Andrew Lang,2002-07-01 A collection of short stories anecdotes fables and folktales involving animals from various authors and traditions Animal Stories Max Evans,2013-08-26

Legendary western author Max Evans has spent his entire life working with cows and horses These rangeland animals and other creatures both domestic and wild play pivotal roles in his stories This magnificent collection beautifully illustrated by cowboy artist Keith Walters showcases twenty six animal tales penned by Evans during his long and celebrated career Both fiction and nonfiction the stories in this collection get us inside the heads and hearts of numerous four legged critters dogs horses burros goats cattle deer coyotes and more The Old One for example shows us the world through the eyes of a prairie dog as she watches her latest litter of pups rolling and tumbling around the mound and thinks of all the things she will need to teach them And in The One Eyed Sky an aging cow with a new calf and an old coyote with a litter to feed circle each other warily trying to protect their young until a rancher intervenes Not one to shy away from difficult subjects Evans also delves into the animal nature of human beings as in The Heart of the Matter where two Vietnam vets and friends kill a deer and then turn their rifles on each other These captivating tales display Evans s trademark mix of raucous humor and vivid poetic descriptions of the high plains of West Texas and his beloved Hi Lo Country in northeastern New Mexico He reminds his readers of simpler times and more honorable people even as he evokes the merciless environment in which his characters both animal and human struggle to survive Literature of Nature

Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik,2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada s flagship genre It continues to attract the country s most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre s beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre s development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Animal-Assisted Therapy in Counseling

Chandler, 2024-05-08 The fourth edition of Animal Assisted Therapy in Counseling is the most comprehensive book available dedicated to training mental health practitioners in the performance of animal assisted therapy in counseling This edition includes material on real world animal assisted interventions featuring counselor client dialogues and sample therapeutic opportunities Each chapter includes the most recent research and practice and a wide variety of case examples present animal assisted interventions in different settings with different types of animals This unique resource is an indispensable guide for any counselor or psychotherapist looking to develop and implement animal assisted therapy techniques in practice

Animal Encounters Manuela S. Rossini, Tom Tyler, 2009-02-28 The fast growing field of Animal Studies is a varied and much contested domain Engagement with animals has encouraged both collaboration and conflict between researchers within the arts humanities and social sciences Animal Encounters comprises a series of meetings not only between diverse beasts but also between distinct disciplinary methods theoretical approaches and ethical positions The essays here collected come together from literary and cultural studies sociology and anthropology ecocriticism and art history philosophy and feminism science and technology studies history and posthumanism to study that most familiar and most foreign of creatures the animal These encounters between leading practitioners in the field highlight the promise and potential of interspecies exchange and mutual provocation

Animals in Literary Education John Drew, 2025-09-24 This book examines the complicated place of animals in literary analysis and education and shows how an ethically engaged approach to animals representation could be pursued to challenge anthropocentrism and cultivate multispecies empathy Other species are represented in the literary education canon including farmed animals Yet the animals are typically anthropomorphized to guide students toward humanist readings and away from consideration of animals experiences or subjectivities This reproduces the idea that animals are mere objects meant to be exploited for human purposes even metaphorical and educational ones John Drew develops the term anthropo allegory to capture and critique the process through which students are taught to read animal literary representations exclusively as symbolic analogues for humans and human themes The concept serves as an analytical lens for critically interrogating significant texts taught across educational levels and exposing the deeply engrained educational anthropocentrism that silences animal issues even when animals are represented Crucially Drew identifies texts and pedagogical strategies that can help cultivate a literary educational animal ethic that simultaneously encourages analytical rigour and multispecies concern

Literature, Science, and Animal Advocacy in Canada Candice Allmark-Kent, 2023-11-26 Literature Science and Animal Advocacy in Canada Practical Zoocriticism is the first book length study of animals in Canadian literature Using a historical approach it offers a much needed alternative to existing models of animals as symbols of Canadian victimhood Spanning more than a century the scope of this book includes classic writers Ernest Thompson Seton and Charles G D Roberts as well as popular contemporary authors such as Barbara Gowdy Yann Martel Margaret Atwood and many others By recontextualizing these works with closer attention to contemporary scientific and animal advocacy debates this book offers a fresh new perspective on a wide range of texts

Animal Satire Robert McKay, Susan McHugh, 2023-08-22 Animal Satire presents a cultural history of animal satire a critically neglected but persistent presence in the history of cultural production in which animals expose human folly while the strategies of satire expose the folly of human animal relations Highlighting the teeming animal presences across the history of satirical expression from Aristophanes to Twitter with chapters on key works of literature drama film and a plethora of satirical media Animal Satire reveals the rich rhetorical significance of animality in powering the politics of satire from ancient and medieval through modern and contemporary times More pressingly the book makes the case for the significance of satire for understanding the real world implications of rhetoric about animals in ongoing struggles for justice By gathering both critical and creative examples from representative media forms historical periods and continents this volume aims to enrich scholarship on the history of satire as well as empower creative practitioners with ideas about its practical applications today

Talking Animals in British Children's Fiction, 1786-1914 Tess Cosslett, 2006 Nineteenth century scholars children s literature specialists and historians of science and childhood will engage with Tess Cosslett s examination of nineteenth century debates about the human and animal in children s stories such as Black Beauty Beaut

Animal Narratology Joela Jacobs, 2020-12-15 Animal Narratology interrogates what it means to narrate to speak speak for on behalf of and to voice or represent life beyond the human which is in itself as different as insects bears and dogs are from each other and yet more as individual as a single mouse horse or puma The varied contributions to this interdisciplinary Special Issue highlight assumptions about the human perception of attitude toward and responsibility for the animals that are read and written about thus demonstrating that just as the animal does not exist neither does the human In their zoopoetic focus the analyses are aware that animal narratology ultimately always contains an approximation of an animal perspective in human terms and terminology yet they make clear that what matters is how the animal is approximated and that there is an effort to approach and encounter the non human in the first place Many of the analyses come to the conclusion that literary animals give readers the opportunity to expand their own points of view both on themselves and others by adopting another s perspective to the degree that such an endeavor is possible Ultimately the contributions call for a recognition of the many spaces moments and modes in which human lives are entangled with those of animals one of which is located within the creative bounds of storytelling

The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-11 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro

The Stage Lives of Animals Una

Chaudhuri, 2016-10-04 The Stage Lives of Animals examines what it might mean to make theatre beyond the human. In this stunning collection of essays, Una Chaudhuri engages with the alternative modes of thinking, feeling, and making art offered by animals and animality, bringing insights from theatre practice and theory to animal studies as well as exploring what animal studies can bring to the study of theatre and performance. As our planet lives through what scientists call the sixth extinction and we become ever more aware of our relationships to other species, Chaudhuri takes a highly original look at the animal imagination of well-known plays, performances, and creative projects, including works by Caryl Churchill, Rachel Rosenthal, Marina Zurkow, Edward Albee, Tennessee Williams, and Eugene Ionesco. Covering over a decade of explorations, a wide range of writers, and many urgent topics, this volume demonstrates that an interspecies imagination deeply structures modern western drama. The animal story-book reader, from the Animal story-book, and the Red book of animal stories, ed. by A.
