contemporary secular visitors Using the example of Durham Cathedral this book sets out to explore wherein the appeal of historic churches lies today and considers questions of how and why their preservation into a post Christian era should be secured By including feedback from visitors to the cathedral and the author's own very personal account of the cathedral in the form of an ekphrasis this work seeks to privilege an interpretation of architecture that is based on the individual experience rather than on more conventional narratives of architecture history and cultural heritage policy Recognising the implication of our choice of narrative on the perceived value of historic churches is crucial when deliberating their future role This book puts forth a compelling case for historical sacred architecture suggesting that its loss through imperceptive conservation practices as much as through neglect or demolition would diminish us all secularists atheists and agnostics included

The Soul of the North Neil Kent, 2001 This text makes use of the unique and extant cultural forms of architecture and the visual arts as well as statistics and other forms of documentary evidence

Fashioned in the North Anna Dahlgren, 2020-07-15 This edited volume showcases new examples previously untold stories of images photographers publications and institutions partly unknown outside the Nordic countries The authors examine the reasons for and implications of this underexposure taking on a photographic metaphor While simultaneously challenging previously taken for granted ideas of the center and periphery in this field the book also widens the study of fashion photography Notably the hybridity of approaches may enrich future studies of fashion photography In Fashioned in the North fashion photography is viewed as a transnational phenomenon and a material object as well as a medium that is part of a media system and a result of archival systems and history writings Furthermore the book displays how studies of fashion photography can be so much more than stories of a few names and iconic images or studies of individual and periodic style Indeed the study of fashion photography may be a prism through which we can uncover cultural social economic and ideological aspects of society at present and in the past

Transnational Perspectives on Feminism and Art, 1960-1985 Jen Kennedy, Trista Mallory, Angelique Szymanek, 2021-04-28 Transnational Perspectives on Feminism and Art 1960-1985 is a collection of essential essays that bring transnational feminist praxis into conversation with histories of feminist art in the 1960s 1970s and early 1980s The artistic practices and processes examined within these pages all centre on gender and sexual politics as they variously intersect with race class sovereignty Indigeneity citizenship and migration at particular historical moments and within specific geopolitical contexts The book's central premise is that reconsidering this period from transnational feminist perspectives will enable new thinking about the critical commonalities and differences across heterogeneous and geographically dispersed practices that have contributed to the complex and multifaceted relationship between feminism and art today The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural studies visual culture material culture and gender studies

Hunting Troubles Laura Beck,Maurice Saß,2025-02-28 This volume examines the cultural history of European and North American hunting from the Middle Ages to the present day from the perspective of gender as well as animal studies It demonstrates that the hunting and killing of animals was and still is a highly codified activity that creates reinforces and sometimes undermines a variety of differences This construction and deconstruction of difference applies not only to the relationship between humanity and animality but also to the relationships between human agents with respect to their gender By applying a comprehensive and interdisciplinary approach this collection dissects the many ways in which hunting often classified as a typically male activity participates on the one hand in the naturalization of gender differences and related binary asymmetries but on the other can sometimes open up a space in which gender boundaries become unsettled and blurred More than any other activity the practice of hunting which is controversial at least in terms of animal ethics seems to lend itself to the negotiation of both what is perceived as human and what as animal and what is seen as masculine and what as feminine

Golden Cables of Sympathy Margaret H. McFadden,2021-10-21 An intricate network of contacts developed among women in Europe and North America over the course of the nineteenth century These women created virtual communities through communication support and a shared ideology Forged across boundaries of nationality language ethnic origin and even class these connections laid the foundation for the 1888 International Council of Women and formed the beginnings of an international women s movement This matrix extended throughout England and the Continent and included Scandinavia and Finland In a remarkable display of investigative research Margaret McFadden describes the burgeoning avenues of communication in the nineteenth century that led to an explosion in the number of international contacts among women This network blossomed because of increased travel opportunities advances in women s literacy and education increased activity in the temperance abolitionist and peace reform movements and the emergence of female evangelicals political revolutionaries and expatriates Particular attention is paid to five women whose decades of work helped give birth to the women s movement by century s end These mothers of the matrix include Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton of the United States Anna Doyle Wheeler of Ireland Fredrika Bremer of Sweden and Frances Power Cobbe of England Despite their philosophic differences these leaders recognized the value of friendship and advocacy among women and shared an affinity for bringing together people from different cultural settings McFadden demonstrates without question that the traditions of transatlantic female communication are far older than most historians realize and that the women's movement was inherently international No other scholar has painted so complete a picture of the golden cables that linked the women who saw the Atlantic and the borders within Europe as bridges rather than barriers to improving their status

Infrastructure Aesthetics Solveig Daugaard, Cecilie Ullerup Schmidt, Frederik Tygstrup, 2024-11-04 An upsurge in artworks negotiating the conditions of their own production distribution and reception has called attention to the infrastructural relations that shape the art world but have long been understudied In response this book introduces the concept of infrastructure aesthetics into the study of culture The concept is drawn from infrastructure studies media theory and aesthetic theory This volume develops it further addressing the analytical challenge of working with works that blur the boundaries between art and infrastructure both historically and in the present the aesthetic problem of assessing artistic forms that operate on an infrastructural level and the politics of artistic agency on a social level beyond the work's content or message As the relation between artworks and their institutional and social settings becomes infrastructural in nature we need to move beyond the reductive division of the study of artworks into production articulation and reception This book provides its readers with an innovative conceptual toolbox designed for precisely this task as well as a forceful set of exemplary case studies applying the concepts in theory and practice

The Baltic Michael North, 2015-04-07 In this overview of the Baltic region from the Vikings to the European Union Michael North presents the sea and the lands that surround it as a Nordic Mediterranean a maritime zone of shared influence with its own distinct patterns of trade cultural exchange and conflict Covering over a thousand years in a part of the world where seas have been much more connective than land The Baltic A History transforms the way we think about a body of water too often ignored in studies of the world's major waterways The Baltic lands have been populated since prehistory by diverse linguistic groups Balts Slavs Germans and Finns North traces how the various tribes peoples and states of the region have lived in peace and at war as both global powers and pawns of foreign regimes and as exceptionally creative interpreters of cultural movements from Christianity to Romanticism and Modernism He examines the golden age of the Vikings the Hanseatic League Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden and Peter the Great and looks at the hard choices people had to make in the twentieth century as fascists communists and liberal democrats played out their ambitions on the region's doorstep With its vigorous trade in furs fish timber amber and grain and its strategic position as a thruway for oil and natural gas the Baltic has been and remains one of the great economic and cultural crossroads of the world

Damerne på Skagen Lise Svanholm,2006 Rural Artists' Colonies in Europe, 1870-1910 Nina Lübbren,2001 This ground breaking book presents a critical study of pictorial narrative in nineteenth century European painting Covering works from France Germany Britain Italy and elsewhere it traces the ways in which immensely popular artists like Jean L on G r me Karl von Piloty and William Quiller Orchardson used unique visual strategies to tell thrilling and engaging stories Regardless of genre content or national context these paintings share a fundamental modern narrative mode Unlike traditional art they do not rely on textual sources nor do they tell stories through the human body alone Instead they experiment with objects spaces cause and effect relations and open ended ambiguity prompting viewers and reviewers to read for clues in order to weave their own elaborate tales
