right for their child Contested Memories and the Demands of the Past Catharina Raudvere, 2016-12-19 This book brings together new perspectives on collective memory in the modern Muslim world. It discusses how memory cultures are established and used at national levels in official history writing through the erection of monuments, the fashioning of educational curricula and through media strategies as well as in the interface with both artistic expressions and popular culture in the Muslim world at large. The representations of collective memory have been one of the foremost tools in national identity politics, grass root mobilization, theological debates over Islam and general discussions on what constitutes the modern in the Middle East as well as in Muslim diaspora environments. Few if any contemporary conflicts in the region can be understood in depth without a certain focus on various uses of history, memory cultures and religious meta narratives at all societal levels and in art and literature. This book will be of use to students and scholars in the fields of Identity Politics, Islamic Studies, Media and Cultural Anthropology. Filtered Memory Bagni, Roel Pebelico is a senior agent of the Secret Intelligence Service while Sharlene Calista Paez is a Psychiatrist who met at a facility in Tarrin, a country at the west of the Pacific Ocean after an international mission was conducted to topple an organized syndicate threatening Asia. It addresses names and cultures from 16 countries and five continents, thus offering readers an opportunity to comprehend and compare names and naming practices across cultures. The chapters presented in this book explore the cultural significance of personal names, naming ceremonies, conventions and practices. They illustrate how these names and practices perform certain culture-specific functions such as religion, identity and social activity. Some chapters address the socio-political significance of personal names and their expression of self and otherness. The book also links the linguistic structure of personal names to culture by looking at their morphology, syntax and semantics. It is divided into four sections. Section 1 demonstrates how personal names perform human culture. Section 2 focuses on how personal names index socio-political transitioning. Section 3 demonstrates religious values in personal names and naming, and Section 4 links linguistic structure and analysis of personal names to culture and heritage. Oxford Textbook of Obstetrics and Gynaecology Sabaratnam Arulkumaran, William Ledger, Lynette Denny, Stergios Doumouchtsis, 2020-01-16 The Oxford Textbook of Obstetrics and Gynaecology is an objective and readable text that covers the full speciality of obstetrics and
