Backing Into River History:

Narrating History, Home, and Diaspora Maia L. Butler, Joanna Davis-McElligatt, Megan Feifer, 2022-06-27 Winner of a 2023 Edited Collection Award from the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Contributions by Cécile Accilien Maria Rice Bellamy Gwen Bergner Olga Blomgren Maia L. Butler Isabel Caldeira Nadège T. Clitandre Thadious M. Davis Joanna Davis McElligatt Laura Dawkins Megan Feifer Delphine Gras Akia Jackson Tammie Jenkins Shewonda Leger Jennifer M. Lozano Marion Christina Rohrleitner Thomas Rothe Erika V. Serrato Lucia Stecher and Joyce White Narrating History Home and Diaspora Critical Essays on Edwidge Danticat contains fifteen essays addressing how Edwidge Danticat's writing anthologizing and storytelling trace, re-construct and develop alternate histories, narratives of nation building and conceptions of home and belonging. The prolific Danticat is renowned for novels, collections of short fiction, nonfiction and editorial writing. As her experimentation in form expands, so does her force as a public intellectual. Danticat's literary representations, political commentary and personal activism have proven vital to classroom and community work, imagining radical futures. Among increasing anti-immigrant sentiment and containment and rampant ecological volatility, Danticat's contributions to public discourse, art and culture deserve sustained critical attention. These essays offer essential perspectives to scholars, public intellectuals and students interested in African diasporic, Haitian, Caribbean and transnational American literary studies. This collection frames Danticat's work as an indictment of statelessness, racialized and gendered state violence and the persistence of political and economic margins. The first section of this volume, The Other Side of the Water, engages with Danticat's construction and negotiation of nation both in Haiti and the United States, the broader diaspora and her own, her family's and her fictional characters' places within them. The second section, Welcoming Ghosts, delves into the ever-present specter of history and memory, prominent themes found throughout Danticat's work. From origin stories to broader Haitian histories, this section addresses the underlying traumas involved when remembering the past and its relationship to the present. The third section, I Speak Out, explores the imperative to speak, paying particular attention to the narrative form with which such telling occurs. The fourth and final section, Create Dangerously, contends with Haitians' activism, community building and the political and ecological climate of Haiti and its diaspora.

A Historical Survey of the Yellow River and the River Civilizations Jianxiong Ge, Yunsheng Hu, 2021-01-04 This book explores the relationship between rivers and ethics in China, with a particular focus on the health of the Yellow River and China's sustainable development. Though the book falls into the category of East Asian History, it is an interdisciplinary academic work that addresses not only history but also culture, human geography and physical geography. It traces the changes in the Yellow River over time and examines the origin and developmental course of Chinese civilization, which has always been closely intertwined with the Yellow River. It also draws comparisons between the Yellow River and the Yangtze, Nile, Tigris, Euphrates and Indus rivers to provide insights into how they have contributed to civilizations. At the same time, it discusses the lessons learned from people's taming the Yellow River. Most significantly, the book explores the relationship between humans and the environment from an ethical standpoint, making it an urgent reminder of the crucial role that human activities play in environmental issues concerning the Yellow River, so as to achieve a sustainable development for China's mother river. The intended audience includes academic readers researching East Asian and Chinese history, culture, geography, human geography, historical geography, the environment, river civilizations, etc., as well as history and geography lovers and members of the general public who are interested in the Yellow River and the civilization that has evolved around it. Historical Biogeography of Neotropical Freshwater Fishes James S. Albert, Roberto Reis, 2011-03-08. The fish faunas of continental South and Central America constitute one of the greatest concentrations of aquatic diversity on Earth, consisting of about 10 percent of all living vertebrate species. Historical Biogeography of Neotropical Freshwater Fishes explores the evolutionary origins of this unique ecosystem. The chapters address central themes in the study of tropical biodiversity: why is the Amazon basin home to so many distinct evolutionary lineages? What roles do ecological specialization, speciation, and extinction play in the formation of regional assemblages? How do dispersal barriers contribute to isolation and diversification? Focusing on whole faunas rather than individual taxonomic groups, this volume shows that the area's high regional diversity is not the result of recent diversification in lowland tropical rainforests. Rather, it is the product of species accumulating over tens of millions of years and across a continental arena.

Documents Relative to the Colonial History of the State of New-York: new ser., v. 2 . Documents relating to the history and settlements of the towns along the Hudson and Mohawk rivers (with the exception of Albany), from 1630 to 1684, 1881 John Romeyn Brodhead, 1881 Parched -

The Cape Town Drought Story Gisela Kaiser, 2021-10-25. The book presents the history of water supply to Cape Town, leading up to the worst ever drought recorded through political turmoil impacting on drought interventions and resulting in the adoption of an integrated water strategy. Regions reliant on water supply from rainfed dams have always been vulnerable to the impact of drought. This is exacerbated by the uncertainty of future rainfall, which is never guaranteed, and reliance is placed on modelling using historic data. While weather has always been variable, climate has been generally reliable. With anthropogenic activity causing changes in climate, the validity of modelling based on history is currently not fully trusted. Unless the storage capacity is sufficient to carry through numerous seasons of poor rainfall, even with water restrictions to match demand and supply in times of depleted rainfall, the risk of reservoirs running dry remains a threat. Environmental

History of the Rhine-Meuse Delta P.H. Nienhuis, 2008-05-06. This unique text presents the environmental history of the lowland delta of the rivers Rhine and Meuse. It is an ecological story of evolving human environmental relations and how they cope with climate change and sea level rise. The text offers a combination of in-depth ecology and environmental history. The synthesis presents a blueprint for future management and restoration from progressive reclamation of land in the past to adaptation of human needs to the forces of nature. Water-supply Paper, 1914 The Historical Magazine and Notes
