fundamentally different from subsequent constructions The seventeenth century is the last time for example that Europeans had any contact with non Europeans without racializing them From the eighteenth century onward race becomes a central category for Europeans in their transactions with a different world and gender undergoes radical transformation Zack takes the reader through a lucid tour of the lives times and writings of such key bachelors of Science as Bacon Descartes Newton and Gassendi The book situates these empiricist philosophers and their canonical reputations within the larger framework of the de facto masculinization of science and scientizing of masculinity in the seventeenth century arguing for a more nuanced understanding of these key thinkers of the period Other fascinating issues examined in this book include pre racial conceptions of slavery witchcraft trials and their connection to homosociality and the highly sexualized nature of women s identity in the seventeenth century Zack points out the link between elite bachelorhood the profession of philosophy and scientific pursuit as recreational activity This book is a must for understanding the historical and philosophical precedents of modern scientific identity race and gender Author note Naomi Zack is Assistant Professor of Philosophy at State University New York at Albany and the author of Race and Mixed Race Temple

The Rise and Fall of the Caucasian Race Bruce Baum, 2008-07-01 The term Caucasian is a curious invention of the modern age Originating in 1795 the word identifies both the peoples of the Caucasus Mountains region as well as those thought to be Caucasian Bruce Baum explores the history of the term and the category of the Caucasian race more broadly in the light of the changing politics of racial theory and notions of racial identity With a comprehensive sweep that encompasses the understanding of race even before the use of the term Caucasian Baum traces the major trends in scientific and intellectual understandings of race from the Middle Ages to the present day Baum s conclusions make an unprecedented attempt to separate modern science and politics from a long history of racial classification He offers significant insights into our understanding of race and how the Caucasian race has been authoritatively invented embraced displaced and recovered throughout our history

W. E. B. Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty-First Century Reiland Rabaka, 2008-04-29 W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century utilizes Du Bois s thought and texts to develop an informed critical theory of contemporary society This book broadens the base of critical theory making it more multicultural transethnic transgender and non Western European philosophy focused by placing it in dialogue with theory and phenomena that had been heretofore woefully neglected Taking the preeminent black intellectual of the twentieth century as his primary point of departure Reiland Rabaka identifies and analyzes several key contributions that Du Bois and the black racial tradition offer to those interested in redeveloping and racially revising contemporary critical social theory With chapters on critical race theory postcolonial theory feminism and Marxism this volume builds bridges from Africana Studies to disparate discursive communities accessibly demonstrating Du Bois's and the black radical tradition's contributions to and the potential impact on a wide range of new social scientific research and radical political struggles W.E.B. Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty-First Century, Science and Other Cultures Sandra Harding, Robert Figueroa, 2013-10-31 In this pioneering new book Sandra Harding and Robert Figueroa bring together an important collection of original essays by leading philosophers exploring an extensive range of diversity issues for the philosophy of science and technology The essays gathered in this volume extend current philosophical discussion of science and technology beyond the standard feminist and gender analyses that have flourished over the past two decades by bringing a thorough and truly diverse set of cultural racial and ethical concerns to bear on questioning in these areas Science and Other Cultures charts important new directions in ongoing discussions of science and technology and makes a significant contribution to both scholarly and teaching resources available in the field Masculinity and Science in Britain, 1831-1918 Heather Ellis, 2017-01-20 This book offers the first in depth study of the masculine self fashioning of scientific practitioners in nineteenth and early twentieth century Britain Focusing on the British Association for the Advancement of Science founded in 1831 it explores the complex and dynamic shifts in the public image of the British man of science and questions the status of the natural scientist as a modern masculine hero Until now science has been examined by cultural historians primarily for evidence about the ways in which scientific discourses have shaped prevailing notions about women and supported the growth of oppressive patriarchal structures This volume by contrast offers the first in depth study of the importance of ideals of masculinity in the construction of the male scientist and British scientific culture in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries From the eighteenth century identification of the natural philosopher with the reclusive scholar to early nineteenth century attempts to reinvent the scientist as a fashionable gentleman to his subsequent reimagining as the epitome of Victorian moral earnestness and meritocracy Heather Ellis analyzes the complex and changing public image of the British man of science On Race George Yancy, 2017 The recent barrage of racially motivated killings violent antagonisms and conflagrations has left many Americans reeling in the face of a so called post racial reality In thirty four interviews some previously unpublished and others originally conducted for The New York Times philosophy column The Stone but presented here unedited and with supporting materials philosopher George Yancy critically engages some of the most influential thinkers alive today in order to highlight their most crucial insights into understanding the multifaceted dimensions of race in the United States The Oxford Handbook of Practical Ethics Hugh LaFollette, 2005-09-15 This is a guide to contemporary thought on ethical issues in all areas of human activity personal medical sexual social political judicial and international from the natural world to the world of business Existence in Black Lewis Ricardo Gordon, 1997 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors Miola's edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world. In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays. The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play, the play's debt to contemporary theater, its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan, the metrical variety of the play, and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements. To compliment these new essays, the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficult-to-accessible journals, newspapers, and other sources. This collection brings together these essays for the first time.

Race/Sex Naomi Zack, 2016-01-08 Race Sex is the first forum for combined discussion of racial theory and gender theory. In sixteen articles, avant-garde scholars of African American philosophy and liberatory criticism explore and explode the categories of race, sex, and gender into new trajectories that include sexuality, black masculinity, and mixed-race identity.

Encyclopedia of the Scientific Revolution Wilbur Applebaum, 2003-12-16 With unprecedented current coverage of the profound changes in the nature and practice of science in sixteenth and seventeenth-century Europe, this comprehensive reference work addresses the individual's ideas and institutions that defined culture in the age when the modern perception of nature, of the universe, and of our place in it is said to have emerged. Covering the historiography of the period, discussions of the Scientific Revolution's impact on its contemporaneous disciplines, and in-depth analyses of the importance of historical context to major developments in the sciences, The Encyclopedia of the Scientific Revolution is an indispensable resource for students and researchers in the history and philosophy of science.

Philosophy of Science and Race Naomi Zack, 2014-04-23 First published in 2003, in this concisely argued short new book, well-known philosopher Naomi Zack explores the scientific and philosophical problems in applying a biological conception of race to human beings. Through the systematic analysis of up-to-date data and conclusions in population genetics, transmission genetics, and biological anthropology, Zack provides a comprehensive conceptual account of how race, in the ordinary sense, has no basis in science. Her book combats our everyday understanding of race as a scientifically supported taxonomy of human beings and, in conclusion, challenges us to be clear about what we mean by race and what it would require to remedy racism.

Politics and the Passions, 1500-1850 Victoria Kahn, Neil Saccamano, Daniela Coli, 2009-01-10 Focusing on the new theories of human motivation that emerged during the transition from feudalism to the modern period, this is the first book of new essays on the relationship between politics and the passions, from Machiavelli to Bentham. Contributors address the crisis of moral and philosophical discourse in the early modern period, the necessity of inventing a new way of describing the relation between reflection and action, and private and public selves, the disciplinary regulation of the body, and the ideological constitution of identity. The collection as a whole asks whether a discourse of the passions might provide a critical perspective on the politics of subjectivity. Whatever their specific approach to the question of ideology, all the essays reconsider the legacy of the passions in modern political theory and the importance of the history of politics and the passions for modern political debates Contributors in addition to the editors are Nancy Armstrong Judith Butler Riccardo Caporali Howard Caygill Patrick Coleman Frances Ferguson John Guillory Timothy Hampton John P McCormick and Leonard Tennenhouse Towards a History of Consciousness Vwadek P. Marciniak, 2006 Towards a History of Consciousness Space Time and Death offers a cogent and compelling discussion of the neglected topic of the history of consciousness An analysis of our postmodern ontology reveals deep but neglected roots What are those roots and how did they grow Is there a self without consciousness What is the relation of the self to the individual Does the recognition of death contribute to the growth of consciousness As a survey of western history this work pushes the boundaries of the understanding of consciousness in intriguing and sometimes provocative directions This integrative study is intended for the serious curious student and thinker The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy and Race Naomi Zack, 2017 The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy and Race provides up to date explanation and analyses by leading scholars in African American philosophy and philosophy of race Fifty one original essays cover major topics from intellectual history to contemporary social controversies in this emerging philosophical subfield that supports demographic inclusion and emphasizes cultural relevance Science for Segregation John P. Jackson, 2005-08 With the fiftieth anniversary of the landmark Supreme Court decision Brown v Board of Education now upon us many have begun to reflect upon how the case altered the course of civil rights and education in America Feminism and Families Hilde Lindemann Nelson, 2016-02-04 A ground breaking volume of all new essays covering the conjunction of two topics feminism and families that for all their centrality in our culture have not been adequately examined in light of one another While the family has suffered feminist neglect most women are in fact members of families living their lives within the social context of families even at a time when the concept of family has become bewilderingly unstable The intersection of families and feminism is thus one in need of philosophical reflection as a basis both for good public policy and for the ethical relationships of intimate life Moderating Masculinity in Early Modern Culture Todd W. Reeser, 2006 Moderating Masculinity in Early Modern Culture proposes a definition of gender based on a ternary model in which moderation and masculinity are inextricably linked Like the Aristotelian virtue of moderation which requires the presence of excess a Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association, 2021 List of members in v 1 Anna Maria van Schurman, 'The Star of Utrecht' Anne R. Larsen, 2016-04-14 Dutch Golden Age scholar Anna Maria van Schurman was widely regarded throughout the seventeenth century as the most learned woman of her age She was The Star of Utrecht The Dutch Minerva The Tenth Muse a miracle of her sex the incomparable Virgin and the oracle of Utrecht As the first woman ever to attend a university she was also the first to advocate boldly that women should be admitted into universities A brilliant linguist she mastered some fifteen languages She was the first Dutch woman to seek publication of her correspondence Her letters in several languages Hebrew Greek Latin and French to the intellectual men and women of her time reveal the breadth of her interests in theology philosophy medicine literature numismatics painting sculpture embroidery and instrumental music This study addresses Van Schurman s transformative contribution to the seventeenth century debate on women s education It analyses first her educational philosophy and second the transnational reception of her writings on women s education particularly in France Anne Larsen explores how in advocating advanced learning for women Van Schurman challenged the educational establishment of her day to allow women to study all the arts and the sciences Her letters offer fascinating insights into the challenges that scholarly women faced in the early modern period when they sought to define themselves as intellectuals writers and thoughtful contributors to the social good
