Berger, Noel Harold Kaylor, 2004 The papers in this book examine the thematic structural and aesthetic relationship between medieval English literature and a wide variety of more recent modern texts Some of the contributors re-examine the concepts of authority and representation in Chretien and Malory and of medieval romance and the modern novel while Caxton's Morte Darthur is interpreted from the point of view of Norbert Elias other focuses of interest are the love-death motif in nineteenth-century novels the comic in contemporary British fiction the literary representations of Arthurian characters Galahad Tristan Gawain and recent Beowulf translations In addition there are socio-historic and generic readings of Chaucer's Sir Thopas and of Troilus and Criseyde of Ipomadon and Malory's Morte Darthur Aspects of medieval heritage are uncovered in Horace Walpole's First Pickler Muskau Georg Kaiser A. Twentieth-Century Chaucer Criticism Kathy Cawsey, 2016-02-17 Shifting ideas about Geoffrey Chaucer's audience have produced radically different readings of Chaucer's work over the course of the past century Kathy Cawsey in her book on the changing relationship among Chaucer critics and theories of audience draws on Michel Foucault's concept of the author function to propose the idea of an audience function which shows the ways critics' concepts of audience affect and condition their criticism Focusing on six trend-setting Chaucerian scholars Cawsey identifies the assumptions about Chaucer's audience underpinning each critic's work arguing these ideas best explain the diversity of interpretation in Chaucer criticism Further Cawsey suggests few studies of Chaucer's own understanding of audience have been done in part because Chaucer criticism has been conditioned by scholars' latent suppositions about Chaucer's own audience In making sense of the confusing and conflicting mass of modern Chaucer criticism Cawsey also provides insights into the development of twentieth century literary criticism and theory      Choice ,2003      Chaucer in Perspective Geoffrey Lester,1999-03-01 Norman Blake Professor of English Language and Linguistics at Sheffield University is known throughout the world to scholars of mediaeval English Literature He has published thirty books and 140 articles on subjects as diverse as Old Norse Old English Middle English early printed books Shakespeare Historical Linguistics Stylistics Grammar and the cultural context of mediaeval England He is best known as an authority on Chaucer Caxton and Shakespeare's language and is director of The Canterbury Tales Project based in the University of Sheffield which is a scheme to put all the manuscript and early printed versions of the poem onto computer and to issue the transcribed texts on CD ROM Norman has lectured and taught in many countries and is a frequent contributor to international conferences He has been a Teaching Quality Assessor in universities in Britain and elsewhere He is also well known among many other things for his work as member of the Council of the Early English Text Society Editor for the Index of Middle English Prose General Editor of Macmillan's Language of Literature series and as Secretary of the European Society of the Study of English Friends and colleagues of this approachable and widely respected scholar have come together to mark his 65th birthday in spring 1999 by contributing to this volume The essays on Chaucer Caxton and related aspects of Middle English are not only a tribute to Norman's work but also a valuable contribution to Middle English studies in their own right      2002 Massimo Mastrogregori,2011-07-11 Annually published since 1930 the International bibliography of Historical Sciences IBOHS is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times The works are arranged systematically according to period region or historical discipline and within this classification alphabetically The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors
