José Antonio Lucero

Back From Utopia:

Back from Utopia Hubert-Jan Henket, Hilde Heynen, 2002 The Modern Movement was a clarion call to embrace new building technologies to meet the needs of the masses and to advance a new aesthetic of universality and openness. Pioneers like Le Corbusier, Walter Gropius and Mies van der Rohe created a sober, hard-edged architecture with a utopian urgency. Decades later, we have witnessed both the positive and the negative results of their endeavors. After the condemnations of the Modern Movement by postmodernist architects and critics, it is time for a balanced reassessment. Back from Utopia gathers more than 40 contributions by leading voices from the world of architecture and architectural history to reassess the modernist legacy across the world, from Eastern and Western Europe to India and Japan. Rethinking Democracy for Post-Utopian Worlds Jorge León Casero, Julia Urabayen, 2024-06-06 This book is both a conceptualization and detailed analysis of the current crisis in which modern utopian categories of political institutions find themselves, as well as a reflection and clarification of the new dangers and opportunities facing post-utopian politics in the making. Met with those who believe that no more utopian political projects are possible, the post-utopian movement maintains a non-fantastic or illusory character of being able to apply new great discourses and radically democratic historical narratives while respecting both the autonomy and emancipation of individuals as plurality and the socio-cultural differences of communities. With this purpose in mind, the book is divided into five thematically differentiated sections: the new utopian categories beyond modern epistemes, the possibility of liberal utopian democracies without neoliberalism, the opportunities of socialist empowerments and insurgencies, the necessity of thinking in the space between two ages, and the urgency to create eco-political post-utopias.

Pass the Parcel Delilah DesANGES, 2010-09-29 The world is populated by everything from humans to Artificial Humans, but speciesism runs rampant. Everything that can go terribly wrong does, and while it always comes back to Brazil, it all seems to be going down in London, which is a seething pot of conflicts and crossed wires as new lies are told and old ones resurface as old murders are recalled and new ones committed as history is rewritten and as a very ugly but potentially extremely powerful statue is passed from wrong hand to wrong hand. Planet Utopia Mark Featherstone, 2017-02-17 It has become clear that utopian thought has returned to the political scene. Featherstone traces the history of utopia and also discusses a number of contemporary case studies. This examination of the nature of utopian politics in the twenty-first century will be essential reading for political scientists and sociologists. FTTx Monthly Newsletter, Utopia's Suicide John Paul, 2013-12-12 Having one foot in North America and one in Europe, the author inevitably compares these two continents, their surroundings, their people, and their modus vivendi. The interpretation of happenings on these continents as they relate to one life's adventure is the scope of this work, which is before everything else a collage of personal biography illuminated by flashes of the remarkable historical moments preceding the emigration. There are moreover interpretations of impressions colored with romantic, enchanting mysticism and alternatively subjective impressions of immigrants who came to America to find a better life and expected to some extent to find a promised land on a platter In either case impressions are based on predispositions of what immigrants from the old country envisioned American to be like However gratia is not a prerequisite it does not exist in the meaning of emi nor immi gratia Is this memoir an unprejudiced evaluation and objective notation of experiences as they were or a biased overflow of emotions ridicule and sarcasm or delight and adornment What is the difference between autobiography memoir and diary versus a fictitious rather historical novel in the first place A degree of deviation from factual reality A conglomerate relatively dry when transferred onto paper this cacophony without regard to categorization may enlighten the mind of one American or one potential immigrant by informing or reforming the picture of the mirage of a once magical New World or the romanticism of the Old One Contested Home Katherine Kunz, 2025-06-27 Home is both personal and political static and dynamic familiar and unfamiliar Through ethnographic research with asylum seekers at a church based refugee program in Basel Switzerland Katherine Kunz explores the role of government church volunteers and refugees in defining belonging By examining asylum systems the role of place and agency and religious motivations she reveals home as shaped by systems that often obscure its essential vulnerability and multiplicity This study is of interest to anyone who has considered belonging through the lenses of migration borders or religion and to those who have questioned their own relationship to home

Rethinking Utopia David M. Bell, 2017-01-20 Over five hundred years since it was named utopia remains a vital concept for understanding and challenging the world s we inhabit even in or rather because of the condition of post utopianism that supposedly permeates them In Rethinking Utopia David M Bell offers a diagnosis of the present through the lens of utopia and then by rethinking the concept through engagement with utopian studies a variety of radical theories and the need for decolonizing praxis shows how utopianism might work within against and beyond that which exists in order to provide us with hope for a better future He proposes paying a subversive fidelity to utopia in which its three constituent terms good eu place topos and no ou are rethought to assert the importance of immanent affective relations The volume engages with a variety of practices and forms to articulate such a utopianism including popular education critical pedagogy musical improvisation and utopian literature The problems as well as the possibilities of this utopianism are explored although the problems are often revealed to be possibilities provided they are subject to material challenge Rethinking Utopia offers a way of thinking about and perhaps realising utopia that helps overcome some of the binary oppositions structuring much thinking about the topic It allows utopia to be thought in terms of place and process affirmation and negation and the real and the not yet It engages with the spatial and affective turns in the social sciences without ever uncritically being subsumed by them and seeks to make connections to indigenous cosmologies It is a cautious careful critical work punctuated by both pessimism and hope and a refusal to accept the finality of this or any world

The Gates of Olympus Angelo Gualtieri, 2013-02 This story describes in considerable detail the enhancements that were built into the DNA of the New People that were produced A major enhancement is the ability to communicate by telepathy Many people believe that we all have some telepathic ability built into us There are countless examples of this in our everyday lives and in this story examples are given as well as a rationale for the emergence of this ability Our problem is that the ability in most of us is undeveloped largely because we don't in our formative years need it Some of us who grow up in an environment where there is a real need to negotiate for our success and survival do develop this ability This may be why many such people are so successful in later life since they seem to know better than others what is going on in another's mind and act on that knowledge The great business men political leaders and others whose success depends upon their ability to sense the minds of their audience are good examples In this story the need arose to separate what the characters were saying out loud from what was being transmitted by telepathy To make it clear to the reader the convention has been introduced in which telepathic transmissions are written in italics May 2012 Back to Utopia Terry Lyles,2007-01-01

Marks, Paul G.
