Back To One Practical Guide For Psychotherapists:

Back to One Sheldon Kopp,1977 The author writes that he offers this detailed description of how I do therapy as a guide to encourage you to become ever clearer about the fundamentals of your own style of work The Beginning

Psychotherapist's Companion Jan Willer,2013-10-03 Filling in the gaps from students lack of experience and confidence The Beginning Psychotherapist's Companion Second Edition is a supportive and empathetic guide addressing real world concerns and providing essential insights not taught in textbooks With a reassuring and clear writing style Willer offers practical suggestions and clinical examples to address the professional development and emotional concerns of the beginning psychotherapist She guides readers through structuring the first session making clinical observations and establishing a therapeutic alliance Through the use of culturally diverse clinical vignettes Willer discusses the foundations of ethical practice including informed consent confidentiality documentation and setting boundaries The reader is guided on how and when to refer clients for medication and other health care Crisis management principles are detailed including suicide and violence risk assessment child abuse elder abuse intimate partner violence and rape Willer also provides professional advice on contemporary concerns such as social networking online searches of clients the psychotherapist's internet presence and other important emerging challenges Comprehensive practical and thoroughly updated The Beginning Psychotherapist's Companion Second Edition is the ideal resource for students and early career psychotherapists Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist Steve Page,Val Wosket,2014-07-17 Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist considers how to meet the supervision needs of trainee and experienced counsellors psychotherapists and other helping professionals using an integrative approach that will appeal to practitioners from a broad range of backgrounds and theoretical persuasions The book charts the development of the supervisor as he or she moves through making the transition from therapist to supervising the work of others and includes consideration of the advanced competencies required to supervise experienced practitioners This third edition brings a number of contemporary perspectives to a well known and widely respected core text for the training and development of supervisors The Cyclical Model at the heart of the book has established its relevance in the UK as one of the best known frameworks for teaching and learning the steps and stages of supervision All chapters in this new edition have been extensively revised and updated and key elements include Two brand new chapters on deepening supervision practice and moving beyond supervising counsellors and psychotherapists Updates on recent developments in supervision including research outcomes the use of technology and supervising short term work Creativity play and the use of metaphor and imagery in supervision Developing the use of self through relational supervision Supervising the Counsellor and Psychotherapist is a key text for trainee and experienced supervisors of counsellors and psychotherapists those who train supervisors and supervisees wishing to better understand the supervisory process

Pastoral Counseling: A Ministry of the Church John H. Patton,2002-08-27 Pastoral counseling is unique and John Patton

widely known practitioner and teacher explains that uniqueness in the context of other forms of therapy available He then determines what pastoral counseling is and how it is done His theory focuses on the centrality of the pastoral relationship reclaiming pastoral counseling as a legitimate ministry of the church He shows that the pastoral relationship is common to both the generalist and the specialist in counseling and explains how his concept of relational humanness is the norm for Christian pastoral counseling The accountability of the pastoral counselor in regard to the story of Jesus in terms of his her role and function as minister and in relation to the community the church which ordains and the peers in ministry is discussed How to structure a pastoral counseling interview how to determine the unit of care and how healing occurs in pastoral counseling are all important facets of this excellent book Case studies an index and notes are included A Practical Guide to Rabbinic Counseling Yisrael N. Levitz, Abraham J. Twerski, 2005 An integral and important work for every rabbi and community leader This book puts the essential elements of rabbinic counseling into the hands of those who need it most Rabbis and leaders often find themselves doing formal and informal counseling but with little or no experience opportunities can be lost and damage can be done Here are practical tools to facilitate better communication and assistance user friendly and eminently practical Dr Levitz is a clinical psychologist former pulpit rabbi and Professor Emeritus of Yeshiva Universitys Wurzweiler School of Social Work Rabbi Dr Twerski is a noted psychiatrist and former pulpit rabbi who has published close to fifty self help books and specializes in addictions and rehabilitation This book will be of interest and of essence to every rabbi rebbe and spiritual or community leader EBOOK: Making Successful Decisions in

Counselling and Psychotherapy: A Practical Guide David Lane, Sarah Corrie, 2012-05-16 It is commonly assumed that the ability to make decisions in therapy is acquired as a result of experience and for this reason the subject is more or less ignored in programmes of training Lane and Corrie effectively challenge this position in a comprehensive account of the process by which information is acquired interpreted and used The book benefits from the comprehensive experience of the two authors both as clinicians and researchers and is illustrated by some excellent case material and interesting self assessment exercises There is something of value here for therapists of every modality at all stages of development Ray Woolfe Psychologist and Psychotherapist in independent practice Bristol UK In this well written meticulously researched and timely book Lane and Corrie propose that the art of decision making like any art requires discipline training and continual practice This book should be required reading on clinical and counselling psychology programmes and related fields For those about to enter practice this book provides you with much needed support for engaging with the realities of a complex and shifting political and professional landscape For the more experienced practitioner this book challenges you to become more explicit about and to sharpen and widen the assumptions models and procedures that guide your everyday decision making This is continuing professional development of the most relevant and needed kind I will be recommending this text to my students colleagues peers and yes managers very strongly indeed Dr Michael Worrell Consultant Clinical Psychologist

Programme Director CNWL Foundation Trust In this book Lane and Corrie have made an important contribution to the training of counsellors and therapists and the practice of working in the helping professions and they have managed to do this in a way that is engaging accessible and practical Whether you are just starting out in the helping professions or are a seasoned therapist this book will help you improve your practice The case studies illustrations and reflection questions bring to life the dynamics of decision making and provide the reader with useful pathways to more sophisticated and effective decision making in their work Dr Michael Cavanagh Coaching Psychology Unit Sydney University Australia and Visiting Professor Institute of Work Based Learning Middlesex University UK Lane and Corrie draw upon their rich experience and understanding not just as clinicians and researchers but also as adult educators to provide a book which deepens our understanding of decision making The insights and approach put forward go beyond the professional context which illustrates them to contribute to a broader understanding of what it is or what it might be to be a professional and to take professional decisions in an increasingly complex and rapidly changing world When considering how good decision makers develop the key insight is to focus our attention upon the learning process rather than knowledge content This change of viewpoint is profound Professor Jonathan Garnett Director Institute for Work Based Learning Middlesex University UK The book is organised well and an appealing aspect of this book is Lane and Corrie s ability to combine their clinical expertise with their research and training experience to engage the reader on their own self reflective journey through the use of practical exercises I would whole heartedly recommend this book to all clinicians whether to use as guidance when initially thinking about their decision making skills or as part of continuing professional development Rita Woo Clinical Psychologist CNWL Foundation NHS Trust Royal Holloway University of London UK Working with a client in order to bring about therapeutic change involves a constant stream of decisions But how exactly do you decide What influences your choices and how can you be sure that you are making the right ones This book examines some of the factors that are involved in making good decisions the range of thinking skills we need in order to make effective choices and some of the factors that can prevent us from making sound decisions in our work with clients Drawing on both the existing literature and a range of practical exercises Making Successful Decisions in Counselling and Psychotherapy provides invaluable guidance on how to tackle the task of decision making in real world counselling and psychotherapeutic settings in order to develop a systematic effective and creative approach The book includes A model to generate approaches to decision making Case studies across a wide range of situations in counselling and psychotherapy Reflection points throughout the text to assist you in critiquing refining and restructuring the tools you use to assist your clients to make successful decisions
